G.M. May Face Federal Antitrust Suit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Justice Department has prepared a draft antitrust suit against General Motors, it was learned today. If carried through, it would be aimed at breaking up the giant corporation.

Department spokesmen, while declining to mention G.M. by name, acknowledged that "the automobile industry has been under investigation and study for many years by the Antitrust Division."

One spokesman emphasized that this did not mean "we're going to be running into court soon."

Later, a spokesman said the draft suit "was drawn up 18 months ago, was never processed, and never evaluated."

The department comments were in response to a Wall Street Journal report that a suit had been prepared and was awaiting word from President Johnson as to whether it should be filed.

(The White House said Johnson has "never heard of this."

"The President's alleged involvement is pure imagination," Press Secretary George Christian told reporters. "No matter of this kind has ever been brought to the President's attention. I don't think this would require the President's approval.")

A Justice Department spokesman said "it is not appropriate to discuss or disclose the contents of such an internal document" which he said was drawn up "merely for study."

The report said the suit contemplated application of antitrust laws for the first time to corporate mergers that took place years ago.

The draft was reported to allege that G.M.'s present size and economic strength, the result of its growth through mergers, had given it an illegal monopoly share of the U. S. auto industry.

The Wall Street Journal report said the issue posed a dilemma for President Johnson, since to file the antitrust action would antagonize his big business backers, and withholding it would alienate "not only his own trustbusters but vocal intellectuals and labor unionists who have voted for him...."

Department sources acknowledged that reports of the draft were, at the least, "highly embarrassing" to the Administration.

MORTAR SHOTS AT INAUGURAL FETE

Passer-by Is Only Victim; Police Arrest Four, Find Dead Terrorist And Weapon

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong terrorists launched a mortar attack on Independence Palace tonight during a diplomatic reception by President Nguyen Van Thieu to celebrate South Vietnam's return to democratic government. Thieu had been inaugurated a few hours before.

None of the guests, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and representatives from 23 foreign nations, was injured in the series of at least four mortar explosions.

A nearby pedestrian was killed and a South Vietnamese chauffeur was wounded. The premature explosion of a mortar killed one suspected terrorist and wounded two others. Four men were arrested.

OUTSIDE PALACE

The mortars struck 150 to 200 yards from the main building while the guests were sipping champagne. A sudden thunderstorm had driven them inside from the sprawling grounds and the wide verandahs of the $6.8 million palace.

Thieu, first president of South Vietnam's second republic, took the oath of office with a pledge to endure more "blood and sweat" in the war with the Communists .He offered to talk peace with Hanoi but it was a tough offer and one without any concessions.

One of Thieu's first acts was to name Nguyen Van Loc, a relatively unknown lawyer and poet, as premier. Loc had been his campaign manager and was once chosen by Ky as his running mate before he was relegated to the largely ceremonial post of vice president when he lost out in a power struggle

BUDDHIST PROTEST

Both Thieu and Ky shed their military uniforms to become civilian officials. But it was clear they faced continued opposition from militant Buddhists. One teen-age Buddhist monk burned himself to death today with gasoline in Quang Ngai to protest the Thieu government.

The Viet Cong mortar attack on the presidential palace tonight was an obvious attempt to steal some of the glory from Saigon's return to constitutional rule.

Humphrey had just arrived at the palace with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of all U.S. forces in Vietnam, and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. Other guests milling around included diplomats from Allied nations with troops in Vietnam and nations friendly to the Saigon government.

The palace building was not hit, but shrapnel from one round riddled a car which had brought an Australian major general to the party. The chauffeur was taken to a hospital with minor "body wounds." The Australian was already inside.

Police swarmed quickly through the center of the city and found the mortar tube and four expended shells on the second story of a Chinese laundry within a half block of the old U.S. embassy which was once heavily bombed.

The body of the laundry owner was found nearby, the victim of a malfunctioning mortar round. Two wounded men, both bleeding, were seen fleeing on a motorcycle shortly before police announced they had arrested four youthful suspects.

Economy-Model Vets' Auditorium Voted 4-1

Second Stage Left To Public Support

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4-1 today to proceed with construction of a veterans memorial auditorium by redesigning the building and parking area to save $160,000 and using $200,000 of the money budgeted for Juvenile Hall expansion.

At the same time, supervisors emphasized that proceeds from the future sale of the old courthouse property in San Rafael would not be used for financing the auditorium.

The board also reaffirmed its plans to earmark $195,000 for the construction job during fiscal 1968-69. The plans revision plus additional funds are expected to offset the $675,000 the supervisors found they were lacking when the original auditorium bids were opened.

On a motion by Supervisor Peter H. Behr, the supervisors declared that the second stage of the auditorium, estimated to cost an additional $433,000, would have to be raised privately through public subscription, and proceeds from the courthouse sale would be used for tax reduction rather than for the auditorium.

Supervisor John F. McInnis, voting against the auditorium construction, explained he is "in sympathy" with the project but is opposed to transferring funds from the Juvenile Hall expansion for use in the auditorium. If the $200,000 for Juvenile Hall expanson is not needed at this time, that amount should rightly be used to lower taxes for next year, said McInnis.

Seven Named To Operate Fairgrounds

Seven directors of Fair/Marin Inc., which will have the job of operating the county fairgrounds site at Civic Center, were named this morning by secret ballot of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Three separate ballots were needed to pick all seven.

Elected on the first ballot were W. P. (Doc) Duhamel, former veterans service officer for the county; Mrs. T. J. (Lottie) McWatters of the Marin Museum Association; Fred F. Enemark, savings and loan executive; and Harold Stockstad of Marin City, a structural engineer.

In two subsequent ballots, Gary Bauer of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, John LaNoue, telephone company executive, and Thomas Foris, Mill Valley architect were named to the seven-man board.

Directors will serve without pay.

Under by-laws of the corporation, directors will serve for three years, except that the terms of the initial directors will be staggered so that at least two terms expire each year.

The supervisors chose the seven from a list of 15 who received highest vote at last week's meeting of the Fair/Marin delegates representing some 90 organizations.

The seven picked by the supervisors were not necessarily those who received the most votes at the Fair/Marin membership meeting.

Reagan Says 'Ring' Report Is A Lie

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan angrily declared today there is "no truth" to a Washington columnist's published report that "a homosexual ring has been operating in his office."

"He's lying," Reagan said of the report by Drew Pearson in a special column delivered this week to newspapers throughout the country. It said eight men were involved, including two former members of Reagan's staff.

"Drew Pearson has been sort of riding my back for years," said Reagan, who denounced the report as "scurrilous."

The column said Reagan was given evidence last winter and "did not move to clear up his office until late August when certain members of his staff were abruptly dropped.' '

The column mentioned no names of those allegedly involved.

Reagan's communications director, Lyn Nofziger, also flatly denied part of the Pearson column which said Nofziger confidentially told reporters "that the two aides had been dropped because of homosexual activities."

Reagan said he would not "dignify" the Pearson report with any court action on his own or with any possible investigation.

The governor said he could not explain how the report nad rumors originated, although he had heard of them while attending the National Governors' Conference aboard the ocean liner Independence.

Reagan said he even heard reports that he had leaked the information himself.

"This is just absolutely not true," Reagan added.

The governor, apparently aware he would be asked about the report, was asked if he would have an investigation conducted into the subject.

He said no. "I'm satisfied with the knowledge that we have and certainly am not going to dignify this scurrilous gossip."

He said any libel action is "up to the people who are involved."

Also present at the news conference was Arthur Van Court, Reagan's security man who, Pearson, said was assigned by the governor to investigate reports of the alleged homosexual activity and had made tape recordings at a Lake Tahoe cabin.

SAIGON (UPI) — Outnumbered American and South Vietnamese troops fired their artillery at virtual point blank range today and smashed human wave assaults by about 1,500 Communist guerrillas against a district capital near Saigon, military spokesmen said.

The artillery fire killed at least 110 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and raised to almost 400 the number of Communists slain in three days around battered Loc Ninh, 72 miles north of Saigon.

A spokesman said the guerrillas failed to kill any Americans and inflicted only "light" casualties on the government troops in Communists' frantic apparent bid to snatch a propaganda victory and mar the inauguration of South Vietnam's first freely elected president and vice president.

Reagan 'Sorry' On Peace Ballot

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan told newsmen today he is "sorry" that a proposition against the Vietnam war will be before voters in the San Francisco municipal election Nov. 7.

"I'm sorry that such a thing is on a local election ballot," the governor remarked to questions at his weekly news conference .

The governor said "I don't believe cities should have a foreign policy." The proposition, Prop. P, says it is city policy that the United States withdraw immediately from Vietnam. (See story, page 2.)

Massive Brush Fires Claim Three, Ruin 120,000 Acres

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — Firefighters slowly gained ground today in their battle against massive Southern California brush fires that claimed three lives, destroyed 60 homes and blackened 120,000 acres, but kept a wary eye on their unpredictable enemy, the weather.

Meanwhile, many of the more than 5,000 persons who were evacuated from their homes in the path of raging, wind-whipped flames began returning to their homes as the fires abated.

The Santanna winds, hot dry gusts off the desert that suck all moisture from vegetation, which were blamed for fanning the blazes into conflagrations, with gusts up to 100 miles per hour, weakened and gave firemen hope of making substantial headway against the flames.

However, winds of up to 40 miles an hour coupled with temperatures near 90 and humidity of 5 per cent still were expected during the day in the Malibu area.

The body of the third victim of the fires, an Indian firefighter from New Mexico, was found early today after he disappeared last night while fighting a flareup near Cabazon in the Riverside County fire.

Reagan Foresees Wallace On Ballot

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan said today he believes George C. Wallace will obtain enough signatures to qualify for the California presidential ballot.

Reagan's statement came at a news conference as Wallace arrived here on the second stop of his five-city California tour seeking support to run for president.

However, the Republican governor declined to make an assessment of Wallace's chances of winning the primary or the former Alabama governor's presidential timber. (See other stories, page 14.)

Negro Seeking Election Delay

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Richard G. Hatcher, Negro candidate for mayor of Gary, Ind., asked federal court today to delay the Nov 7 election.

Hatcher, a Democrat, filed a petition containing 12 complaints against Democratic party leaders and election officials, claiming the election would not be fair.

Hatcher said more than 55,000 Negroes were purged from the voting rolls, while 4,000 fictitious whites have been registered.

San Franciscans Face Long Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -- A Vietnam peace proposition has catapulted San Francisco's Nov. 7 municipal election from a local affair to a matter of national, perhaps worldwide attention.

In addition to a "declaration of policy" on the war in Southeast Asia, the more than 300,000 eligible voters are confronted by one of the longest ,most complex ballots in years.

MANY CANDIDATES

They must decide among 18 candidates contending to succeed Mayor John F. Shelley, 62, who withdrew in September because of his health.

Forty-four candidates seek six positions on the board of supervisors. The race for district attorney is a two-way affair; there are three candidates for sheriff.

The voters will be asked to confirm or reject two nominations for the Board of Education.

Aside from personal contests, San Francisco will vote on 16 propositions—from "A to P."

Appropriately, Proposition P deals with peace.

Although the election is nonpartisan, political undertones are strong. Democrats outnumber Republicans about 2 to 1. The 69 candidates for 11 offices are frequently identified by the public for their political party affiliations.

The three principal candidates to succeed Mayor Shelley, former Democratic Congressman and labor leader, are Joseph Alioto, Harold S. Dobbs and Jack Morrison.

The other two are Democrats —Morrison, also a member of the board of supervisors, and Alioto, an attorney of wide public experience gained chiefly as appointed head of various city agencies.

PEACE ISSUE

Proposition P, originally denied a place on the ballot because the registrar of voters considered foreign policy irrelevant as a local issue, calls for a declaration on this question:

"Shall it be the policy of the people of the City and County of San Francisco that there be an immediate cease fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems?"

The Citizens for a Vote on Vietnam, organizer of the initiative campaign, successfully appealed to the California Supreme Court for an order placing the question on the ballot.

"One of the purposes of local government," said Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor, "is to represent its citizens before Congress, the legislature and administrative agencies in matters over which the local government has no power."

Sergeant Sues Major Over Wedding Plot

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) —An Air Force sergeant accused a major in court yesterday of a bizarre plot to take the sergeant's wife by convincing her that her husband had been killed in Vietnam.

Sgt. Hilary V. Jones, in a $200,000 damage suit petition, charged that Maj. William Curtis Malone threatened to "have her husband shot in the back if necessary" after she learned that her husband was not dead.

DRUGGING CLAIM

Malone gained entry to Mrs. Jones' home through his office as family services officer at Tinker Air Force Base here and used drugs and threats to seduce her repeatedly, the petition alleged.

After convincing the woman her husband was dead, the petition charged, the major took Mrs. Jones to Wichita Falls, Tex., secured a marriage license and tried to force her to marry him, Jones charged in the petition.

Jones found his wife broken in health and mind when he returned from Vietnam in July, he alleged. He said the alleged acts took place between February and July.

TALE OF DEATH

Jones' attorney, J.H. Herndon, said the petition also alleged that the client's wife was told by the major that the sergeant was dead six days after the officer was divorced from his own wife June 1.

Malone suffered a superficial shoulder wound Friday when a woman shot him on a parking lot at the military base, police reported. Tinker officials said then he was being transferred to the Philippines.

An unidentified woman was taken into custody after Malone was shot, and the FBI began an investigation.

Honeymoon Horror Ends; 'Heaven Again'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I was in heaven--on my honeymoon, then all hell broke loose with this nut," said Charles Caldwell after 44 hours of terror ended with the shooting of his bride and her rejected suitor's suicide.

Lida Caldwell, 19, was taken at gunpoint from the young couple's apartment a few hours after the wedding Saturday. Robert Batch, 23, a former mental patient she dated until about a month ago, shot and wounded her 18-year-old husband as the couple arrived home from Detroit where they were married.

Batch then took the dark-haired, brown-eyed girl to his third-floor attic apartment in suburban University Heights, holding the bride and police at bay until yesterday afternoon.

Batch, quoted by his mother as saying, "There was no reason to go on living," shot Mrs. Caldwell in the chest and turned the gun on himself.

"My darling, My darling," moaned the dying Batch as police stormed into the apartment to find him draped across his young captive.

"Get me out of here," begged Mrs. Caldwell as she was carried to an ambulance.

The bullet pierced her chest and came out her back. After surgery at Doctor's Hospital, she remained in satisfactory condition today.

CHARLES CALDWELL
His bride is safe

Four miles away in St. Vincent Charity Hospital, her husband, a short order cook, also in satisfactory condition, is recovering from face wounds.

"I hope I can see her soon," Caldwell said from his hospital bed, adding that "this past couple of days has been hell.. .but now I'm in heaven again."

Dodd Goes Home

NORTH STONINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. was back home today after an eight-day stay in the hospital for what doctors said was nervous exhaustion. Dodd, 60, was discharged yesterday.

Israeli Stand May Thwart U.N. Efforts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Security Council efforts toward a Middle East settlement appeared stymied today by new Israeli insistance on direct talks with the Arabs and refusal to pull back to prewar boundaries.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told Secretary-General U Thant yesterday that Israel stands by its insistence on direct peace negotiations with the Arabs if any such talks are to be held.

Premier Levi Eshkol told the Israeli parliament in Jerusalem that new boundaries would have to be negotiated and Israel would not pull back to positions it held at the start of the June war.

Eban told newsmen at U.N. headquarters Israel's attitude toward two rival plans before the council—both of which would send a U.N. representative to the Middle East—would be determined by whether such a mission "prejudices the Israeli position."

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation council met twice yesterday in an attempt to resolve differences between the two resolutions.

Egyptian informants in Cairo indicated recently that direct talks with Israel are out of the question for President Gamal Abdel Nasser or probably any other Arab leader and will be for three or four years.

San Franciscans Face Long Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Vietnam peace proposition has catapulted San Francisco's Nov. 7 municipal election from a local affair to a matter of national, perhaps worldwide attention.

In addition to a "declaration of policy" on the war in Southeast Asia, the more than 300,000 eligible voters are confronted by one of the longest ,most complex ballots in years.

MANY CANDIDATES

They must decide among 18 candidates contending to succeed Mayor John F. Shelley, 62, who withdrew in September because of his health.

Forty-four candidates seek six positions on the board of supervisors. The race for district attorney is a two-way affair; there are three candidates for sheriff.

The voters will be asked to confirm or reject two nominations for the Board of Education.

Aside from personal contests, San Francisco will vote on 16 propositions—from "A to P."

Appropriately, Proposition P deals with peace.

Although the election is nonpartisan, political undertones are strong. Democrats outnumber Republicans about 2 to 1. The 69 candidates for 11 offices are frequently identified by the public for their political party affiliations.

The three principal candidates to succeed Mayor Shelley, former Democratic Congressman and labor leader, are Joseph Alioto, Harold S. Dobbs and Jack Morrison.

The other two are Democrats —Morrison, also a member of the board of supervisors, and Alioto, an attorney of wide public experience gained chiefly as appointed head of various city agencies.

oriented people" who, he said, have the capability of raising a million dollars but who did not contribute financially to the veterans auditorium project. "It was a great disappointment to me," said McInnis, adding that the failure of the "culturally oriented" to contribute financially met with "great distaste of many veterans."

The motion for a go-ahead on the auditorium came from Supervisor William A. Gnoss, who had voted for the original Civic Center 12 years ago.

"I advocated a new and better Civic Center for Marin," said Gnoss. "I'm putting the veterans auditorium in the same category as I put this building . . I feel what we did 12 years ago was not a mistake . . . in the long run this is progress and we're making no mistake."

Supervisors Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen said they agree. In answer to McInnis's criticism of the culturally oriented, Behr said the functions of the auditorium would affect a broad range of activities not necessarily confined to the purely cultural.

As recommended the supervisors agreed to redesign the auditorium to a minimum, with 786 seats, cut down on site development to bare parking needs, include special stage steel specifications as part of the general contractors bid instead of making it a separate bid .These would cut cost by about $160,000, Campanella estimated.

New bids will be called, and the stage rigging and seating bids would be opened on Dec. 5, and general construction bids Dec. 12.

Lagunitas Slide Work May Cost District $5,000

A soils engineering firm estimates it will cost the Lagunitas School District $5,000 to drain the site for the district's new school sufficiently to minimize the danger of slides during the rainy season.

The report was submitted by Harding and Associates, engineering firm of San Rafael, last night to a meeting of the Lagunitas school trustees. The trustees accepted the report but took no action on it.

Bids on the 10-room elementary classroom addition will be let in January and construction will probably begin in February or March. The new schoolhouse, adjacent to the present school, will be ready for students next September.

The trustees decided to hire a teacher's aide to assist with kindergarten classes enlarged by the addition of five children from the Nicasio School District. There are two kindergarten classes at Lagunitas, and they now total 61 children.

basement of her small Riverside County home five miles north of San Jacinto. Forest rangers said they thought her house was a barn and bypassed it when they went through the area warning residents of the approaching flames.

The largest of several blazes left 50 homes known destroyed in Orange County, southeast of Los Angeles. More than 5,000 persons were evacuated from the path of the 35,000-acre holocaust. Marijuana Law Change Backed

Marin County Board of Supervisors this morning unanimously approved the grand jury's recommendation for amendments to the present laws on marijuana possession, giving the courts discretion on whether a convicted person should be penalized for a felony or a misdemeanor.

Present law rigidly requires that anyone convicted of marijuana possession, regardless of circumstances, would have a felony record.

WAR

The Viet Cong's once elite 273rd Regiment had drawn in reinforcements from their sister 272nd Regiment for a renewed assault against the U.S. Army Special Forces fort, a U.S. Army advisory camp and government troop position at Loc Ninh.

The Communists today crept through ruined rubber plantations before dawn and unleashed a mortar and rifle barrage. Then the guerrillas rose and charged across Loc Ninh's tiny airstrip, apparently hoping to cut off the Allied airborne reinforcements that beat them Sunday.

U. S. artillery plus helicopter and AC47 Dragonship gunfire drove the guerrillas back. But they promptly charged again.

For two hours the guerrillas prepared themselves. Then they rose and raced across the airstrip .They lunged into the Green Beret and South Vietnamese forts. They came across and through barbed wire.

Allied rifle and machinegun fire was not enough even at the close range. U. S. spokesmen said the American gunners lowered their artillery barrels and opened fire.

It saved the two camps from being overrun, the spokesman said. The Communists reeled back and tried a fourth charge. It failed. The Communists fled into the ripped rubber trees, the U. S. Army troops following.

Long-Stolen Car Found In Lot

A 1958 Chevrolet station wagon, which Mrs. Judith M. Wilson of 907 Greenhill Road, Mill Valley, reported stolen Sept. 29, was recovered at 6 p.m. yesterday in the lower parking lot of the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon.

John D. Rodgers, a tenant, told Tiburon sheriff's deputies the vehicle was gradually being stripped. The car was impounded.

Girls Are Cited For Starting Fire

Two Fairfax girls, aged 9 and 11, have been cited to the sheriff's juvenile bureau for setting a patch of hillside afire in the 300 block of Oak Manor Drive in Fairfax last Saturday.

Why Do You Have A Poor Memory?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anybody who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Pkwy., Dept. 310-610, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

oriented people" who, he said, have the capability of raising a million dollars but who did not contribute financially to the veterans auditorium project. "It was a great disappointment to me," said McInnis, adding that the failure of the "culturally oriented" to contribute financially met with "great distaste of many veterans."

The motion for a go-ahead on the auditorium came from Supervisor William A. Gnoss, who had voted for the original Civic Center 12 years ago.

"I advocated a new and better Civic Center for Marin," said Gnoss. "I'm putting the veterans auditorium in the same category as I put this building . . I feel what we did 12 years ago was not a mistake . . . in the long run this is progress and we're making no mistake."

Supervisors Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen said they agree. In answer to McInnis's criticism of the culturally oriented, Behr said the functions of the auditorium would affect a broad range of activities not necessarily confined to the purely cultural.

As recommended the supervisors agreed to redesign the auditorium to a minimum, with 786 seats, cut down on site development to bare parking needs, include special stage steel specifications as part of the general contractors bid instead of making it a separate bid .These would cut cost by about $160,000, Campanella estimated.

New bids will be called, and the stage rigging and seating bids would be opened on Dec. 5, and general construction bids Dec. 12.

Lagunitas Slide Work May Cost District $5,000

A soils engineering firm estimates it will cost the Lagunitas School District $5,000 to drain the site for the district's new school sufficiently to minimize the danger of slides during the rainy season.

The report was submitted by Harding and Associates, engineering firm of San Rafael, last night to a meeting of the Lagunitas school trustees. The trustees accepted the report but took no action on it.

Bids on the 10-room elementary classroom addition will be let in January and construction will probably begin in February or March. The new schoolhouse, adjacent to the present school, will be ready for students next September.

The trustees decided to hire a teacher's aide to assist with kindergarten classes enlarged by the addition of five children from the Nicasio School District. There are two kindergarten classes at Lagunitas, and they now total 61 children.

Marijuana Law Change Backed

Marin County Board of Supervisors this morning unanimously approved the grand jury's recommendation for amendments to the present laws on marijuana possession, giving the courts discretion on whether a convicted person should be penalized for a felony or a misdemeanor.

the war. No U.S. planes were reported loss in the 126 missions flown.

The Viet Cong's once elite 273rd Regiment had drawn in reinforcements from their sister 272nd Regiment for a renewed assault against the U.S. Army Special Forces fort, a U.S. Army advisory camp and government troop position at Loc Ninh.

The Communists today crept through ruined rubber plantations before dawn and unleashed a mortar and rifle barrage. Then the guerrillas rose and charged across Loc Ninh's tiny airstrip, apparently hoping to cut off the Allied airborne reinforcements that beat them Sunday.

U. S. artillery plus helicopter and AC47 Dragonship gunfire drove the guerrillas back. But they promptly charged again.

For two hours the guerrillas prepared themselves. Then they rose and raced across the airstrip .They lunged into the Green Beret and South Vietnamese forts. They came across and through barbed wire.

Allied rifle and machinegun fire was not enough even at the close range. U. S. spokesmen said the American gunners lowered their artillery barrels and opened fire.

It saved the two camps from being overrun, the spokesman said. The Communists reeled back and tried a fourth charge. It failed. The Communists fled into the ripped rubber trees, the U. S. Army troops following.

Why Do You Have A Poor Memory?
A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.
According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.
To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anybody who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Pkwy., Dept. 310-610, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

MEADERS CLEANERS COMES TO MARIN

A PICTORIAL STORY OF MEADER'S QUALITY

Meaders Cleaners, the most respected name in dry cleaning for more than four decades, has come to Marin County.

You are cordially invited to visit the new Meaders plant, located in Greenbrae's Bon Air Shopping Center, and see for yourself the most modern and advanced dry cleaning operation in all of Northern California. Not only will you find such a visit to be extremely interesting, but you will understand why Meaders has come to be synonymous with quality dry cleaning.

A meticulous attention to detail and a philosophy of extra care for every garment has made the original Meaders in San Francisco the City's most prestigious cleaner. Generations of San Francisco society have entrusted their finery to Meaders and they have long been the exclusive cleaner for such stores as Ransohoff's, City of Paris, and H. Liebes & Co.

And now, Meaders Cleaners is offering this same fine service to the residents of Marin.

STEP SIX— AT THE SWEATER STATION Kearn shows Mrs. Gottesman Meaders' technique for pressing sweater sleeves. This piece of equipment is used exclusively for that purpose, and adjusts to press and block sleeves from the inside out, so there is never an unsightly crease. All sweaters are carded to restore the original softness, blocked to size, and returned to the customer in boxes rather than on hangers.

STEP TWELVE— MISSING BUTTONS, hooks or snaps, open seams and drooping hems are repaired by Meaders' skilled seamstress. Meaders does not charge for making minor repairs— in fact, they pay the customer a dollar if they fail to replace a missing button.

STEP THIRTEEN— HER UNEXPECTED TOUR FINISHED, Mrs. Gottesman finds her cleaning ready to go home with her— dresses carefully hung and bagged, sweater folded and boxed. "THIS is service," she laughed.

STEP ONE— ON HER FIRST VISIT to Meaders Cleaners' new cleaning plant in the Bon Air Shopping Center, Mrs. Robert S. Gottesman, 325 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, is offered an unexpected bonus— a guided tour of the facility of Meaders' by president Joseph J. Kearn.

STEP SEVEN— DRESSES ARE PRESSED on Meaders' "Jenny," Kearn explains. It's an adjustable dress form which puffs up to the size of the dress and forces hot air and steam through the fabric from the inside. In addition to pressing and blocking, handpressing completes the job, and assures you of the finest job possible.

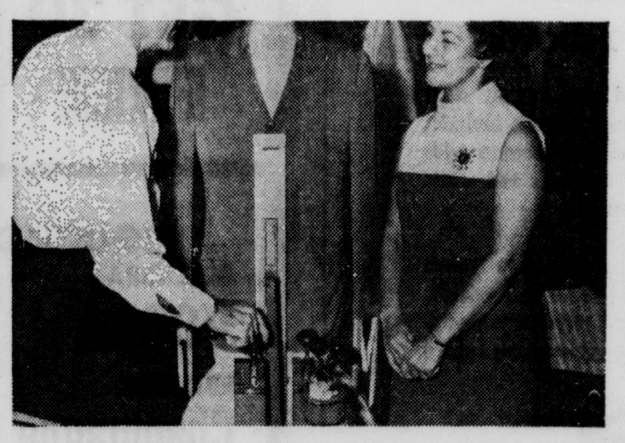
STEP TWO— FIRST STOP on the tour is the tagging counter where each garment is inspected, measured if it is knit or jersey, and given an identification tag. Above, Kearn points out to Mrs. Gottesman that Meaders uses safety pins to tag clothing, never staples or hooks which can damage delicate fabrics. To protect the garments between the time they are brought in and when they reach the tagging counter, each order goes into its own mesh bag, Kearn explains.

STEP EIGHT— ANOTHER UNIQUE piece of equipment at Meaders' Marin plant is the "pants topper," which is used for just that— pressing the tops of men's pants. As Kearn presses the button, the two robot-like "hands" appear from inside the machine to press the pocket area of the pants. Other specialized equipment at Meaders "pants station" includes a similar "topper" for smaller pants, a "puff iron" for waist bands and flaps, and the "pants legger," which is a pressure-adjustable press for putting razor-sharp creases in pants without leaving a shine or seam impression.

STEP THREE— PRE-SPOTTING is an important phase of the Meaders operation, Mrs. Gottesman learns. Each garment is spotted before it goes into the cleaning machine, and again after, if necessary. Here Kearn demonstrates one technique for spot removal. Kearn explains the importance of pre-spotting to eliminate the setting of stains, and the use of a "steam gun" in combination with one of the hundreds of spot removing compounds Meaders has on hand. Note that buttons on the garment are wrapped in foil for protection.

STEP NINE— EXCLUSIVELY AT MEADERS, for you won't find many like it anywhere, Meaders re-shapes your coat when it is pressed. This is done to retain the curve of your coat, so that it hangs properly, the way your tailor intended.

STEP FOUR— MEADERS' COMPUTERIZED cleaning machine is programmed for individual loads. The punch card Kearn holds tells the machine exactly what to do with the delicate wedding gown that's about to be cleaned— the type of solvent to be used, the cleaning time, as well as solvent and drying temperatures. When instructed, the machine will also perform special jobs automatically, such as moth proofing or water proofing. One of the most important steps is classification. Kearn emphasizes how important it is to keep fancy fragiles, such as cashmeres, satins, chiffons, or silks in the proper formula, by color and texture.



STEP TEN— MEADERS' "INSIDE OUT" METHOD of pressing is used on men's jackets as well. At left, the jacket is placed over its special form and the form is adjusted to size. Spring-type "arms" are inserted in the sleeves to shape and block them. Then Kearn turns on the air and steam (right). Once the jacket is pressed and blocked, the lining is ironed by hand and the collar rolled and formed. Mrs. Gottesman is pleasantly surprised at how spotless Bob's (her husband) coat looked after shaping.

STEP FIVE— NOT EVERYTHING is automated at Meaders. Hand irons are still used on each garment, to press linings, flaps and facings, and to touch up seams, as Kearn demonstrates. All Meaders' irons are equipped with a special Teflon shoe to prevent shine on fabrics.

STEP ELEVEN— GARMENTS ARE INSPECTED five times during the process for needed minor repairs and spots. Above, Kearn points out to Mrs. Gottesman a loose section of hem that will be repaired before the gown is returned to the customer.

More Reaction To Unified Law Agency Sought

The Marin City-County Services Committee last night decided this is not the time to study the possibility of forming a county-wide unified law enforcement agency.

Chairman Michael Wornum, a Mill Valley councilman, said, however, that the committee "will continue to explore" police functions which unification might aid.

Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach suggested the study by an ad hoc committee. His suggestion was referred to the committee by Marin County supervisors for its recommendation.

WANT REACTION

The committee agreed to forward the suggestion to city police chiefs to get their reactions.

Supervisors John F. McInnis advocated a "step by step" approach and cited the need for cooperation and coordination between the cities and the county.

Wornum reported that city council representatives were adamant in opposition to the proposal at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last week.

PAST FUROR

Novato Councilman Douglas M. Merrill, a committee member, recalled that two years ago just the suggestion the city study the cost of having sheriff's deputies provide police service in Novato "created a furor." City councils "respond to community attitude," he said.

The first countywide unification in the field of law enforcement was creation of a drug abuse bureau, which began operating yesterday under a joint powers agreement between the county and cities.

The committee last night approved an amendment to that agreement which would expand "centralized police services" to include a police information network services starting Jan. 1, 1968.

Under the proposed amendment the five-member council, supervising the drug abuse bureau, also would operate information network facilities secured by the county through an agreement with Alameda County.

REFERRAL MADE

The committee referred the proposed amendment to city police chiefs.

The Marin City-County Services Committee also:

PLANNING —Agreed to remind cities that the committee is awaiting their reactions to a roposal for formation of a city-county planning council.

FLOOD CONTROL — Agreed to seek city approval for a study on the possibility of a county-wide flood control zone.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until call by chairman, but not later than Dec. 11.

Services Committee Reaffirms Unincorporated Area Protection

The Marin City-County Services Committee last night reaffirmed its endorsement of a county services area for police services in unincorporated areas.

Under a county services area, taxpayers in unincorporated areas would pay for police services they receive "beyond those which are a responsibility of the county to provide."

The proposal was initiated last year to ease the burden on city taxpayers who help finance sheriff's department patrols in unincorporated areas as well as paying for their own city police.

ZONE LEVELS

Committee members worded their recommendation so that zones could be set up within the counties services areas for areas desiring different levels of police service.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said "it would be virtually impossible to divide up into zones now." On the basis of population or assessed valuation, unincorporated areas at present are "getting about the same level of service," he said.

The proposal is one of the series designed to solve tax and service inequities between cities and counties.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a committee member, made a strong plea to have the committee first consider having the cities share their sales tax revenue with unincorporated areas.

CITES BENEFIT

He said a past move to form a county services area for structural fire protection in unincorporated areas was a benefit to the cities. The next move should benefit the unincorporated areas, Kettenhofen contended.

If all decisions favor the cities, it would be "bludgeoning" unincorporated areas into incorporation, he said. "They shouldn't be bludgeoned."

"Why is it the cities want us to vote everything in their direction before something in the other direction to offset it?" Kettenhofen asked.

Chairman Michael Wornum, a Mill Valley councilman, said "The most we can do is ask the cities to form a committee to study the possibility of redistribution of sales tax revenues."

The committee agreed to request city councils to consider such a study.

When the discussion swung back to the county services area for police protection, Neal D. Harding, chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District, asked what police services would be provided in unincorporated areas.

Committee members said it wasn't in their province to set standards, but there would have to be a certain minimum set. Anything beyond that would depend on what services residents wanted and were willing to pay for, the committee noted.

Harding noted that the Terra Linda CSD has police powers, and committee members said the district would be in the classification as a city regarding police protection.

Supervisors will have a hearing Nov. 14 on the proposed county services area.

During the discussion, Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert Balmer said he has undertaken a study on unification of services. One of his conslusions, he said, is that government should be regional, such as Association of Bay Area Governments, and cities, with county government abolished.

$140,000 In Mansion Fund

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Nearly $140,000 has been raised in a private fund drive for a new governor's mansion but most Sacramento lobbyists are refusing to contribute, the drive's chairman reports.

Leland Kaiser of San Francisco told a reporter yesterday that not a single lobbyist has donated the $1,000 requested by his committee.

Kaiser said he plans to solicit funds directly from the heads of the interests the lobbyists represent.

The goal of the drive to build a new mansion near Sacramento is $550,000. Kaiser said more than 5,500 persons contributed an average of $23.

House Of Lords Faces Charges Queen Reports

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told the ermine-robed members of Britain's House of Lords today that the Labor government plans to reduce their powers and eliminate their present hereditary basis.

Reform of the Lords, said the queen in her Speech from the Throne opening the new session of Parliament, will enable the upper house "to develop within the framework of a modern parliamentary system."

The queen's speech was not precise on what reforms the government plans and whether future membership in the House of Lords will be by election or appointment. The speech said the government is "prepared to enter into consultations appropriate to a constitutional change of such importance."

Pentagon Orders Buying Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has ordered a tightening up of its procedures for making small purchases—those penny ante items that add up to millions.

The man responsible is Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., who has been blasting the Department of Defense for allegedly sloppy shopping practices when it comes to small purchases.

His prize exhibit was a gear which he said the Pentagon paid $194.30 for and could instead have purchased from one manufacturer's catalog for $3.43.

"We cannot tolerate flagrant practices such as those demonstrated by Mr. Pike's findings," a spokesman for the Department of Defense said yesterday.

More Reaction To Unified Law Agency Sought

The Marin City-County Services Committee last night decided this is not the time to study the possibility of forming a county-wide unified law enforcement agency.

Chairman Michael Wornum, a Mill Valley councilman, said, however, that the committee "will continue to explore" police functions which unification might aid.

Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach suggested the study by an ad hoc committee. His suggestion was referred to the committee by Marin County supervisors for its recommendation.

WANT REACTION

The committee agreed to forward the suggestion to city police chiefs to get their reactions.

Supervisors John F. McInnis advocated a "step by step" approach and cited the need for cooperation and coordination between the cities and the county.

Wornum reported that city council representatives were adamant in opposition to the proposal at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last week.

PAST FUROR

Novato Councilman Douglas M. Merrill, a committee member, recalled that two years ago just the suggestion the city study the cost of having sheriff's deputies provide police service in Novato "created a furor." City councils "respond to community attitude," he said.

The first countywide unification in the field of law enforcement was creation of a drug abuse bureau, which began operating yesterday under a joint powers agreement between the county and cities.

The committee last night approved an amendment to that agreement which would expand "centralized police services" to include a police information network services starting Jan. 1, 1968.

Under the proposed amendment the five-member council, supervising the drug abuse bureau, also would operate information network facilities secured by the county through an agreement with Alameda County.

REFERRAL MADE

The committee referred the proposed amendment to city police chiefs.

The Marin City-County Services Committee also:

PLANNING —Agreed to remind cities that the committee is awaiting their reactions to a roposal for formation of a city-county planning council.

FLOOD CONTROL — Agreed to seek city approval for a study on the possibility of a county-wide flood control zone.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until call by chairman, but not later than Dec. 11.

Pentagon Orders Buying Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has ordered a tightening up of its procedures for making small purchases—those penny ante items that add up to millions.

The man responsible is Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., who has been blasting the Department of Defense for allegedly sloppy shopping practices when it comes to small purchases.

His prize exhibit was a gear which he said the Pentagon paid $194.30 for and could instead have purchased from one manufacturer's catalog for $3.43.

"We cannot tolerate flagrant practices such as those demonstrated by Mr. Pike's findings," a spokesman for the Department of Defense said yesterday.

When lightning strikes the trunk of a tree the sap inside turns to steam and the tree explodes.

Services Committee Reaffirms Unincorporated Area Protection

The Marin City-County Services Committee last night reaffirmed its endorsement of a county services area for police services in unincorporated areas.

Under a county services area, taxpayers in unincorporated areas would pay for police services they receive "beyond those which are a responsibility of the county to provide."

The proposal was initiated last year to ease the burden on city taxpayers who help finance sheriff's department patrols in unincorporated areas as well as paying for their own city police.

ZONE LEVELS

Committee members worded their recommendation so that zones could be set up within the counties services areas for areas desiring different levels of police service.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said "it would be virtually impossible to divide up into zones now." On the basis of population or assessed valuation, unincorporated areas at present are "getting about the same level of service," he said.

The proposal is one of the series designed to solve tax and service inequities between cities and counties.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a committee member, made a strong plea to have the committee first consider having the cities share their sales tax revenue with unincorporated areas.

CITES BENEFIT

He said a past move to form a county services area for structural fire protection in unincorporated areas was a benefit to the cities. The next move should benefit the unincorporated areas, Kettenhofen contended.

If all decisions favor the cities, it would be "bludgeoning" unincorporated areas into incorporation, he said. "They shouldn't be bludgeoned."

"Why is it the cities want us to vote everything in their direction before something in the other direction to offset it?" Kettenhofen asked.

Chairman Michael Wornum, a Mill Valley councilman, said "The most we can do is ask the cities to form a committee to study the possibility of redistribution of sales tax revenues."

The committee agreed to request city councils to consider such a study.

When the discussion swung back to the county services area for police protection, Neal D. Harding, chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District, asked what police services would be provided in unincorporated areas.

Committee members said it wasn't in their province to set standards, but there would have to be a certain minimum set. Anything beyond that would depend on what services residents wanted and were willing to pay for, the committee noted.

Harding noted that the Terra Linda CSD has police powers, and committee members said the district would be in the classification as a city regarding police protection.

Supervisors will have a hearing Nov. 14 on the proposed county services area.

During the discussion, Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert Balmer said he has undertaken a study on unification of services. One of his conslusions, he said, is that government should be regional, such as Association of Bay Area Governments, and cities, with county government abolished.

House Of Lords Faces Charges Queen Reports

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told the ermine-robed members of Britain's House of Lords today that the Labor government plans to reduce their powers and eliminate their present hereditary basis.

Reform of the Lords, said the queen in her Speech from the Throne opening the new session of Parliament, will enable the upper house "to develop within the framework of a modern parliamentary system."

The queen's speech was not precise on what reforms the government plans and whether future membership in the House of Lords will be by election or appointment. The speech said the government is "prepared to enter into consultations appropriate to a constitutional change of such importance."

$140,000 In Mansion Fund

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Nearly $140,000 has been raised in a private fund drive for a new governor's mansion but most Sacramento lobbyists are refusing to contribute, the drive's chairman reports.

Leland Kaiser of San Francisco told a reporter yesterday that not a single lobbyist has donated the $1,000 requested by his committee.

Kaiser said he plans to solicit funds directly from the heads of the interests the lobbyists represent.

The goal of the drive to build a new mansion near Sacramento is $550,000. Kaiser said more than 5,500 persons contributed an average of $23.

Sobriety Tests To Be Viewed

A difference of legal opinion between Marin General Hospital and county officials about blood alcohol tests will be aired today at the 7 p.m. meeting of the hospital district board in the Coral Room of the hospital.

District Attorney Bruch B. Bales and County Counsel Douglas Maloney will discuss the county's viewpoint regarding recent state legislation on sobriety tests.

Hospital policy has been not to make such tests without patients' consent, hospital officials, said, but the district attorney's office wants the policy changed because of recent state legislation.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a report from administrator Ray K. Bolinger on the current status of Medi-Cal and a discussion of possible soil problems in the hill behind the new Community Health Center.

Court Panel Approves '63 Bank Merger

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 1963 merger of Crocker Anglo National Bank of San Francisco and Citizens Bank of Los Angeles has been approved by a three-judge federal court panel which had delayed judgment nearly two years.

The U.S. Department of Justice had sued, contending the merger violated antitrust laws. The judges ruled yesterday that the government failed to prove any substantial lessening of competition.

The case was argued in 1965 before Appeals Court Justice Walter Pope and District Court Judges William T. Sweigert and Alfonso J. Zirpoli, sitting en banc.

The jurists delayed judgment nearly two years, awaiting Supreme Court interpretation of a congressional act exempting some mergers from antitrust laws.

If the Justice Department appeals, the case will go directly to the Supreme Court.

Robbery Suspect Is Brother Of Sinatra Kidnaper

CULVER CITY (UPI) — The FBI yesterday arrested William Ray Irwin, 37, the brother of one of the men convicted of kidnaping Frank Sinatri Jr., on suspicion of robbing a Bank of America branch earlier in the day.

Irwin was booked on suspicion of armed robbery following the theft of $1,745 from the bank.

Also arrested was Dennis Wade of Santa Monica, who allegedly drove the getaway car in the holdup.

Irwin told the FBI he was employed as a miner in Denver, Colo., but gave a Hollywood address.

His brother, John, 46, is awaiting sentencing following his conviction in connection with the kidnaping of young Sinatra Dec. 8, 1963.

Wiretapping Clause To Anticrime Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's anticrime bill has emerged from a Senate Judiciary subcommittee bristling with amendments that would grant expanded powers to police, including wiretapping and eavesdropping authority.

The subcommittee's version of the measure strikes out at recent Supreme Court decisions on criminal case confessions and electronic eavesdropping.

And it flies directly in the face of Johnson's request that Congress outlaw all electronic eavesdropping except in cases directly related to the national security.

As proposed by Johnson, the bill would have provided federal funds to assist in better training and equipping of local police forces.

As approved yesterday by the subcommittee and sent to the full Senate Judiciary Committee, the measure also would:

Remove Supreme Court restrictions on the admissibility of confessions in criminal cases.

Permit wiretapping and other electronic eavesdropping by law enforcement officers under court order without previous determination that national security was involved.

Authorize the FBI director to establish a National Institute of Law Enforcement Training and, at the request of any state or local government, provide training for its police force.

Bar federal courts below the Supreme Court from granting writs of habeas corpus in cases where a conviction has been affirmed by a state supreme court.

Permit eyewitnesses to a crime to identify suspects in a police line-up when the suspects have no attorney present to represent them.

$4,000 Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pair of flashily dressed gunmen forced 14 customers to lie on the floor in a downtown bar, then one climbed stairs to an office where owner Arthur C. Reeb was counting receipts, police said. They escaped with some $4,000 yesterday.

Californian Faces Hunt Death Charge

GUNNISON, Colo. (UPI) —A California hunter, who officials said fatally shot two young brothers on a red motorbike after mistaking them for an elk, today faced charges of involuntary manslaughter.

Gunnison County Sheriff George Cope said the charges were filed yesterday in district court against John Morrison, 42, of National City. Morrison posted $2,000 bond yesterday afternoon and was released from jail.

Killed in the shooting incident near Waunita Hot Springs were Kirk Delaney, 15, and his brother, Tyee, 10, of Doyleville, Colo. They were shot a distance of about 100 yards with a 30.06-caliber rifle.

Sheriff Cope said the boys, dressed in red hunting clothes, and their father were riding their motorbikes across an open area last Saturday when they were shot.

The first shot struck Kirk in the back of the head, killing him. The younger brother, Tyee was shot when he ran to his brother's side and yelled, "dad, somebody is shooting at us." He also died outright.

Peace Council To Aid Issue

Representatives of the Marin County Joint Peace Council will aid in pre-election campaigning in favor of Proposition P, the peace proposition, to be voted on in San Francisco Nov. 7.

The council consists of 11 organizations favoring a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war. The group also is backing an attempt to have a peace proposition put on the ballot in Marin in June.

The Marin Independent Sponsors for Proposition P became the 11th member of the council on Oct. 26, peace representatives said. Mrs. Ruth Nash of Sausalito is the representative to the council from the sponsors organization.

The first shot of the Spanish-American War was fired by the gunboat Nashville.

Motion Filed To Halt Charge

A San Quentin inmate accused of the murder of a fellow-prisoner filed a motion yesterday in Marin Superior Court for dismissal of the charge on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Judge Harold J. Haley took the motion by Clifford Jefferson, 41, under study and scheduled a ruling for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Jefferson claimed testimony in the grand jury indictment against him failed to show he was involved in the zip gun murder of Ronald Thomas Roberts last Feb. 24.

A co-defendant, Terry K. Campbell, 22, is also scheduled for further proceedings in court Monday.

A HEADSTART INTO THE COAT GAME

A glamorous reality achieved in an exquisite coat of striated gabardine, left, is molded in the flattering smooth look of pure wool. The narrow top hugs the shoulders, releasing with ease the flared skirt. The total look is achieved in the double-breasted closing and demi-belt. A coat in motion, second, from the brilliant flashes of glitter frog closings, the enlarged pockets, to the duffel class—the hood. The third coat traces an A-line silhouette into the little gabardine coat with high fashion. It closes on one of the most important fashion looks — the industrial zipper. At far right, the shape to be in with this crisply constructed coat of fancy wool gabardine, slightly nipped at the waist.

Adaptable Volunteer Has Special Interest In Crafts

"What we could use is 10 more volunteers like Martha McMakin. She is completely reliable, adaptable and has a wonderful rapport with the patients."

Thus Mrs. Estelle Huff describes the Volunteer Bureau of Marin's October Volunteer of the Month, Mrs. William McMakin of Mill Valley.

MRS. McMAKIN

Mrs. Huff is Recreation Director at the Fifth Avenue Convalescent Home in San Rafael, where Mrs. McMakin has worked over 175 volunteer hours the past year.

The Fifth Avenue Convalescent Home is one of a dozen institutions in Marin which care for the physical needs of the elderly and the chronically ill. Mrs. McMakin works two hours, two mornings a week there.

"The recreation program is varied," she says, "and I assist the patients with whatever is planned for a given day. We show movies to the patients, play bingo with them, have monthly parties and special celebrations for each birthday. The patients are mostly elderly, and are grateful for the attention and diversion that the volunteers provide."

The craft program is Mrs. McMakin's special interest. She works with the patients, helping them make things for themselves, gifts to send friends and relatives, or decorations for their parties. All materials are donated and creating artistic uses for them is a challenge Mrs. McMakin enjoys.

Relative newcomers to Marin, the McMakins moved here two years ago from New York. He is a pilot with Seaboard World Airlines.The couple have three children; Beth, a freshman at Colorado State University and teen-age sons, Doug and Paul.

Mrs. McMakin's volunteer experience in New York includes being a Girl Scout leader and working with the Family Service League Thrift Shop.

In endorsing the Volunteer Bureau's choice of Mrs. McMakin, Mrs. Huff adds; "We have a growing need for volunteers in convalescent homes as therapist aides, craft assistants, and volunteer visitors. We can use either individuals or groups, particularly people with artistic or musical talents."

'Old Maid' School Teacher Says Something Amiss In Her Love Life

DEAR HELEN:

I'm not anything special. But then I didn't have to be, because of Dave. He and I were always a "pair." We never went with anyone else, all through school. Maybe there were things about him I didn't like, but I reminded myself I wasn't much of a catch either. We were the kids nobody much noticed.

We're out of school three years and both have jobs. But it's just the same. He comes over for Sunday supper and takes me out on Friday night. Everybody figures we'll get married someday, but he hasn't asked me. I don't even know if I'd accept, except I don't want to be what I'm beginning to look like: an old maid school teacher.

What should I do? Something is really amiss with my "love" life. — GETTING OLDER

DEAR OLDER:

Make the Miss "really something" —with eye-catching make-up, hairdo, clothes, and mainly a better opinion of yourself. Then look for a fellow who has a "ring" in his voice. Your letter says loud and clear you wouldn't want to marry your 10-ear-habit, even if he asked you. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend's mother holds me up as an example of success. She's constantly saying, "Why can't you be like Mary?" It gets so embarrassing I don't want to go to her house.

We were both overweight, but I managed to lose 30 pounds. So it's "Mary did — you're just lazy." This goes for everything from sewing to grades.

I'm surprised Jane doesn't hate me. I know this hurts, but she would never say anything to me about it. The crumbled look in her eyes is what lets me know how bad she feels.

I even tried telling her mother but chickened out, as I thought it would hurt everyone's feelings. What can I do? — SUPPOSEDLY PERFECT

DEAR S.P.:

Jane's mother certainly should be told that unfavorable comparisons seldom help. If you can't, let's hope she reads this column and wonders, "Could this be me?" (I have changed names and circumstances enough so that she'll never know for sure.) — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am very disturbed with the answer you gave to "A Friend of Hell's Angels."

It doesn't matter whether you saw them in action or not, it's the person you look at. "Friend" knew them individually and saw their good points. You judged them as a group.

Maybe you'd act the same way if you had police breathing down you neck and you were kicked out of every town you came into when you were just trying to have a little fun.

I've read a book, seen a movie and read several articles on Hell's Angels. So I know they're misunderstood, and you should apologize. — ON THE SIDE OF THE ANGELS

DEAR ON:

Honey, a cyclist "just out to have a little fun' 'doesn't join Hell's Angels. He knows what he wants when he puts the skull and crossbones on his leather jacket — and he'd be the first to hoot when you teens romaticize him into a black knight with heart of gold —H.

WANT AN S.O.S. BUTTON? Send 10 cents and your printed name and address to HELEN'S S.O.S. CLUB, BOX 8504, SACRAMENTO, 95822. (Do not include "Helen Help Us" questions with your request — send these in a separate envelope.)

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you! Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent/Journal.

'Humor Is Vital'— Living In Africa

Susan Danford, who is with the Peace Corps in Niger, Africa, writes her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Porter R. Danford of Valley, that she is well settled and hard at work.

"I keep pinching myself to remind me I'm in Africa and that life is real. It's all a kind of hot dream," she says, in the climate that is so different from that at home.

After arriving in Niamey, the capital of Niger, she had a 1,200-mile journey east to Maine Soroa, her present station, where she is responsible for establishing a laboratory in a hospital.

On the way she stopped at the little town of Zinder for a week to make plans and had her first taste of what life in Africa could involve. There was boy to do the dishes, laundry and shopping for food, but she did the cooking and learned meat must be cooked carefully to kill tapeworm larvae.

She also had her first experience there with a storm during the rainy season. She wrote that a wind that filled the outdoors and indoors with sand was followed by torrents of rain, and soon she was wading around in the water inside the house — laughing.

"A SENSE OF HUMOR is vital," she writes. "A great many things that could be awful are delightful if one has a happy outlook."

In a description of difficulties of travel on crowded buses where people carry food and eat it she says, "one never knows when one will get a collar full of millet mush or sour milk."

Susan has full responsibility for setting up a laboratory and training a native student and found that medical supplies were one of her main worries at the hospital which has huge amounts of some things and nothing at all of others. Ordering was complicated by language difficulties until she found a pharmacist who could do it in French.

She writes she is going to submit her plans for developing the lab to the U.S. Ambassador in hopes of getting $2,000 from the self-help money he administers, but she expects to have some trouble getting the natives to accept any more United States aid. She says they believe the United States has done its share and it's now up to Niger.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS occupying Susan's time include sewing a bedspread, pillow case and African style dresses of bright fabrics available and learning new ways of cooking. There are always eggs, onions, garlic and lemons with a few other things in season, but the only meat is goat which has to be heavily spiced and served with hot sauce to cover its taste. On occasional visits to other towns she can pick up a few luxuries.

For recreation, she says, there are letter writing, reading and card playing —she may come home a card shark, she warns — and listening to the radio.

"We enjoy listening to the radio from England, Switzerland and Germany," she says. "I'm better informed than I used to be on the world situation. It's great fun to compare news from the BBC ,Voice of America and the local African stations."

Susan says she is crazy about the Arabian horses she has seen in colorful parades at Independence Day fetes and hopes to buy one. A good one can be bought for $60. In this country they cost $500 to $600.

She is also fascinated with native necklaces, and when she learns the language better hopes to be able to bargain to get one for less than the $120 asked.

Susan's most urgent request for supplies from home is for Kool-aid,together with dried apple sauce and fruits, since they seldom can get fruit.

Mrs. Danford noted that things for Christmas have to be sent now and that they can't send anything of much value because she just has to pay duty on it.

Susan writes that Max Hull, the former English teacher at Tamalpais High School who is assistant director of the Peace Corps in Africa, with whom she has been working, was forced to transfer with his family to Liberia because of lack of educational facilities for the children.

'Humor Is Vital'— Living In Africa

Susan Danford, who is with the Peace Corps in Niger, Africa, writes her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Porter R. Danford of Valley, that she is well settled and hard at work.

"I keep pinching myself to remind me I'm in Africa and that life is real. It's all a kind of hot dream," she says, in the climate that is so different from that at home.

After arriving in Niamey, the capital of Niger, she had a 1,200-mile journey east to Maine Soroa, her present station, where she is responsible for establishing a laboratory in a hospital.

On the way she stopped at the little town of Zinder for a week to make plans and had her first taste of what life in Africa could involve. There was boy to do the dishes, laundry and shopping for food, but she did the cooking and learned meat must be cooked carefully to kill tapeworm larvae.

She also had her first experience there with a storm during the rainy season. She wrote that a wind that filled the outdoors and indoors with sand was followed by torrents of rain, and soon she was wading around in the water inside the house — laughing.

"A SENSE OF HUMOR is vital," she writes. "A great many things that could be awful are delightful if one has a happy outlook."

In a description of difficulties of travel on crowded buses where people carry food and eat it she says, "one never knows when one will get a collar full of millet mush or sour milk."

Susan has full responsibility for setting up a laboratory and training a native student and found that medical supplies were one of her main worries at the hospital which has huge amounts of some things and nothing at all of others. Ordering was complicated by language difficulties until she found a pharmacist who could do it in French.

She writes she is going to submit her plans for developing the lab to the U.S. Ambassador in hopes of getting $2,000 from the self-help money he administers, but she expects to have some trouble getting the natives to accept any more United States aid. She says they believe the United States has done its share and it's now up to Niger.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS occupying Susan's time include sewing a bedspread, pillow case and African style dresses of bright fabrics available and learning new ways of cooking. There are always eggs, onions, garlic and lemons with a few other things in season, but the only meat is goat which has to be heavily spiced and served with hot sauce to cover its taste. On occasional visits to other towns she can pick up a few luxuries.

For recreation, she says, there are letter writing, reading and card playing —she may come home a card shark, she warns — and listening to the radio.

"We enjoy listening to the radio from England, Switzerland and Germany," she says. "I'm better informed than I used to be on the world situation. It's great fun to compare news from the BBC ,Voice of America and the local African stations."

Susan says she is crazy about the Arabian horses she has seen in colorful parades at Independence Day fetes and hopes to buy one. A good one can be bought for $60. In this country they cost $500 to $600.

She is also fascinated with native necklaces, and when she learns the language better hopes to be able to bargain to get one for less than the $120 asked.

Susan's most urgent request for supplies from home is for Kool-aid,together with dried apple sauce and fruits, since they seldom can get fruit.

Mrs. Danford noted that things for Christmas have to be sent now and that they can't send anything of much value because she just has to pay duty on it.

Susan writes that Max Hull, the former English teacher at Tamalpais High School who is assistant director of the Peace Corps in Africa, with whom she has been working, was forced to transfer with his family to Liberia because of lack of educational facilities for the children.

GUIDELINE FIGHTER

Alabaman Talks Like A Candidate

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace last night promised he will be a candidate for president next year unless one of the two major parties agrees "to turn back domestic institutions to the people in the states."

"Pseudo-intellectuals in some unions, some benches, some bull pens and some newspaper editors' offices think the average man can't get up or go to bed without their writing some guidelines for him," Wallace told a cheering crowd of more than 1,000 in Veterans Auditorium.

MANY BACKERS

Bus loads of Wallace supporters — and persons who insisted they were "just curious" — came from all over the Bay Area to the rally held by Wallace's American Independent Party. In case Wallace decides to run, the party hopes to get the necessary 66-059 Californians registered by Jan. 20 to get on the November presidential ballot.

The audience was asked to remain seated after Wallace's 40-minute speech in order to fill out pledges of support, but about one-third left anyway.

HIPPIES BARRED

Before the rally, a group of about 25 hippies was temporarily barred from the hall by Wallace supporters. Police, told the meeting was public, saw to it that everyone was allowed in.

Wallace, standing before a red, white and blue banner which urged "stand up for America," ignored his only heckler, a man who was hustled out a rear door.

Most of the audience applauded frequently and enthusiastically, and gave Wallace standing ovations when he attacked "pseudo-intellectuals, anarchists and communists."

TEACHERS HIT

Wallace's demand that "every college professor advocating victory for the Viet Cong be hauled before a grand jury and indicted" drew the strongest ovation. "There is a difference between honest dissent and overt treason," he declared.

To win all of California's electroal votes, Wallace said, he would need only 34 per cent of the popular vote if two other candidates got 33 per cent each.

"If the politicians don't watch out in 1968," he shouted, "you are going to run over a lot of them."

Declaring "there's not 10 cents of difference between the leadership and attitudes of the national parties," Wallace said his party's registration drive gave voters "an opportunity to make the leadership in both parties pay some attention to the man on the street in California."

Court Upholds Record Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The state Board of Equalization has the right to subpeona all the financial records of a company in setting the valuation of property, according to the California Supreme Court.

The ruling was handed down yesterday in a test of the board's power by the California Portland Cement Co., which refused to provide sales, cost, income and expense information on its limestone quarry and cement mill near Mojave in Kern County.

The company offered the board certain information, such as tons mined and inventory costs, but contended that profit figures were not relevant to the fixing of property values.

Wallace Denies Any Approach To Patrick

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO —George C. Wallace, former governor of Alabama and possible presidential candidate on a third party ticket, yesterday denied that William Penn Patrick has been asked to be his running mate.

"I've met Patrick, and we invite everyone in California to join us, but I don't have a running mate," Wallace told the Independent-Journal in an interview at his hotel.

Wallace's denial flatly contradicted a statement by Patrick on Sept. 5 that he had been "approached" by Wallace's supporters to run with him next year. The San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer told the I-J at that time that he had made no decision on the suggestion.

Wallace said his American Independent Party had "several" persons "in mind," but said none has been approached yet to be his vice presidential running mate. Wallace declined to say whether Patrick was among the persons "in mind."

Another "third party," the Patriotic Party, nominated Wallace and Patrick in July as its candidates for the presidential election. Neither man, however, ever accepted the nomination by the party, which is led by Robert Bolivar DePugh, also leader of the militant right-wing Minutemen.

Innocent Pleas Made To Joint Burglary

Innocent pleas to a joint charge of burglary were entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Raymond Joseph Penoli Jr., 27, and June Elizabeth Bitting, 28.

Non-jury trial was scheduled for Jan. 2. Penoli, of 655 Caal Street, San Rafael, and Mrs. Bitting, of Vallejo, allegedly burgled the vehicle of Robert William Levene of Fair Oaks, Sacramento County, while it was parked at the Lodge near Novato on March 3.

Girl Reported Runaway Again

Valerie Lynn Cornejo, 15, of 1126 Ferris Drive, Novato, was reported as a runaway again today by Novato police.

Valerie has not been seen since she left to attend Novato High School last Friday morning, her father, Ralph B. Cornejo, told Novato police. This is the fourth time that she has run away, according to police reports.

She was described as five feet, seven inches tall, weighing 170 pounds with brown hair and eyes. She took several changes of clothes and her guitar when she left this time, police reported.

Still missing from the Novato area are Sam Lee Ferry Jr. of 47 Washington Street and Robert Lee Folsom of 141 San Carlos Way.

CIA Recruiters Still Welcomed

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University refuses to ban Central Intelligence Agency recruiters from its campus.

Richard W. Lyman, university vice president and provost, said yesterday the CIA will have freedom of speech on the Stanford campus as well as the Students for a Democratic Society, which had asked for the ban.

SDS members said they planned a sit-in at Stanford's placement service tomorrow and Thursday to prevent CIA and Dow Chemical Corp. recruiters from holding job interviews.

Arraignment Held In Morals Charge

Arraignment of Julio Sanchez Garcia, 31, accused of lewd and lascivious behavior with a 13-year-old girl, was held yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Further proceedings were scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Monday. Garcia, of 136 Park Street, San Rafael, is charged with the behavior in San Anselmo Aug. 29. He also is charged with indecent exposure.

Rights Group To Work As Whole With A New Executive Director

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The Marin County Human Rights Commission was in the mood last night to confess its sins and shape up to its apparent inability to keep an executive director for more than a few weeks.

Its cardinal sin, members agreed, was too much interference by individual commissioners not willing to act through the commission as a whole.

In future, a new director will be chosen who is strong enough to be responsible to the commission alone and not to members who wish their pet priorities on him.

The commission was meeting in special session to debate the thorny problem of finding a replacement for Gene T. Orro, who resigned as executive director Sept. 13.

Members also agreed to ask the board of supervisors to create a new position for an assistant to the director. His job will be to act as contact man at community level.

This new move, discussed at length at earlier meetings, was thrown in by Arthur L. Brown at the end of nearly three hours of debate last night.

He said he could not see a director "being all things to all men." Either he was a first class administrator or he was a good man able to generate confidence at community ground level.

He moved for the two-man approach. Members agreed the second officer's salary of $650-$790 would be in addition to executive officer's pay of $870-$1,058 a month.

Troy Lewis was sceptical of hiring a second man. He said the supervisors were going to ask: "If you can't make it with one man, how are you going to make it with two?"

Richard Harding said: "That is one question we must be prepared to answer."

In the meantime, County Administrator Alan Bruce was asked to start the wheels turning immediately for the hiring of an executive director.

Although last night's agenda had called for the forming of a job description, several members conceded they were unable to do so.

Apart from the number of years college education and the number of years of experience required, the meeting agreed to leave the rest "loose."

On the matter of commission policy and priorities, Rev. John J. O'Conner was against the former "buckshot" approach.

He felt that with former executive director Robert B. Brauer, who quit July 31, the priorities were scattered.

Commission members, he said, should not act as staff "going around a community saying they are acting on behalf of the commission." Its job was to develop policy.

In that field, Brown considered some effort should be made to draw up a manual of proceedure policy that a new director could follow. Laurence Mayer, attending his first meeting, said the new man should have some action in the writing of the policy.

Bruce had opened the meeting by reporting recommendations by former director Brauer made at the request of the commission.

He said Bauer had suggested raising the status of the Human Rights Communion by turning it into a department of county government. The executive director, as head of a department, would be appointed by the board of supervisors.

This suggestion got short shrift from the commission. Charles B. Weers said: "It would be a mistake . . . we would become part of the establishment and we would loose the faith of the community."

Black Panther Chief Faces Murder Count

OAKLAND (UPI) — Charges of murder and assault with intent to commit murder were on file today against Black Panther Party leader Huey P. Newton, 25, Oakland.

The murder charge stemmed from the slaying of officer John Frey, 23, who was shot four times Saturday when he halted Newton for a minor traffic violation.

San Franciscan Tells Of Being Kidnaped, Shot

SANTA ROSA (AP) — A San Francisco man has told police a bizarre story of being kidnaped in the Haight-Ashbury district and then being shot and left to die in a heavily wooded area of Sonoma County.

Officers said Russell O. Williams, 26, staggered out of the hills yesterday bleeding from two abdominal wounds. He was taken to Sonoma County Hospital, where his condition was listed as critical with the wounds and infection.

SHOT IN WOODS

Often incoherent, Williams told of being kidnaped Oct. 20 and driven at gunpoint to an isolated area, police reported. Ordered out of the car, he said he was marched into the woods and shot.

A check of the records showed Williams had a prior conviction for sale of narcotics. This brought to his bedside San Francisco police who have been investigating the murders earlier this year of two suspected drug peddlers, Jack Carter and William (Superspade) Thomas.

Homicide Inspector Gus Coreris said officers have known for some time about what he described as rough competition between big-time dope pushers trying to gain control of the Haight-Ashbury market.

Coreris said, however, that he doubted any connection between the shooting of Williams and the Carter and Thomas murders. The latter's body, shot and trussed in a sleeping bag, was found Aug. 6 at the bottom of a cliff at Point Reyes.

"I talked with him yesterday afternoon," said Coreris, "and he was incoherent at times, possibly deliberately so. I could be wrong, but I could see no connection with the other things. Frankly, this guy just doesn't have the class to move in those circles."

Sonoma County authorities said Williams was unable to tell police where his shooting had taken place or how he had managed to survive the 10-day ordeal.

Nuclear Pact Terms Reached

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and all of the Common Market countries except France agreed today on terms of a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons to countries that do not already have them, Atlantic Alliance sources said.

The devlopement cleared the way for a new East-West effort to sign a treaty.

The five Common Market countries who agreed are West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. They had been objecting to the inspection articie in the treaty.

Speed Chase Nets Capture Of Fleeing Burglary Suspect

An alert Sausalito policeman yesterday broke up an apparent house burglary, then chased the fleeing suspect to Tiubron at more than 100 miles per hour before the suspect wrecked his car and was captured.

Melvin Razo, 22, of Berkeley, was booked at county jail for investigation of burglary. No bail was set and he was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Patrolman Robert B. Glynn reported he was patrolling at 11 a.m. when he stopped to check a car parked at 81 Crecienta Drive. As he stopped, there was a crashing noise and a man fled from the house, leaped into the car and sped away.

Glynn chased the car onto Highway 101 and then along Tiburon Boulevard, where a Mill Valley patrol car joined the chase. The fleeing driver tried a left hand turn, but the auto spun into a divider strip and knocked down trees and shrubs at Avenida Miraflores.

Mazo was seized by Glynn and Mill Valley Patrolman Peter Brindley.

At the Crecienta Drive house, residence of Maurice J. Flantzman, police found a window pried and the front door kicked in. Outside the house were clothing, a large jar of coins, and stereophonic phonograph which apparently was dropped by Mazo when he saw the police car, police said.

Stacked inside the house near the door were speakers for the stereo.

What to tell the babysitter?

When you know that she knows where you can always be reached by phone, you'll have a better time. Even if you're planning to be two or three places during the evening, it's a good idea to write down the names of the places, the phone numbers, and the approximate times you'll be there.

And, may we suggest that you have all the emergency numbers, including the family doctor's, written down in the front of your phone book. The sitter should be familiar with these numbers.

Taking this precaution is a very simple matter—and it's one way that your telephone can make a night out just that much more pleasant.

Kuchel Urges Fast Vote On Redwoods

WASHINGTON (AP)— Senate passage of a Redwood National Park bill this year was termed essential today to the preservation of a significant number of the giant trees on the Northern California coast.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., told the Senate its action was required if the lumber companies owning the trees are to continue their voluntary moratorium on cutting.

Kuchel made his plea at the start of Senate debate on a compromise bill to establish a two-unit, 64,000-acre Redwood National Park in Del Norte and Humboldt counties. The park boundary would include three California state parks and private timber land estimated to cost $100 million. The Senate vote on the bill is expected Wednesday.

The senator said Robert O. Dehlendorf, president, Arcata National Corp., has agreed not to cut on his company's 12,508 acres within the proposed park before the end of next year's session of congress.

The four major lumber companies involved originally agreed in September 1966 to a one-year moratorium on cutting within areas under consideration for the park. Since September, the moratorium has been continued on a temporary basis.

Before the senate began debate on the bill, the Chambers of Commerce of Eureka and Arcata, Calif., made public a letter to the Senate urging that action be deferred pending further study.

Russ Dock Probe To Soft Landing

MOSCOW (AP)—Cosmos 186, one of two Soviet unmanned Sputniks which decked and separated yesterday, made a soft landing on earth today at the command of a ground station, an official announcement said.

The use of a soft landing to end the mission seemed to confirm earlier indications that the docking was a rehearsal for a manned flight and the building in orbit of a huge orbiting space platform.

The announcement said Cosmos 186 was brought to an undisclosed spot on earth at 11:20 a.m. Moscow time (12:20 a.m. PST) after "automatic linkup and other scientific tasks."

The other unmanned Sputnik, Cosmos 188, continued to orbit earth, it added.

Earlier in the day the Soviet Union disclosed it had sent up still another satellite—Cosmos 189. It also continued in orbit.

Soviet scientists disclosed that the unmanned spaceship was sent into space yesterday while another Sputnik rocketed up to dock automatically with another unmanned vehicle.

Soviet newspapers hailed the docking as a space first and Moscow newspapers proclaimed "Russians ahead again." But Dr. Edward C. Welsh, the White House's principal space adviser, said the United States has long had the capacity for an unmanned docking but did not bother to use it because of Gemini successes with astronauts at the controls.

Cosmos 189 raised to six the number of unmanned Sputniks put into orbit in six days, an unusual flurry of Soviet space activity on the eve of celebrations of the Bolshevik revolution. There has been speculation the Russians would send up a new manned spaceship for the anniversary.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Cosmos 189 was functionning normally, circling the earth every 95.7 minutes with 332 miles the maximum height of its orbit. No specific mission was announced for the craft, but the Soviets said it was "designed to continue space research."

The new unmanned testing of docking procedures suggested a cautious attitude before cosmanouts are risked in space again. Spaceman Vladimar M. Komarov's death last April is believed by some observers to have occurred in connection with an attempted linkup in his Soyus 1 craft.

Rec Board's Session Reset

Tomorrow night's meeting of Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors has been postponed to 8 p.m. Nov. 8 at the recreation center.

Mrs. Cleo D. Murray, district secretary, said all directors would be unable to attend tonight.

On Nov. 8 directors hope to appoint a new member to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of director Austin Gibbon last month.

Jackie's Jet Delayed For Close Friend

ROME (UPI) —Mrs. John F. Kennedy flew off to the jungles of Cambodia today on an Italian jet that was delayed 20 minutes so Britain's Lord Harlech could join her on the 11-hour flight.

Harlech arrived at Rome's Fiumicino airport from London minutes before Mrs. Kennedy boarded the plane directly from a U.S. embassy car to escape the airport crowd.

Mrs. Kennedy and Harlech, the former William David Ormsby Gore, are to join other friends in Bangkok and are to proceed to the Cambodian capital of Phnom Pehn and ruins of the ancient jungle capital of Angk for a weeks' vacation

Mrs. Kennedy had spent three days in Rome en route to the Far East from New York.

Mrs. Kennedy and her party were to arrive late tomorrow.

The Ministry of Information said today the former first lady had asked that newsmen be kept out of the country during her visit.

Reporters arriving in Phnom Penh were handed an official notice saying they would not be authorized to make written, filmed or photographic reports during Mrs. Kennedy's visit.

Cyclist Hurled 60 Feet; Lives

A 19-year-old San Anselmo youth, hurled more than 60 feet today when his motorcycle was struck from behind by a car in Ross, apparently escaped serious injury, police said.

Bruce S. Adams of 9 Humboldt Avenue was being treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut eyebrow and scraped left hip.

Patrolman Jeff Sousa said Adams' motorcycle was struck from behind while halted for a red light at Lagunitas Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 6:45 a.m. The driver of the car, Rosie Bellotti of 15 Foss Avenue, San Anselmo, was unhurt.

King's Followers Say Klan Perils Jailing

BIRMINGHAM ,Ala. (UPI)— Supporters of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called for an 18-mile march through drizzling rain later today to demonstrate their support for the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, jailed in a nearby town described as a Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

Meanwhile, sources said King was "very comfortable" during his first night of confinement.

King's followers threatened massive demonstrations unless he is transferred to a "safer" jail, but no incidents marked the first night of the civil rights leader's five-day jail sentence for contempt of court.

COMFORT CITED

A source at the jail said King he and three other prisoners in commented on how comfortable his cell were last night. They were fed what the source described only as a "standard" jailhouse breakfast when they awoke today.

One of King's aides charged earlier today that the Bessemer jail where King is being held is unsafe ,and he demanded that the civil rights leader be transferred to the county's main jail in downtown Birmingham.

KLAN COMPLAINT

"Bessemer itself is a stronghold for the Klan," said Bernard Lee, Dr. King's chief personal aide. "I'm sure that many of the police over there are Klan members."

Dr .King and three other civil rights leaders were unexpectedly jailed at Bessemer, 18 miles west of Birmingham, in a branch of the Jefferson County Jail system when they flew here to surrender yesterday to serve five-day jail sentences for contempt of court arising from the 1963 Birmingham civil rights demonstrations.

NEGROES MARCH

Nearly four hundred Negroes marched through a steady rain to the eight-story Jefferson County Courthouse here last night. More marches were threatened in this Southern steel city once described as the most segregated large city in America.

But there was little activity at Bessemer where Dr. King and his brother, The Rev. A. D. King and the Revs. Ralph Abernathy and Wyatt T. Walker were being held in a "dormitory" type cell on the fourth floor.

Novato Unit Wins Honors

A color guard from the Novato Horsemen's Association won first place in the best mixed color guard from a field of 100 entries Friday night at the opening of the 23rd Grand National Horse and Livestock Exposition at the Cow Palace, according to Mrs. Patricia Corwin, club secretary.

The group was attired in purple velvet matching outfits with white shirts, gold hats and gold boots. They rode Palomino horses.

Those on the team were Linda Collins of 1655 Novato Boulevard, Lloyd Loftus of 1848 Indian Valley Road and Oscar and Margaret Montgomery of 720 Sun Lane, all Novato.

Fall From Auto Injures Woman

A Richmond woman suffered cuts and bruises yesterday when she fell from a car being driven along Highway 101 in San Rafael, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Lillie McCall, 28, told officers she fell when the passenger door opened as the car was passing the corporation yard on Francisco Boulevard.

Driver Huey Williams of 112 Ross Street, San Rafael carried the injured woman back to his car and took her for treatment to Marin General Hospital.

OFF TO SAN DIEGO

Old Salts Sail Again

By ALLAN JONES

While most of us were still asleep or groping for the alarm clock this morning, a white-hulled ketch was tiptoeing her way along the Sausalito shore and out the Golden Gate en route to a winter in San Diego.

On board the 38-foot Makai are two of the sturdiest old salts Sausalito has known — Constance Hitchcock and Eric Johnston, who have been sailing together ever since they bought a 19-foot sloop in San Jose in 1935 and spent a summer on the south bay "waist deep in water pushing her off mud flats" learning to sail.

She is the boat the pair sailed on a two-year voyage to Tahiti in 1954. Mrs. Hitchcock was only 65 then and Johnston approximately the same age. That puts both of them well into their 70s today, although the casual observer would call it a lie. Both are sunbrowned and far too agile to be septuagenarians.

This winter's trip to San Diego will be nothing like the open-ocean sail to Tahiti. The Makai will spend six months in San Diego, anchoring at the San Diego Yacht Club and taking short sails along the California and Baja coast.

The trip back will start in March, but "not past Arguello and Point Conception until April, thank you," Mrs. Hitchcock said. The Makai got her first dose of heavy ocean weather there starting the Tahiti trip — 50 solid hours hove to in 60 and 70 knot winds.

Mrs. Hitchcock must run a happy ship. She said that everyone who has ever crewed on the Makai has been willing to do it again. And on cruises "that's not always the case, I assure you," she said.

Case in point is Robert Anderson, third member of the crew for the voyage to San Diego. Anderson, a San Francisco insurance executive, was crewman on the long voyage to Tahiti 13 years ago.

He had been out of the Bay Area for several years, but when he returned a few months ago he volunteered to crew for the San Diego run and has taken a month off for the trip.

Mrs. Hitchcock is the navigator. She took a merchant seaman's course in navigation in the 1940s, and is "very proud of the fact that I've never missed a landfall."

Johnston and Mrs. Hitchcock are both ex-newspaper reporters. She quit her job with International News Service in 1954 to make the Tahiti voyage. She also worked for the San Francisco Examiner for several years.

She and Johnston bought the Makai in the spring of 1941, planning to make ocean voyages in her, but Pearl Harbor delayed their plans. After sailing nowhere but inside San Francisco Bay during the war, they broke out in 1964 and sailed to Hawaii on a six-month trip.

They later sailed around Baja California and through the Gulf of California on a leisurely trip. In all, the Makai has logged 30,000 miles of ocean sailing since they bought her.

The Makai is exactly the sort of boat for Johnston and Connie Hitchcock. Built in a different era, she carries her age well and appears to be just in her prime. She is built of hardwoods, not fiberglass, and the only major concession to modernity appears to be her dacron sails.

All the indications are that she and the people aboard her will be seen sailing at Sausalito and other salt water ports for a long

San Mateo Remapping Line Asked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — This city's congressional district lines should be extended into San Mateo County, not Marin County, the Assembly Interim Committee on Elections and Reapportionment was told yesterday.

Among proponents of the southward move was Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi, R-Redwood City. Rather than shift Republican Rep. William S. Mailliard's district into Marin, Democratic Rep. Phillip Burton's district should move south, he said.

Northern San Mateo and San Francisco "have a great deal of community interest," Britschgi told the committee..

However, his alternative to lumping central and southern Marin residents in a San Francisco district ignored the fact that the First Congressional District, which includes Marin, still would have some 535,000 residents, way over the ideal of 414,000.

The state Supreme Court said it will allow deviations up to 15 per cent from the ideal district of 414,000, so the first district must be reapportioned in some way.

The committee is preparing a reapportionment plan to present to the legislature when it meets in special session on Monday. The legislature has until Dec. 7 to agree on a plan or see the state Supreme Court reapportion the state under its own plan.

If Marin must be split by reapportionment, it should be divided by an east-west line from Lucas Valley to West Marin, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, told the committee Friday.

Trial Continued In Burglary Case

Jury trial of Henry Earl Crutchfield, 18, and Morlin Smith, 20, both accused of burglary, was continued from today to 10 a.m. Nov. 14 in Marin Superior Court because a witness is ill.

Judge Thomas F. Keating granted the delay when told that Edward Klementovich Sr., assistant identification supervisor of the sheriff's office, was unable to testify. Crutchfield and Smith, both of Marin City, are charged with the June 16 burglary of the home of Andrew S. Cowie at 1135 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera.

MARIN'S DUE FOR SUMMERY NOVEMBER DAY

The late fall warmth, in which Marin has been basking, is expected to continue for a least another day in the Bay Area.

Temperatures in the 80s and 90s were predicted for tomorroe by the Weather Bureau. The balmy weather is result of gentle winds from inland, rather than the more usual cooling breezes from the sea.

Even the bay waters were rather warm, with a 61.6 degree water temperature reported off Tiburon by the Tiburon Marine Laboratory. That temperature is not unusual for this time of year, a laboratory spokesman said.

High temperatures yesterday in Marin were, in Sausalito, 84; Mill Valley, 80; Tamalpais Valley, 83; Bolinas, 82; Novato, 77; San Anselmo, 82.

Jury Trial Set In Seminarian's Sanctuary Case

Robert E. Davisson, a student at San Francisco Theological Seminary, accused of preventing San Francisco police officers from searching a church for a group of youths, Sept. 11, is slated for a jury trial.

At a hearing in San Francisco Municipal Court yesterday, the charge against Davisson was reduced to conspiracy to aid and abet individuals suspected of petty theft, the court reported. The original charge stated "... individuals suspected of committing a felony."

Davisson requested a jury trial and his case was transferred to Department 11 at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Police reported that Davisson resisted police attempts to enter Olivet Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, when they were searching for youths they suspected of entering the church.

Mill Valley Youth Is Still Missing

Sheriff's officers reported that Charles C. Ayers, 16, son of Benjamin A. Ayers of 168 Janes Street, Mill Valley, is still missing today after running away from home Sunday.

The youth was described as about six feet tall, weighing 165 pounds, and wearing a light blue shirt and denim trousers. The boy left after a reprimand for using the family car without permission, deputies said.

Haight Medical Clinic Hoping To Establish Center In Marin

By ELLEN BRY

The Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic hopes to have an affiliate in Marin, a center to offer knowledgable and sympathetic counsel to teen-agers — and their parents — about youthful problems, particularly drug use.

The emphasis the center comes to have will depend on the needs of Marinites, but it probably will not be primarily medical, said Dr. Robert L. Morris of Kentfield, chairman of the executive committee of the volunteer Haight-Ashbury clinic. The clinic in San Francisco will reopen tomorrow after having been closed for a month for lack of donations. Morris is a pathologist at Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

He envisions the Marin center as a meeting place where teen-agers can find someone who will level with them about drugs, particularly methedrine and its effects. Morris sees methedrine as one of the more dangerous drugs, one being taken more and more frequently by high school-age students.

Morris believes that teen-agers will have more confidence in the staff of a volunteer center because its workers would be considered more "committed" than physicians, social workers or psychologists being paid for their work.

As Rev. Karel F. Botermans, pastor of the Universalist Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin, put it, the center would not be "establishment."

"It would be staffed by young people and adults who care for the kids just because they care for the kids — not because they're paid," he said.

Bothermans heads a steering committee trying to organize the center in Marin and seeking headquarters for it. The center's aim would be to aid teen-agers before they come in touch with the establishment such as police, deputies, probation officers, or school officials, Dr. Morris said.

Part of the service offered by the center might be talks with parents about their children, trying to get at the entire "environment" of the teen-ager, Morris explained. One way might be a parents' night when no teen-agers are allowed, when parents could talk of their problems and anxieties.

Morris, Botermans, prospective volunteers and others from the Haight-Ashbury Center will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday at the church in San Rafael to outline more plans for a center.

Donations to operate the center may be contributed in care of the church.

Bach Motet To Perform Sunday

The Marin Regional Council of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation and the Congregational Church of Tiburon will sponsor the Bach Motet Singers and String Orchestra in a concert at 5 p.m. Sunday in the sanctuary of the church.

Director is Dr. Waldemar Jacobsen, who is also director of the San Francisco Bach Choir. Featured works in the concert of choral instrumental chamber music will be those of composers Albinoni, Fasch, Bach and Kodaly.

Refreshemnts will be served. There will also be an exhibit of San Francisco artist Walter Schmidt's work in enamel, collage, oil and stained glass.

Tax Reductions To 87 Owners

The Marin County Assessment Appeals Board has granted tax reductions to 87 property owners this far, during the six Friday hearings held since Sept. 22.

Total reductions amount to $53,880 in assessed valuation, or about $5,400 in tax money.

Of the 124 cases decided, 87 were reduced and 37 were unchanged. This leaves about 780 other appeals to be scheduled by next July, when the hearings are expected to end.

The board meets each Friday for all-day hearings beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Arraignment Is Set On Marijuana

Five members and managers of the Grateful Dead rock band, who lived in Lagunitas for a year to get away from the nerve-wracking city, are to be arraigned Thursday in San Francisco Superior Court on charges of possessing marijuana.

The charges were filed after a raid Oct. 2 on the group's house in San Francisco, where they returned a year ago. Indictments were returned by a San Francisco Grand Jury on Oct. 19.

To be arraigned are Rod McKernan, 22; Robert Weir, 19; Robert Matthews, 19; Rock Scully, 26; Daniel Rifkin, 23; and four women in the house at the time of the raid.

Richardson Bay Span Collision Injures Five

Five persons were injured last night in a two-car collision at the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge on Highway 101, California Highway Patrol reported today.

A car, driven by Floyd B. Trombetta, 70, of Santa Rosa, was travelling north at 60 miles per hour when it hit the second car broadside as it straddled two lanes, the patrol said.

Driver of the second car, Erika B. Meeuwsen, 41, of 801 Meadowsweet, Corte Madera was ejected from the vehicle and suffered concussion, cuts and scrapes. She was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Trombetta and his wife, Eda Trombetta, 67, were both in fair condition at the hospital. He had multiple cuts and she suffered a fractured right knee, scrapes and bruises.

Passengers in the Trombetta car, James and Caroline Regalia of 530 Fairway Drive, Novato, were treated for leg scrapes and bruises.

Tires Are Stolen

When he left his garage open and unattended between 7:15 and 7:30 p.m. yesterday someone took four magnesium wheels and tires, valued at $278, Frank R. Silva, 20, of 837 Sweetser Avenue, reported to Novato police. Silva is the son of Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva, same address.

OFF TO SAN DIEGO

Old Salts Sail Again

By ALLAN JONES

While most of us were still asleep or groping for the alarm clock this morning, a white-hulled ketch was tiptoeing her way along the Sausalito shore and out the Golden Gate en route to a winter in San Diego.

On board the 38-foot Makai are two of the sturdiest old salts Sausalito has known — Constance Hitchcock and Eric Johnston, who have been sailing together ever since they bought a 19-foot sloop in San Jose in 1935 and spent a summer on the south bay "waist deep in water pushing her off mud flats" learning to sail.

She is the boat the pair sailed on a two-year voyage to Tahiti in 1954. Mrs. Hitchcock was only 65 then and Johnston approximately the same age. That puts both of them well into their 70s today, although the casual observer would call it a lie. Both are sunbrowned and far too agile to be septuagenarians.

This winter's trip to San Diego will be nothing like the open-ocean sail to Tahiti. The Makai will spend six months in San Diego, anchoring at the San Diego Yacht Club and taking short sails along the California and Baja coast.

The trip back will start in March, but "not past Arguello and Point Conception until April, thank you," Mrs. Hitchcock said. The Makai got her first dose of heavy ocean weather there starting the Tahiti trip — 50 solid hours hove to in 60 and 70 knot winds.

Mrs. Hitchcock must run a happy ship. She said that everyone who has ever crewed on the Makai has been willing to do it again. And on cruises "that's not always the case, I assure you," she said.

Case in point is Robert Anderson, third member of the crew for the voyage to San Diego. Anderson, a San Francisco insurance executive, was crewman on the long voyage to Tahiti 13 years ago.

He had been out of the Bay Area for several years, but when he returned a few months ago he volunteered to crew for the San Diego run and has taken a month off for the trip.

Mrs. Hitchcock is the navigator. She took a merchant seaman's course in navigation in the 1940s, and is "very proud of the fact that I've never missed a landfall."

Johnston and Mrs. Hitchcock are both ex-newspaper reporters. She quit her job with International News Service in 1954 to make the Tahiti voyage. She also worked for the San Francisco Examiner for several years.

She and Johnston bought the Makai in the spring of 1941, planning to make ocean voyages in her, but Pearl Harbor delayed their plans. After sailing nowhere but inside San Francisco Bay during the war, they broke out in 1964 and sailed to Hawaii on a six-month trip.

EXECUTIVE CAR
'67 BUICK SPECIAL
$2695

Here's a little Special Deluxe 4-Dr. that we've used here at our company during the past eight months. It was used almost exclusively as a personal car by our used car sales manager.

Just over 6,000 miles but you'd never know it had any miles at all when you look at it. Light green mist with matching full vinyl interior. Fully equipped including automatic. V-8 engine, radio, heater, power steering, etc.

Never licensed so you would be the first and only owner of record. This car carries the full 5-year or 50,000-mile General Motors new-car guarantee even though it has 6,000 miles.

Sticker price on the window is $3209. Kelly Blue Book shows a used vehicle of like model and equipment should sell for $2810 without any guarantee. We'll sell this car for only $2695 with the full new-car guarantee.

EXECUTIVE CAR
'67 BUICK SPECIAL
$2695

Here's a little Special Deluxe 4-Dr. that we've used here at our company during the past eight months. It was used almost exclusively as a personal car by our used car sales manager.

Just over 6,000 miles but you'd never know it had any miles at all when you look at it. Light green mist with matching full vinyl interior. Fully equipped including automatic. V-8 engine, radio, heater, power steering, etc.

Never licensed so you would be the first and only owner of record. This car carries the full 5-year or 50,000-mile General Motors new-car guarantee even though it has 6,000 miles.

Sticker price on the window is $3209. Kelly Blue Book shows a used vehicle of like model and equipment should sell for $2810 without any guarantee. We'll sell this car for only $2695 with the full new-car guarantee.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Newscasts Trying Novel Approaches

By RICK DUBROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The people who guide the half-hour evening newscasts of CBS-TV and NBC-TV are trying their hand at several devices that deserve encouragement.

At CBS-TV, as Walter Cronkite noted on his program last night reported Charles Kuralt is roaming about with a camera crew, looking for stories that might not otherwise come to major attention on video.

RIGHT DIRECTION

Yesterday, for instance, Kuralt had a story about a town that was taking practical steps to show its gratefulness to a pilot who was killed in a crash but managed to avoid bringing death or destruction to inhabitants and their homes.

There is nothing television can use more than techniques to reach viewers more personally, more humanly, more directly—to share experiences with them. And Kuralt's story was definitely in the right direction.

It would,in fact, be even more disarming and encouraging if, in coming across such stories—and there are millions of them—network newsmen saw the potential occasionally for expanding them to 30-minute or one-hour prime time features, and were given the go-ahead.

AIR TALKS

On NBC-TV's Huntley-Brinkley Report, meanwhile, contributing editors have been given added prominence, with the result that there have been more on-the-air talks among them in order to provide a deeper perspective than that of a spot headline.

And this is certainly a direction that thoughtful persons must consider encouraging.

Last May, we quoted from a brilliant article by British journalist Henry Fairlie in the spring number of Horizone Magazine, in which the point was suggested that, given the potent effect of television pictures, the "words covering them must provide the corrective." Some other quotes from Fairlie might be worth noting here:

TV REPORTING

"Most television reporting," he said, "just describes the pictures, and by doing so, reinforces them. But the object of words in television news should be to distract from the pictures, to say: 'It was not quite so. This was not the whole story.'"

Whereas pictures simplify, added Fairlie, "the object of words should to be supply qualification and complication." The vital role of video reporters and commentators, he suggested, is "to make watching as difficult as reading, to invite the viewer to make comparisons and judgments from his own experience...life is not made up of dramatic incidents—not even the life of a nation. It is made up of slowly evolving events and processes."

$220,000 Asked For Crime Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police Chief Thomas Cahill asked the board of supervisors yesterday for permission to use $220,000 in unbudgeted funds for police overtime to combat a rapid growth of crime.

Cahill said the city's September crime reports showed 3,781 non-narcotic felonies, a 50 per cent increase over September of 1966. The largest classes were 1,526 burglaries, up 75 per cent, and 1,138 auto thefts, up 54 per cent.

The chief said the extra money would be used to pay officers who would work an extra watch each week. The funds were allocated for the salaries of 40 unfilled positions in the police department.

The supervisors referred the matter to their finance committee.

Thoresen Gun Trial Is Reset

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The trial of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Thoresen III on charges of federal firearms Act violations has been delayed again by a federal judge.

The wealthy couple was arrested after more than 70 tons of munitions were seized at their Pacific Heights home and other locations throughout the Bay Area. Their trial has been delayed several times.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert C. Wollenberg, in a closed chambers sessions yesterday, set a new trial date of Jan. 15 and continued without ruling on a request by attorney J. W. Ehrlich that he be allowed to withdraw from the case.

The nation's air conditioning industry predicts sales will reach $3.5 billion this year, nearly a 7 per cent increase over 1966.

Sunday School Teacher Wins Suspension Fuss

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — James C. Hicks, a deacon in Wesleyan Methodist Church, told his employers he wouldn't be available for overtime work last Sunday because he had to teach his Sunday school class.

Yesterday morning when he turned up for his paint-spraying job at Limitorque Corp., a valve-making firm, Hicks learned he had been suspended for three days. Very quickly, the word got around.

At 2:30 p.m., 275 fellow workers stalked off the job. After three hours of talks bewteen the company and Machinists Union Local 958, Hicks was reinstated, and everybody went back to work.

Gallery Hit By $100,000 Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fire swept through a storeroom of the Cory Art Gallery today and caused damage estimated at $100,000 to paintings of Pat Cucaro, nationally known San Francisco artist.

Owner Edward J. Cory said the oils had been assembled for a one-man Cucaro show opening Friday. Most of the damage was from smoke and water and the paintings might be restorable, he said, but this would take time to determine.

The flames srpead up the back wall of the adjoining Hotel Devonshire, and damage there amounted to $15,000, firemen said.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Children Learn Of Friendship Through Experience In Playing

VAN DELLEN

Joan Anglund wrote: "A friend is someone who likes you." The desire to be liked is in all of us. No matter how young, every child needs and is capable of friendship. Through companionship, loyalty, forgiveness, and devotion are fostered.

Sharing is a learned experience. Healthful play is important in molding character. Warm relationships strengthen the child's self-esteem. He learns that there are other persons to think about. Play is more than just a way to occupy time; it is learning.

NOT ALL youngsters are cast from the same mold. The shy boy or girl who prefers solitude often has a hard time making friends.

The same is true when selecting recreational activities for these children. Diversions that appeal to an introvert will not please the gregarious child.

Any mother knows that it takes real ingenuity and planning to amuse children. Toys and books help, but even a roomful are worthless unless the youngster knows how to use them.

Treasures are more meaningful when Junior can share them. Often a parent purchases an expensive toy only to find that the child is fascinated with an empty box, wooden spoons, an old hat, and pots or keys.

Imagination develops the personality, but it should not be carried to extremes. When the world of make-believe is preferred to reality, explain to Junior that he has only been pretending.

Scrappers present a special problem. Such a child learns in time that hitting is not acceptable behavior. Very often this point is brought home to him via a retaliative push from his chum.

THE WISE mother does not intercede in every free-for-all. When quarrelsome voices are raised, chances are that there is a modicum of right and wrong on each side.

She knows that in 10 minutes the youngsters will be bosom buddies. Extend a helping hand, but be careful not to become overprotective. This stifles self-reliance.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Independent-Journal).

KIDNEY DISEASE

Mrs. A. writes: When the kidneys are diseased do the eyes suffer?

REPLY

Puffiness of the eyelids may occur during the acute stage of Bright's disease as part of a more generalized dropsy. In chronic forms of kidney disease there may be changes in the retina, particularly if the blood pressure goes up and the arteries become involved.

NORMAL GIRL

E. O. writes: I'm 15 years old and have been menstruating for three years. All my girl friends complain of headache, nervousness, and cramps during their period but I feel fine and have no discomfort. Do I have something wrong with me because I have no symptoms?

REPLY

No. You are lucky and, if anything more normal than your friends.

OLD CYSTS

S. P. writes: I've had sebaceous cysts in a nonfriction area for 20 years which have not become larger. Is it better to ignore them or have them removed?

REPLY

Don't bother them if they don't bother you.

ALLERGIC

P. E. writes: If a person is allergic to milk, will he be allergic to calcium pills, too?

REPLY

No. Sensitivity to milk stems from its protein rather than its calcium content.

Hereditary Abnormalities And Prolonged Use Of LSD

TORONTO (UPI)—Clinical research shows that repeated and prolonged use of LSD can produce the same hereditary abnormalities as thalidomide, a Canadian researcher said today.

David Archibald, executive director of the Ontario Addiction Research Foundation here, said a study has showed there is "clear evidence" usage of the hallucinogenic drug "can definitely have the same effect as thalidomide."

LSD'S EFFECT

Thalidomide several years ago was discovered to radically affect chromosomes of some pregnant women, causing often severe and crippling mutations among offspring.

The research on LSD's effect on chromosomes came as an offshoot of an 18-month study by four Toronto doctors into the possible use of LSD in combating alcoholism.

The study showed, the researchers said, that the so-called mind expanding drug is "useless" in treatment of alcoholics. The test involved use of LSD among members of one group, and using another set of alcoholics as a control group. In the group taking LSD, all relapsed to previous levels of alcoholism. Four in the control group were said to be "cured" of their chronic drunkenness, the report said.

DEEPER PROBE

It was during this concentrated study that certain manifestations of LSD became apparent, Archibald said, touching off several secondary investigations into the hallucinatory drug.

A paper will be published in November in the journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Archibald said, which will delineate the dangerous side effects of LSD, including damage to chromosomes during pregnancy.

Archibald said that the relationship has not yet been firmly established between the quantity of Lsd taken and the chromosomological aberrations.

"It cannot be said that everyone would be affected in the same way," Archibald said.

He disclosed that the inquiry did not show whether a specific amount of LSD would effect the heredity of all users.

SAME RESULT

"We do know, though," Archibald said, "That the drug can definitely have the same effect as thalidomide."

The four doctors who researched the effects of LSD on curing alcholics said that the drugs is "so dangerous it should be restricted purely to medical research under strictist clinical controls."

Missing Men Found Murdered

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Two Midwest businessmen were shot in the head, a coroner's report said today.

Coroner Londa Anderson said Robert F. Stucker, 30, and Larry W. Olinger, 33, both of Jackson, Wyo., were killed and then buried in a grave 35 miles southeast of Reno in the desert.

The men were reported missing shortly after they checked out of a Reno motel Aug. 22. Their decomposed bodies were found Sunday.

UCLA Surpasses Berkeley's Count

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The University of California's Berkeley campus has lost its place as the most heavily student-populated school in the system.

University officials said today that UCLA surpassed the Berkeley campus enrollment this fall, jumping by 2,172—8.1 per cent—to 29,070. Berkeley's enrollment reached 28,863, up 1,779—6.6 per cent— during the same period.

Pope's Temperature Returns To Normal

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Joan Anglund wrote: "A friend is someone who likes you." The desire to be liked is in all of us. No matter how young, every child needs and is capable of friendship. Through companionship, loyalty, forgiveness, and devotion are fostered.

Sharing is a learned experience. Healthful play is important in molding character. Warm relationships strengthen the child's self-esteem. He learns that there are other persons to think about. Play is more than just a way to occupy time; it is learning.

NOT ALL youngsters are cast from the same mold. The shy boy or girl who prefers solitude often has a hard time making friends.

The same is true when selecting recreational activities for these children. Diversions that appeal to an introvert will not please the gregarious child.

Any mother knows that it takes real ingenuity and planning to amuse children. Toys and books help, but even a roomful are worthless unless the youngster knows how to use them.

Treasures are more meaningful when Junior can share them. Often a parent purchases an expensive toy only to find that the child is fascinated with an empty box, wooden spoons, an old hat, and pots or keys.

Imagination develops the personality, but it should not be carried to extremes. When the world of make-believe is preferred to reality, explain to Junior that he has only been pretending.

Scrappers present a special problem. Such a child learns in time that hitting is not acceptable behavior. Very often this point is brought home to him via a retaliative push from his chum.

THE WISE mother does not intercede in every free-for-all. When quarrelsome voices are raised, chances are that there is a modicum of right and wrong on each side.

She knows that in 10 minutes the youngsters will be bosom buddies. Extend a helping hand, but be careful not to become overprotective. This stifles self-reliance.

KIDNEY DISEASE

Mrs. A. writes: When the kidneys are diseased do the eyes suffer?

REPLY

Puffiness of the eyelids may occur during the acute stage of Bright's disease as part of a more generalized dropsy. In chronic forms of kidney disease there may be changes in the retina, particularly if the blood pressure goes up and the arteries become involved.

NORMAL GIRL

E. O. writes: I'm 15 years old and have been menstruating for three years. All my girl friends complain of headache, nervousness, and cramps during their period but I feel fine and have no discomfort. Do I have something wrong with me because I have no symptoms?

REPLY

No. You are lucky and, if anything more normal than your friends.

OLD CYSTS

S. P. writes: I've had sebaceous cysts in a nonfriction area for 20 years which have not become larger. Is it better to ignore them or have them removed?

REPLY

Don't bother them if they don't bother you.

ALLERGIC

P. E. writes: If a person is allergic to milk, will he be allergic to calcium pills, too?

REPLY

No. Sensitivity to milk stems from its protein rather than its calcium content.

Hereditary Abnormalities And Prolonged Use Of LSD

TORONTO (UPI)—Clinical research shows that repeated and prolonged use of LSD can produce the same hereditary abnormalities as thalidomide, a Canadian researcher said today.

David Archibald, executive director of the Ontario Addiction Research Foundation here, said a study has showed there is "clear evidence" usage of the hallucinogenic drug "can definitely have the same effect as thalidomide."

LSD'S EFFECT

Thalidomide several years ago was discovered to radically affect chromosomes of some pregnant women, causing often severe and crippling mutations among offspring.

The research on LSD's effect on chromosomes came as an offshoot of an 18-month study by four Toronto doctors into the possible use of LSD in combating alcoholism.

The study showed, the researchers said, that the so-called mind expanding drug is "useless" in treatment of alcoholics. The test involved use of LSD among members of one group, and using another set of alcoholics as a control group. In the group taking LSD, all relapsed to previous levels of alcoholism. Four in the control group were said to be "cured" of their chronic drunkenness, the report said.

DEEPER PROBE

It was during this concentrated study that certain manifestations of LSD became apparent, Archibald said, touching off several secondary investigations into the hallucinatory drug.

A paper will be published in November in the journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Archibald said, which will delineate the dangerous side effects of LSD, including damage to chromosomes during pregnancy.

Archibald said that the relationship has not yet been firmly established between the quantity of Lsd taken and the chromosomological aberrations.

"It cannot be said that everyone would be affected in the same way," Archibald said.

He disclosed that the inquiry did not show whether a specific amount of LSD would effect the heredity of all users.

SAME RESULT

"We do know, though," Archibald said, "Tnat the drug can definitely have the same effect as thalidomide."

The four doctors who researched the effects of LSD on curing alcholics said that the drugs is "so dangerous it should be restricted purely to medical research under strictist clinical controls."

UCLA Surpasses Berkeley's Count

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The University of California's Berkeley campus has lost its place as the most heavily student-populated school in the system.

University officials said today that UCLA surpassed the Berkeley campus enrollment this fall, jumping by 2,172—8.1 per cent—to 29,070. Berkeley's enrollment reached 28,863, up 1,779—6.6 per cent— during the same period.

Missing Men Found Murdered

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Two Midwest businessmen were shot in the head, a coroner's report said today.

Coroner Londa Anderson said Robert F. Stucker, 30, and Larry W. Olinger, 33, both of Jackson, Wyo., were killed and then buried in a grave 35 miles southeast of Reno in the desert.

The men were reported missing shortly after they checked out of a Reno motel Aug. 22. Their decomposed bodies were found Sunday.

Pope's Temperature Returns To Normal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Informants reported today that Pope Paul's temperature has returned to normal.

They said he had resumed light activity while preparing for surgery to correct a prostate condition. No date for the operation has been announced. Sources said it would be around Nov. 10.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Newscasts Trying Novel Approaches

By RICK DUBROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The people who guide the half-hour evening newscasts of CBS-TV and NBC-TV are trying their hand at several devices that deserve encouragement.

At CBS-TV, as Walter Cronkite noted on his program last night reported Charles Kuralt is roaming about with a camera crew, looking for stories that might not otherwise come to major attention on video.

RIGHT DIRECTION

Yesterday, for instance, Kuralt had a story about a town that was taking practical steps to show its gratefulness to a pilot who was killed in a crash but managed to avoid bringing death or destruction to inhabitants and their homes.

There is nothing television can use more than techniques to reach viewers more personally, more humanly, more directly—to share experiences with them. And Kuralt's story was definitely in the right direction.

It would,in fact, be even more disarming and encouraging if, in coming across such stories—and there are millions of them—network newsmen saw the potential occasionally for expanding them to 30-minute or one-hour prime time features, and were given the go-ahead.

AIR TALKS

On NBC-TV's Huntley-Brinkley Report, meanwhile, contributing editors have been given added prominence, with the result that there have been more on-the-air talks among them in order to provide a deeper perspective than that of a spot headline.

And this is certainly a direction that thoughtful persons must consider encouraging.

Last May, we quoted from a brilliant article by British journalist Henry Fairlie in the spring number of Horizone Magazine, in which the point was suggested that, given the potent effect of television pictures, the "words covering them must provide the corrective." Some other quotes from Fairlie might be worth noting here:

TV REPORTING

"Most television reporting," he said, "just describes the pictures, and by doing so, reinforces them. But the object of words in television news should be to distract from the pictures, to say: 'It was not quite so. This was not the whole story.'"

Whereas pictures simplify, added Fairlie, "the object of words should to be supply qualification and complication." The vital role of video reporters and commentators, he suggested, is "to make watching as difficult as reading, to invite the viewer to make comparisons and judgments from his own experience...life is not made up of dramatic incidents—not even the life of a nation. It is made up of slowly evolving events and processes."

$220,000 Asked For Crime Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police Chief Thomas Cahill asked the board of supervisors yesterday for permission to use $220,000 in unbudgeted funds for police overtime to combat a rapid growth of crime.

Cahill said the city's September crime reports showed 3,781 non-narcotic felonies, a 50 per cent increase over September of 1966. The largest classes were 1,526 burglaries, up 75 per cent, and 1,138 auto thefts, up 54 per cent.

The chief said the extra money would be used to pay officers who would work an extra watch each week. The funds were allocated for the salaries of 40 unfilled positions in the police department.

The supervisors referred the matter to their finance committee.

Thoresen Gun Trial Is Reset

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The trial of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Thoresen III on charges of federal firearms Act violations has been delayed again by a federal judge.

The wealthy couple was arrested after more than 70 tons of munitions were seized at their Pacific Heights home and other locations throughout the Bay Area. Their trial has been delayed several times.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert C. Wollenberg, in a closed chambers sessions yesterday, set a new trial date of Jan. 15 and continued without ruling on a request by attorney J. W. Ehrlich that he be allowed to withdraw from the case.

The nation's air conditioning industry predicts sales will reach $3.5 billion this year, nearly a 7 per cent increase over 1966.

Sunday School Teacher Wins Suspension Fuss

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — James C. Hicks, a deacon in Wesleyan Methodist Church, told his employers he wouldn't be available for overtime work last Sunday because he had to teach his Sunday school class.

Yesterday morning when he turned up for his paint-spraying job at Limitorque Corp., a valve-making firm, Hicks learned he had been suspended for three days. Very quickly, the word got around.

At 2:30 p.m., 275 fellow workers stalked off the job. After three hours of talks bewteen the company and Machinists Union Local 958, Hicks was reinstated, and everybody went back to work.

Gallery Hit By $100,000 Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fire swept through a storeroom of the Cory Art Gallery today and caused damage estimated at $100,000 to paintings of Pat Cucaro, nationally known San Francisco artist.

Owner Edward J. Cory said the oils had been assembled for a one-man Cucaro show opening Friday. Most of the damage was from smoke and water and the paintings might be restorable, he said, but this would take time to determine.

The flames srpead up the back wall of the adjoining Hotel Devonshire, and damage there amounted to $15,000, firemen said.

Napa Builder Given High School Contract

A $1,651,453 contract was awarded last night to Royce Hall Co. of Napa to construct the San Marin High School by the Novato Unified School District board.

The board previously had voted unanimously to allow E. C. Anderson Inc. of San Francisco to withdraw its bid. Anderson's bid was the apparent low one when bids were opened last Thursday. However, a $91,000 mistake was found in the Anderson bid and he asked to withdraw it at a special board meeting last Thursday night.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney gave his written opinion to the board that it had to allow Anderson to withdraw his bid.

Hall's bid, which then became the low bid of the remaining four, was within the $1,654,000 allowed by the state for the job.

The contract awarded by the board was for the base bid with the alternates to be worked out between the district staff and the staff of the state Office of Local Assistance.

Hall's bids on some of the alternates were higher than the state allows. Supt. James G. Bunker and architect Richard Banwell will go to Sacramento tomorrow to discuss the alternates with the staff of the local assistance office.

If the staff gives its approval this week, work on the building could start next week. If it must wait until the meeting of the state Allocations Board on Nov. 14, construction cannot get started until after the middle of November, Banwell told the board.

Drug Case To Juvenile Court

Case of Joan Anita Mann, 19, accused of selling marijuana, was transferred yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to juvenile court.

Miss Mann, of 313 Via Hildago, Greenbrae, and William George Moore, 36, of 58 Johnson Street, Sausalito, allegedly sold undercover agents marijuana Sept. 4 in Sausalito.

Moore was arraigned Sept. 7 and further proceedings are pending.

Fairfax Gets Gas Tax Fund

The Fairfax City Council passed a resolution last night to release $65,768 in gas tax money to the community from State Highway Division funds.

The amount includes $39,000 in accumulated reserves and $26,768 which will be Fairfax's share of the gas tax money for the remainder of this year.

A change in the law has transferred municipal gas tax money to another fund within the state system, and Fairfax was one of a number of California communities which had to pass a resolution to free the money.

In passing the resolution last night, the Fairfax council noted that the money has been budgeted for general road purposes in the town, but not specifically earmarked.

Drunken Driving

Robert Mac Gallaway, 30, of 107 E Stadium Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $200 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. Mill Valley police arrested him July 4 on Miller Avenue.

Fairfax Master Plan Session Turns Into A Lively Forum

What was meant to be a reasoned, routine discussion of access roads, zoning and other aspects of Fairfax's master plan became a donnybrook last night when a city councilman said he thought it would be a "blessing" if one of the women in the audience would move out of Fairfax.

The member of the audience, Mrs. Antoinette Ghiringhelli of 365 Bolinas Road, had been complaining during the meeting that the councilmen were just going ahead on the master plan without consulting the taxpayers about it.

"But that's all right," said Mrs. Ghiringhelli. "I'm moving out of Fairfax."

"That'll be a blessing," said Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Arrigoni stood up to leave the meeting in the Fairfax Women's Club, commenting, "I'm not going to sit here and listen to her propaganda."

Mrs. Ghiringhelli replied, "You're a liar and you were born one. You're too small to listen. That's what your trouble is."

As Arrigoni made an impatient move to depart, Mrs. Ghiringhelli added, "I'm not taking this from you, Arrigoni. I'm known to be honest and above board and Arrigoni is known to be a damned liar. He has been calling the taxpayers arrogant, ignorant and stupid."

Other members of the Fairfax city administration also came in for criticism from the audience at their planning discussion.

The angry Mrs. Ghiringhelli stopped Fairfax planning commission member Leo Cronin at the door and said, "You'd better watch out. I haven't started on you. I know all about your family."

The councilmen did manage to discuss business access roads, zoning and other aspects of the proposed master plan for the town, but took no action at the study session.

Albert Solnit, chief of advanced planning for Marin County Planning Commission. The Fairfax Planning Commission will hold its final hearing on the plan on Nov. 16, before submitting its recommendations to the city council.

Prison Terms On Robbery

Frank Henry Brown, 23, and Robert James McFate, 22, were each sentenced to from five years to life in prison yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the April 29 armed robbery of the Bottle Shop in Sausalito.

Judge Harold J. Haley also gave them up to 10 years each for shooting at Sausalito Patrolman Robert Glynn after the robbery. The sentences are to run concurrently with ones they are now serving at San Quentin Prison for armed robbery in Los Angeles County.

Brown and McFate pleaded guilty to both counts Wednesday.

Tomales Will Be Session Subject

The Tomales area will be the subject of a special study session of the Marin County Committee on School District organization called by Mrs. Watson Conner, chairman, for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the office of Marin County Superintendent of Schools in Corte Madera.

This will be the last meeting of the committee in preparation for a public hearing on the Tomales plan on Nov. 15 at West Marin School, Point Reyes Station.

Guilty Plea To Stolen Property

Willie James Broussard, 25, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to having stolen property in his possession. Judge Harold J. Haley gave him 60 days in county jail.

Broussard, of San Francisco, originally was accused of burgling the home of Mrs. Margaret Y. Smith of 57 Glenside Way, Las Ranchitas, Sept. 11. San Rafael police arrested Broussards after Mrs. Smith surprised a man in her home and gave officers a description of a car he fled in.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney gave his written opinion to the board that it had to allow Anderson to withdraw his bid.

Hall's bid, which then became the low bid of the remaining four, was within the $1,654,000 allowed by the state for the job.

The contract awarded by the board was for the base bid with the alternates to be worked out between the district staff and the staff of the state Office of Local Assistance.

Hall's bids on some of the alternates were higher than the state allows. Supt. James G. Bunker and architect Richard Banwell will go to Sacramento tomorrow to discuss the alternates with the staff of the local assistance office.

If the staff gives its approval this week, work on the building could start next week. If it must wait until the meeting of the state Allocations Board on Nov. 14, construction cannot get started until after the middle of November, Banwell told the board.

Drug Case To Juvenile Court

Case of Joan Anita Mann, 19, accused of selling marijuana, was transferred yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to juvenile court.

Miss Mann, of 313 Via Hildago, Greenbrae, and William George Moore, 36, of 58 Johnson Street, Sausalito, allegedly sold undercover agents marijuana Sept. 4 in Sausalito.

Moore was arraigned Sept. 7 and further proceedings are pending.

Fairfax Gets Gas Tax Fund

The Fairfax City Council passed a resolution last night to release $65,768 in gas tax money to the community from State Highway Division funds.

The amount includes $39,000 in accumulated reserves and $26,768 which will be Fairfax's share of the gas tax money for the remainder of this year.

A change in the law has transferred municipal gas tax money to another fund within the state system, and Fairfax was one of a number of California communities which had to pass a resolution to free the money.

In passing the resolution last night, the Fairfax council noted that the money has been budgeted for general road purposes in the town, but not specifically earmarked.

Drunken Driving

Robert Mac Gallaway, 30, of 107 E Stadium Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $200 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. Mill Valley police arrested him July 4 on Miller Avenue.

Fairfax Master Plan Session Turns Into A Lively Forum

What was meant to be a reasoned, routine discussion of access roads, zoning and other aspects of Fairfax's master plan became a donnybrook last night when a city councilman said he thought it would be a "blessing" if one of the women in the audience would move out of Fairfax.

The member of the audience, Mrs. Antoinette Ghiringhelli of 365 Bolinas Road, had been complaining during the meeting that the councilmen were just going ahead on the master plan without consulting the taxpayers about it.

"But that's all right," said Mrs. Ghiringhelli. "I'm moving out of Fairfax."

"That'll be a blessing," said Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Arrigoni stood up to leave the meeting in the Fairfax Women's Club, commenting, "I'm not going to sit here and listen to her propaganda."

Mrs. Ghiringhelli replied, "You're a liar and you were born one. You're too small to listen. That's what your trouble is."

As Arrigoni made an impatient move to depart, Mrs. Ghiringhelli added, "I'm not taking this from you, Arrigoni. I'm known to be honest and above board and Arrigoni is known to be a damned liar. He has been calling the taxpayers arrogant, ignorant and stupid."

Other members of the Fairfax city administration also came in for criticism from the audience at their planning discussion.

The angry Mrs. Ghiringhelli stopped Fairfax planning commission member Leo Cronin at the door and said, "You'd better watch out. I haven't started on you. I know all about your family."

The councilmen did manage to discuss business access roads, zoning and other aspects of the proposed master plan for the town, but took no action at the study session.

Albert Solnit, chief of advanced planning for Marin County Planning Commission. The Fairfax Planning Commission will hold its final hearing on the plan on Nov. 16, before submitting its recommendations to the city council.

Prison Terms On Robbery

Frank Henry Brown, 23, and Robert James McFate, 22, were each sentenced to from five years to life in prison yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the April 29 armed robbery of the Bottle Shop in Sausalito.

Judge Harold J. Haley also gave them up to 10 years each for shooting at Sausalito Patrolman Robert Glynn after the robbery. The sentences are to run concurrently with ones they are now serving at San Quentin Prison for armed robbery in Los Angeles County.

Brown and McFate pleaded guilty to both counts Wednesday.

Tomales Will Be Session Subject

The Tomales area will be the subject of a special study session of the Marin County Committee on School District organization called by Mrs. Watson Conner, chairman, for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the office of Marin County Superintendent of Schools in Corte Madera.

This will be the last meeting of the committee in preparation for a public hearing on the Tomales plan on Nov. 15 at West Marin School, Point Reyes Station.

Guilty Plea To Stolen Property

Willie James Broussard, 25, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to having stolen property in his possession. Judge Harold J. Haley gave him 60 days in county jail.

Broussard, of San Francisco, originally was accused of burgling the home of Mrs. Margaret Y. Smith of 57 Glenside Way, Las Ranchitas, Sept. 11. San Rafael police arrested Broussards after Mrs. Smith surprised a man in her home and gave officers a description of a car he fled in.

World Series Payoff One Of Smallest

The St. Louis Cardinals—baseball variety, not football—and the Boston Red Sox got the word yesterday from Commissioner William D. Eckert's office on their winning World Series shares.

The seven game victory was worth a mere $8,314.81 to each Cardinal and $5,115.23 for each losing Boston Red Sox.

Those are pale figures compared with recent World Series payoffs. The winning share was the smallest since the New York Yankees collected $7,389.13 for beating Cincinnati in 1961. And it was the smallest losing share since the 1952 Brooklyn Dodgers picked up $4,200.64 apiece.

The limited capacity of Boston's Fenway Park, which holds only 35,188, caused the small payoffs. But both the Cardinals and Red Sox were generous with the shares.

St. Louis gave pitcher Jack Lamabe, acquired from the New York Mets in July, a full share and also voted the full amount to pitcher Jim Cosman, who spent most of the season in the minors.

HALF SHARES

Boston awarded half shares to pitchers Dennis Bennett and Galen Cisco, both of whom were cut early, and a half share to catcher Elston Howard, picked up from New York in August. Ken Harrelson, picked up from Kansas City in September, was voted a one-third share.

The Red Sox also voted $1,000 to the Jimmy Fund, a local charity, and the same amount to Ken Brett, a young left-hander brought up late in the season.

Second place was worth $1,484.70 to each member of the San Francisco Giants while the Chicago Cubs received $1,080.88 for finishing third, the Cincinnati Reds $428.51 apiece for fourth place and the Philadelphia Phillies $197.18 for fifth place.

Detroit and Minnesota tied for second in the American League, with each Tiger picking up $1,268.68 and each Twin $1,171.33.

The Twins shut ex-manager Sam Mele cut of a cut but awarded a full share to Mrs. Walter Bond, widow of the outfielder who spent the early part of the year with Minnesota and died of leukemia during the season.

Fourth place paid $428.51 to the Chicago White Sox and the California Angels got $180.99 each for fifth.

LAKER ROOKIE COACH SLAPPED WITH FINE

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie coach Bill Van Breda Kolff of the Los Angeles Lakers has been fined $250 for conduct detrimental to the National Basketball Association, Commissioner Walter Kennedy announced today.

Kennedy said that despite warnings by him, Van Breda Kolff continued to make statements highly critical of the league, its players and game officials.

Van Breda Kolff coached at Princeton for five years before taking over the Lakers last April 27. He replaced Fred Schaus, who became general manager.

Indoor Tennis Club In Financial Trouble

TENNIS, ANYONE?—The Pacific Coast Indoor Tennis Club at 96 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, is on the verge of an el foldo unless members can pony up about 24 thou in the very near future.

The club has operated under the promotion of three professional netters, including Belvedere's Paul Wilkins, since its inception, but the pros have picked up their racquets and balls and taken it on the Arthur Duffy. The operating expenses were just too much for them.

So, rather than see the huge building become just another warehouse, local tennis buffs are trying to rustle up enough members to keep the place open for tennis, at least for another year.

$2,000 Per Month Overhead

Rent and utilities for the building come to about $2,000 per month, according to Les Walsh and Dr. Jerome J. Littell Jr. of San Rafael, two of those working on the membership project.

They would like to enlist 200 members at $120 apiece for a year, which would keep the tennis palace open for another year. Anyone interested in a membership should contact Mrs. Charles E. Mason at 535 Quietwood Drive, San Rafael.

The committee is scheduled to meet again tomorrow, so time is of the essence.

Some Rain Would Sure Help

One problem confronting the committee is the beautiful weather which has prolonged the outdoor tennis season. A little rain would help lure some members to the indoor club, the only one of its kind in these parts.

The indoor club has three regulation tennis courts plus a squash court.

AND WHILE we're on the subject: Marin County has a strong representation in the Northern California Tennis Association with no less than four locals holding office.

Walter Machette of Belvedere Tennis Club was elected president of the NCTA last week and Warren Hodgdon of Mill Valley T.C. was elected to the board of directors. Holdover directors are Howard Morehouse of the Mill Valley T.C. and Charles Auerbach, the retiring secretary.

Drake Cage Tourney On Tap

CAGE NOTE—Drake High School's third annual invitational basketball tournament has been scheduled Dec. 6-7-8-9 and will present a four-county lineup. Entries are Marin's Novato, Redwood, Terra Linda and Drake; San Francisco's Lowell and Balboa, Petaluma and Napa.

CRUSADE—Balboa, the San Francisco Academic Athletic Association's undefeated (7-0) powerhouse, will carry a crusade to Kentfield Saturday night for its game against the Drake High Pirates.

The Bal Bucs will try to salvage some of the AAA's lost prestige against Marin schools. In four previous meetings, Marin has whipped the Big City four times. It was Redwood, 50, Galileo 7; Redwood 39, Washington 6; Terra Linda 14, Poly 7; San Rafael 19, Mission 0. Total score: Marin 122, San Francisco 20.

Packers Turn Back Cards

ST. LOUI S(AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 last night in a National Football League game.

CAPACITY CROWD

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

5-1-1 MARK

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

The Cardinals topped the Packers in total yardage 405-246, and in first downs, 19-16. But the Packers used the unexpected for victory.

On the game's first play from scrimmage, Green Bay defensive back, Herb Adderley, intercepted a Hart pass at the St. Louis 12 and zipped into the end zone for a touchdown.

The Cards, who tried for field goals four times when their offense sputtered near the Packer goal line, had been ordered by Coach Charlie Winner to go for a sure three points although they were on the Packer one with fourth down in the final quarter.

93-YARDER

Jim Bakken got the eight-yard field goal to give St. Louis a 23-17 lead. But, then Travis Williams returned the kickoff 93-yards for Green Bay's third touchdown.

"I don't regret the decision," Winner said. "I'd do it again."

Defensive back Bob Jeter of the Packers, who intercepted a Hart pass in the Green Bay end zone to end the last St. Louis drive, said he saw the young quarterback's second TD pass to Dave Williams sail through his arms.

"I don't know how I missed it," Jeter moaned after the game.

Starr connected with Boyd Dowler for three passes in the last Packer scoring drive, which covered 80 yards. The TD game on an eight-yard toss to Dowler.

49ers Should Be In Better Shape Against L.A. Rams

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers should be in better physical shape next Sunday when rugged Los Angeles comes to town than they were against Detroit.

Fullback Gary Lewis, halfback Doug Cunningham and defensive tackle Charley Krueger all missed most of the Lions game and the first two are sure to go against the Rams while Krueger's chances are good.

TRIO HURT

Hurt against Detroit were Howard Mudd, Clark Miller and Dave Wilcox but all figure to be back in action by next Sunday.

The oddsmakers apparently were ready to concede that the 49ers just had an off day in their 45-3 skunking by Detroit. Since the Prospectors had their best day in Los Angeles, where they won 27-24, the 49ers are only a touchdown underdog against the Rams, who many insiders insist are the NFL's best.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers watched films of the Lions disaster and faulted the pass blocking, running, blocking, play-calling, "and perhaps we coaches made some mistakes in preparation.

"It's possible we gave them a couple of plays which, combined with Detroit's blitzing, helped to confuse them."

LENIENT

Christiansen seemed more lenient towards the defense, pointing out that the game was still only 17-3 late in the third quarter.

"Nobody on the offense played the kind of football he is capable of. Four of our five line blockers had bad days.' ' He declined to name the shining exception.

The 49ers are still 5-2 and the coach insisted they are still a contender—that is if somebody will kindly knock off Baltimore 5-0-2 and the 49ers can take care of the Rams 5-1-1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Catcher Paul Casanova has become the first Washington Senator to sign a contract for the 1968 baseball season, the club announced today.

Marin Ice Hockey Team Wins, Ties

Marin Junior Ice Hockey Club's Pee-Wee teams (age 12 and under) scored one victory and one tie against Berkeley teams in their opening games of the season Sunday night at Raydine Ice Rink in Corte Madera.

The Marin "A" team tied Berkeley 3-3 with Eric Gabrielsen of Ross, Robert Hutton of Rohnert Park and Dean MacMaster of Santa Rosa each scoring a goal for Marin and Gary and Shawn Mitchell of Novato and Hutton each scoring an assist.

In Marin's 2-1 "Class B" victory Dan Lucia of Mill Valley and Mike McPartlan of Forest Knolls each scored a goal and goalie Dennis Shaffer was credited with 13 saves.

Keeler Nash Wins Low Net Honors

A 14-handicap player, Nash tied for low net honors in last week's Western Senior Amateur Gold Tournament at San Diego. His rounds of 72, 70 and 66 for a 208 total shared the crown with Gen. Jim Davies of Silverado Country Club, Napa.

Nash also was a member of the low net best ball foursome.

USC Trojans Get All Top Votes In A.P. Balloting

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Resting nine spots below the unbeaten Trojans, in 10th place, was Notre Dame, last year's national champion which had tumbled from the Top 10 by losing two of its first five games.

But the Irish defeated Michigan State 24-12 last Saturday and now are back among the elite, an achievement that makes Coach Parseghian happy.

TALKS OF RANKINGS

Talking about the rankings after the Michigan State contest, Parseghian said:

"We have no conference championship to play for and no bowl game to shoot at. All we can do is get into the Top 10 rankings. That's our only goal, and the boys are doing a good job."

Southern California continues to do a good job, too. The Trojans won their seventh game by whipping Oregon 28-6 and were rewarded with all 43 first-place votes in the latest poll.

The Trojans' Los Angeles neighbor, UCLA, didn't play but had no trouble holding onto its No. 2 spot.

Colorado, one of the two Top Ten teams to lose last Saturday, skidded from third to ninth. Houston, the other loser, dropped from ninth to the also-ran group. Oklahoma State edged Colorado 10-7, and Mississippi nipped Houston 14-13.

CLIMBS

The four teams behind Colorado last week each climbed one spot, but unbeaten Indiana made the biggest gain of all, rising from 10th to seventh after crushing Arizona 42-7 for its sixth victory.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Rams Picked By 7 Points Over 49ers

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants, on the comeback trail in the National Football League, are a one-point choice over the Minnesota Vikings in pro football's closest game Sunday, according to the oddsmakers.

The Los Angeles Rams are a seven-point pick over the San Francisco 49ers; the Philadelphia Eagles are eight over the new Orleans Saints, the Detroit Lions are nine over the Chicago Bears and the Dallas Cowboys are 17 over the Atlanta Falcons.

No other NFL games were listed.

In the American Football League, the oddsmakers tabbed the Boston Patriots three points better than the Houston Oilers, the Kansas City Chiefs seven over the New York Jets and the Oakland Raiders 15 over the Denver Broncos. The Miami-Buffalo game was off the board.

Ten Nights Of Baseball In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced yesterday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

EACH TEAM

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

SPONSORS

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 season.

The organization's bid for an American League franchise was ignored by a recent expansion meeting of league owners.

But an official of the Brewers said yesterday there is new hope for a National League expansion team.

INVITED

Edmund B. Fitzgerald, vice president of the Brewers, said National League President Warren Giles has promised that the Milwaukee group will be invited to present the city's qualifications when National League owners meet to consider expansion.

Both Fitzgerald and Allyn agreed that the 10-game American League schedule "should have no effect" on Milwaukee's quest for a National League franchise.

World Series Payoff One Of Smallest

The St. Louis Cardinals—baseball variety, not football—and the Boston Red Sox got the word yesterday from Commissioner William D. Eckert's office on their winning World Series shares.

The seven game victory was worth a mere $8,314.81 to each Cardinal and $5,115.23 for each losing Boston Red Sox.

Those are pale figures compared with recent World Series payoffs. The winning share was the smallest since the New York Yankees collected $7,389.13 for beating Cincinnati in 1961. And it was the smallest losing share since the 1952 Brooklyn Dodgers picked up $4,200.64 apiece.

The limited capacity of Boston's Fenway Park, which holds only 35,188, caused the small payoffs. But both the Cardinals and Red Sox were generous with the shares.

St. Louis gave pitcher Jack Lamabe, acquired from the New York Mets in July, a full share and also voted the full amount to pitcher Jim Cosman, who spent most of the season in the minors.

HALF SHARES

Boston awarded half shares to pitchers Dennis Bennett and Galen Cisco, both of whom were cut early, and a half share to catcher Elston Howard, picked up from New York in August. Ken Harrelson, picked up from Kansas City in September, was voted a one-third share.

The Red Sox also voted $1,000 to the Jimmy Fund, a local charity, and the same amount to Ken Brett, a young left-hander brought up late in the season.

Second place was worth $1,484.70 to each member of the San Francisco Giants while the Chicago Cubs received $1,080.88 for finishing third, the Cincinnati Reds $428.51 apiece for fourth place and the Philadelphia Phillies $197.18 for fifth place.

Detroit and Minnesota tied for second in the American League, with each Tiger picking up $1,268.68 and each Twin $1,171.33.

The Twins shut ex-manager Sam Mele out of a cut but awarded a full share to Mrs. Walter Bond, widow of the outfielder who spent the early part of the year with Minnesota and died of leukemia during the season.

Fourth place paid $428.51 to the Chicago White Sox and the California Angels got $180.99 each for fifth.

LAKER ROOKIE COACH SLAPPED WITH FINE

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie coach Bill Van Breda Kolff of the Los Angeles Lakers has been fined $250 for conduct detrimental to the National Basketball Association, Commissioner Walter Kennedy announced today.

Kennedy said that despite warnings by him, Van Breda Kolff continued to make statements highly critical of the league, its players and game officials.

Van Breda Kolff coached at Princeton for five years before taking over the Lakers last April 27. He replaced Fred Schaus, who became general manager.

Indoor Tennis Club In Financial Trouble

TENNIS, ANYONE?—The Pacific Coast Indoor Tennis Club at 96 Mitchell Boulevard, San Rafael, is on the verge of an el foldo unless members can pony up about 24 thou in the very near future.

The club has operated under the promotion of three professional netters, including Belvedere's Paul Wilkins, since its inception, but the pros have picked up their racquets and balls and taken it on the Arthur Duffy. The operating expenses were just too much for them.

So, rather than see the huge building become just another warehouse, local tennis buffs are trying to rustle up enough members to keep the place open for tennis, at least for another year.

$2,000 Per Month Overhead

Rent and utilities for the building come to about $2,000 per month, according to Les Walsh and Dr. Jerome J. Littell Jr. of San Rafael, two of those working on the membership project.

They would like to enlist 200 members at $120 apiece for a year, which would keep the tennis palace open for another year. Anyone interested in a membership should contact Mrs. Charles E. Mason at 535 Quietwood Drive, San Rafael.

The committee is scheduled to meet again tomorrow, so time is of the essence.

Some Rain Would Sure Help

One problem confronting the committee is the beautiful weather which has prolonged the outdoor tennis season. A little rain would help lure some members to the indoor club, the only one of its kind in these parts.

The indoor club has three regulation tennis courts plus a squash court.

AND WHILE we're on the subject: Marin County has a strong representation in the Northern California Tennis Association with no less than four locals holding office.

Walter Machette of Belvedere Tennis Club was elected president of the NCTA last week and Warren Hodgdon of Mill Valley T.C. was elected to the board of directors. Holdover directors are Howard Morehouse of the Mill Valley T.C. and Charles Auerbach, the retiring secretary.

Drake Cage Tourney On Tap

CAGE NOTE—Drake High School's third annual invitational basketball tournament has been scheduled Dec. 6-7-8-9 and will present a four-county lineup. Entries are Marin's Novato, Redwood, Terra Linda and Drake; San Francisco's Lowell and Balboa, Petaluma and Napa.

CRUSADE—Balboa, the San Francisco Academic Athletic Association's undefeated (7-0) powerhouse, will carry a crusade to Kentfield Saturday night for its game against the Drake High Pirates.

The Bal Bucs will try to salvage some of the AAA's lost prestige against Marin schools. In four previous meetings, Marin has whipped the Big City four times. It was Redwood, 50, Galileo 7; Redwood 39, Washington 6; Terra Linda 14, Poly 7; San Rafael 19, Mission 0. Total score: Marin 122, San Francisco 20.

Packers Turn Back Cards

ST. LOUI S(AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 last night in a National Football League game.

CAPACITY CROWD

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

5-1-1 MARK

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

The Cardinals topped the Packers in total yardage 405-246, and in first downs, 19-16. But the Packers used the unexpected for victory.

On the game's first play from scrimmage, Green Bay defensive back, Herb Adderley, intercepted a Hart pass at the St. Louis 12 and zipped into the end zone for a touchdown.

The Cards, who tried for field goals four times when their offense sputtered near the Packer goal line, had been ordered by Coach Charlie Winner to go for a sure three points although they were on the Packer one with fourth down in the final quarter.

93-YARDER

Jim Bakken got the eight-yard field goal to give St. Louis a 23-17 lead. But, then Travis Williams returned the kickoff 93-yards for Green Bay's third touchdown.

"I don't regret the decision," Winner said. "I'd do it again."

Defensive back Bob Jeter of the Packers, who intercepted a Hart pass in the Green Bay end zone to end the last St. Louis drive, said he saw the young quarterback's second TD pass to Dave Williams sail through his arms.

"I don't know how I missed it," Jeter moaned after the game.

Starr connected with Boyd Dowler for three passes in the last Packer scoring drive, which covered 80 yards. The TD game on an eight-yard toss to Dowler.

49ers Should Be In Better Shape Against L.A. Rams

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers should be in better physical shape next Sunday when rugged Los Angeles comes to town than they were against Detroit.

Fullback Gary Lewis, halfback Doug Cunningham and defensive tackle Charley Krueger all missed most of the Lions game and the first two are sure to go against the Rams while Krueger's chances are good.

TRIO HURT

Hurt against Detroit were Howard Mudd, Clark Miller and Dave Wilcox but all figure to be back in action by next Sunday.

The oddsmakers apparently were ready to concede that the 49ers just had an off day in their 45-3 skunking by Detroit. Since the Prospectors had their best day in Los Angeles, where they won 27-24, the 49ers are only a touchdown underdog against the Rams, who many insiders insist are the NFL's best.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers watched films of the Lions disaster and faulted the pass blocking, running, blocking, play-calling, "and perhaps we coaches made some mistakes in preparation.

"It's possible we gave them a couple of plays which, combined with Detroit's blitzing, helped to confuse them."

LENIENT

Christiansen seemed more lenient towards the defense, pointing out that the game was still only 17-3 late in the third quarter.

"Nobody on the offense played the kind of football he is capable of. Four of our five line blockers had bad days.' ' He declined to name the shining exception.

The 49ers are still 5-2 and the coach insisted they are still a contender—that is if somebody will kindly knock off Baltimore 5-0-2 and the 49ers can take care of the Rams 5-1-1.

In Marin's 2-1 "Class B" victory Dan Lucia of Mill Valley and Mike McPartlan of Forest Knolls each scored a goal and goalie Dennis Shaffer was credited with 13 saves.

USC Trojans Get All Top Votes In A.P. Balloting

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Resting nine spots below the unbeaten Trojans, in 10th place, was Notre Dame, last year's national champion which had tumbled from the Top 10 by losing two of its first five games.

But the Irish defeated Michigan State 24-12 last Saturday and now are back among the elite, an achievement that makes Coach Parseghian happy.

TALKS OF RANKINGS

Talking about the rankings after the Michigan State contest, Parseghian said:

"We have no conference championship to play for and no bowl game to shoot at. All we can do is get into the Top 10 rankings. That's our only goal, and the boys are doing a good job."

Southern California continues to do a good job, too. The Trojans won their seventh game by whipping Oregon 28-6 and were rewarded with all 43 first-place votes in the latest poll.

The Trojans' Los Angeles neighbor, UCLA, didn't play but had no trouble holding onto its No. 2 spot.

Colorado, one of the two Top Ten teams to lose last Saturday, skidded from third to ninth. Houston, the other loser, dropped from ninth to the also-ran group. Oklahoma State edged Colorado 10-7, and Mississippi nipped Houston 14-13.

CLIMBS

The four teams behind Colorado last week each climbed one spot, but unbeaten Indiana made the biggest gain of all, rising from 10th to seventh after crushing Arizona 42-7 for its sixth victory.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants, on the comeback trail in the National Football League, are a one-point choice over the Minnesota Vikings in pro football's closest game Sunday, according to the oddsmakers.

Ten Nights Of Baseball In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced yesterday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

EACH TEAM

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

SPONSORS

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 season.

The organization's bid for an American League franchise was ignored by a recent expansion meeting of league owners.

But an official of the Brewers said yesterday there is new hope for a National League expansion team.

INVITED

Edmund B. Fitzgerald, vice president of the Brewers, said National League President Warren Giles has promised that the Milwaukee group will be invited to present the city's qualifications when National League owners meet to consider expansion.

Both Fitzgerald and Allyn agreed that the 10-game American League schedule "should have no effect" on Milwaukee's quest for a National League franchise.

Law To Coach Pirate Hurlers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today that recently retired Vernon Law will be pitching coach next year.

Law, 37, retired last season after 18 years on the mound for the Pirates. His career record was 162 victories and 147 losses.

Law's best season was 1960 when the Pirates won the World Series. He was 20-9 for the season and won two in the Series and was given the Cy Young Award for the best pitcher in baseball.

'USC Not One-Man Team'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California Coach Ray Willsey isn't very much relieved that his Bears apparently won't have to attempt to corral the injured O.J. Simpson in their Saturday contest with No. 1 ranked Southern California.

"Taking nothing away from O. J., S.C. is hardly a one-man team," Willsey observed to Northern California sports writers and broadcasters yesterday.

GOOD SUB

"You'll notice that when Simpson got hurt, his sub Steve Grady, rushed for more than 100 yards against Oregon.

Willsey noted that California played Notre Dame when it was rated No. 1. If Cal could upset USC, the Bears' next opponent would be UCLA, a likely successor in No. 1 ranking if the Trojans ever stumble.

EXPERIENCE

"Playing three No. 1 teams in a single year would be quite an experience," Willsey said.

Stanford Coach John Ralston wasn't enthusiastic over the prospect of playing the Washington Huskies in Seattle this weekend after the Indians' 24-20 loss to Army at West Point last Saturday.

"They're coming off a fine win over California," Ralston said. And at Seattle you can expect almost anything in the way of weather this time of year."

Red Sox Pilot Wins UPI Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Williams, who led the Boston Red Sox to a pennant in his rookie season, was named the American League's manager of the year today by United Press International.

The 38-year-old former handyman for five big league teams was chosen by 23 of the 24 experts who participated in the UPI's annual post-season survey. Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox received the other vote.

An outfielder by trade who played every position except pitcher and catcher during a playing career between 1947 and 1964, Williams took over a team which finished ninth in 1966 and guided it to one of the most remarkable pennant victories in baseball history.

CLOSE RACE

The Red Sox, 100-to-1 shots in pre-season odds, won the American League pennant on the final day of the season after a four-cornered battle with the Minnesota Twins, Detroit Tigers and White Sox.

Williams' main contributions to the victory were the instilling of a new spirit in the Red Sox and the handling of a pitching staff that was razor-thin by the standards of an average contending team.

The 6-foot, 190-pound native of St. Louis began his basic reorganization of the Red Sox in spring training when he refused to allow a young star to live at a hotel apart from other single players. He continued the firm, business-like attitude during the season by keeping a close watch on players' physical condition and "sticking with the hot man."

At the same time, he repeatedly gambled and won with a weak pitching staff that threatened to buckle at several points of the season.

Huge Tag On Lease

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs' American Foooball League team, has offered to pay over $52 million for a 99-year lease on the proposed twin-stadium Jackson County sports complex.

Hunt would form an operating company to control the entire layout — including the football and baseball stadiums with their removable roof, parking, concessions, and a tract that could be developed for auto racing.

SERVICES

The company would provide office services, advertising, public relations, promotion and season ticket sales for both the Chiefs and the new American League baseball team Kansas City will have in 1969.

The organization would pay $750,000 a year for the original 40-year lease, a 20-year renewal option at $500,000 a year, a second renewal option at $375,000 a year, and a 19-year renewal option for $250,000 a year.

That would total $52,250,000 over the 99 years.

ALTERNATIVE

If the county doesn't like that arrangement, Hunt suggested a yearly lease for the football stadium, parking and development of the complex, or else a full operating lease for the entire area with Hunt as a minority owner of the baseball team.

It's too early to make any decisions about the matter, said Dutton Brookfield, chairman of the Jackson County Sports Authority.

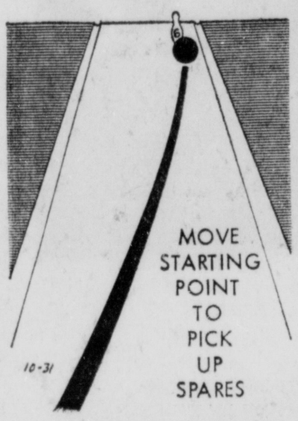
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Move your starting point on the approach for all spare shots that don't involve the headpin (and for some that do). If you are aiming at a No. 6 pin, for instance, move well to the left side of the approach.

Some bowlers believe they should adjust only when going for a corner pin, the No. 7 or No. 10. Wrong. Make it easy on yourself for every spare, if you can.

Three Georgia Gridders Draw Suspensions

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Georgia Coach Vince Dooley says he has not yet decided whether three of his football players, suspended for curfew violations, will be in uniform Saturday when the Bulldogs meet Houston in the Astrodome.

Johnson, a hard-running junior, has rushed for 184 yards this season as an understudy to starter Ronnie Jenkins and as a tailback. Johnson also was suspended briefly a year ago.

Scott, a sophomore, has been a starter at safety and has intercepted three passes this season.

"These players violated our curfew rule over the past weekend," Dooley said. "We have taken disciplinary action against them, including indefinite suspension from the squad."

The coach refused to elaborate on the possible length of the suspensions. "I won't make a commitment now," he said. "I don't know whether they will play against Houston this week or not."

Georgia, now 5-1 on the season, and Houston both are nationally ranked.

Marin Youngsters Set Track Record

Bill McNulty of San Rafael had a big weekend at the Santa Rosa quarter-midget races.

Bill broke the Santa Rosa track record of 8:02 with a clocking of 7:56 in a qualifying race Saturday, then went on to win the main event easily Sunday.

King, Thurmond Lead NBA Scoring Figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eight starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

Warriors Go For Fifth In A Row

OAKLAND (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors go after their fifth straight National Basketball Association victory tonight against the New York Knickerbockers. The Knicks have lost four straight after beating the Warriors in their opener.

New York will be strengthened with the return of Walt Frazier, the team's No. 1 draft pick from Southern Illinois, who has been out with injuries.

The Warriors have exhibited balanced scoring strength in triumphs over Cincinnati and Baltimore at the Oakland Arena, site of tonight's 8:30 contest.

Roseboro's Trial In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court judge has ruled that Los Angeles Dodger catcher John Roseboro's suit against San Francisco Giant pitcher Juan Marichal should be tried in Los Angeles County.

A change of venue petition, filed by National Exhibition Co., co-defendants in the suit, was denied by Judge Ernest J. Zack. The company sought to have the trial take place in a "neutral" county because "all odds would be against an impartial trial" in Los Angeles County.

General Trout Season Ends, But Some Streams To Remain Open

STEVENS

The general trout season comes to an end one-half hour after sunset today, but don't hang up your fly rod or spinning gear. Many streams remain open so consult your 1967 sport fishing regulations for the location.

Also note that tomorrow the curtain rises on the fall and winter steelhead and salmon fishing in the loop streams—the Russian, Guilala, Garcia, Navarro and Fort Bragg streams, the Noya, Ten Mile and other smaller, but fishable tributary streams.

Whereas the fall and winter season opens on steelhead, it is very seldom that any are caught until December at times but usually not until we have had one or more spells of hard rains.

As regards salmon, particularly silver salmon, it is a different story. Word has come of a goodly number of salmon infesting the Noya River, but not many have been taken. I talked to the hotel at Navarro-by-the-Sea on Sunday and was told that a fairish number of silvers and some grilse have been taken from the Lagoon (from the mouth to the bridge) but nothing really hot has happened. The Navarro Lagoon is open from October until February and should be well worth a trial at the present time. As expected, no steelhead have shown as yet. At the mouth of the Garcia a few salmon have also been taken, including a few kings along with the silvers. Like the report from the Navarro, no steelhead have been seen or landed.

The river mouths are not barbound, they are wide open, but it just isn't the right time of the year for the steelhead to start their spawning runs.

If you have an uncontrollable yen to do battle with a salmon or a steelhead and your car needs the exercise, both species are in good supply in he upper reaches of both the Klamath and the Sacramento rivers. Hottest action on the Klamath is from the mouth to the stone bridge for salmon and above the bridge for steelhead. Work the Sacramento River from Gridly to Redding. Don't pass up the Trinity River near its confluence with the Klamath. Lots of fish being taken in that stretch of the Trinity.

Shifting from rod to gun, last Saturday the general season on quail opened. Bob White hunters are reported as reaping a harvest in most areas usually frequented by these birds, but I have not verified any such reports.

Frustrated deer hunters are reminded that they have only until Nov. 12 to fill out a tag for venison on the hoof. The season on the general inland deer hunting closes on that date.

Red Sox Sign Ex-Catcher To Coach Their Pitchers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox announced today the signing of former major league catcher-outfielder Darrell Johnson as pitching coach to succeed Sal Maglie, released after the World Series.

He became a player-coach with the Cardinals in 1960, and finished his active career in a similar job as a teammate of Boston Manager Dick Williams with the Orioles in 1962.

Johnson managed Rochester in the International League in 1963, '64 and '65, winning the Governor's Cup in his second season. He piloted Elmira to the Eastern League championship in 1966, before joining the Yankees as a special assignment scout and instructor.

"Darrell and I are old friends and rivals," Williams said. "I've always been impressed with his baseball knowledge and his capacities as a teacher.

"Even though he wasn't a pitcher, I watched the way he handled the Baltimore pitchers as player-coach and I also admired the pitching staffs he developed in Rochester and Elmira.

"As I've said in the past, I think we need the teaching type of coach more and more in the major leagues because so many youngsters are coming up so fast. I'm very pleased to have him with us.

'USC Not One-Man Team'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California Coach Ray Willsey isn't very much relieved that his Bears apparently won't have to attempt to corral the injured O.J. Simpson in their Saturday contest with No. 1 ranked Southern California.

"Taking nothing away from O. J., S.C. is hardly a one-man team," Willsey observed to Northern California sports writers and broadcasters yesterday.

GOOD SUB

"You'll notice that when Simpson got hurt, his sub Steve Grady, rushed for more than 100 yards against Oregon.

Willsey noted that California played Notre Dame when it was rated No. 1. If Cal could upset USC, the Bears' next opponent would be UCLA, a likely successor in No. 1 ranking if the Trojans ever stumble.

EXPERIENCE

"Playing three No. 1 teams in a single year would be quite an experience," Willsey said.

Stanford Coach John Ralston wasn't enthusiastic over the prospect of playing the Washington Huskies in Seattle this weekend after the Indians' 24-20 loss to Army at West Point last Saturday.

"They're coming off a fine win over California," Ralston said. And at Seattle you can expect almost anything in the way of weather this time of year."

Red Sox Pilot Wins UPI Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Williams, who led the Boston Red Sox to a pennant in his rookie season, was named the American League's manager of the year today by United Press International.

The 38-year-old former handyman for five big league teams was chosen by 23 of the 24 experts who participated in the UPI's annual post-season survey. Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox received the other vote.

An outfielder by trade who played every position except pitcher and catcher during a playing career between 1947 and 1964, Williams took over a team which finished ninth in 1966 and guided it to one of the most remarkable pennant victories in baseball history.

CLOSE RACE

The Red Sox, 100-to-1 shots in pre-season odds, won the American League pennant on the final day of the season after a four-cornered battle with the Minnesota Twins, Detroit Tigers and White Sox.

Williams' main contributions to the victory were the instilling of a new spirit in the Red Sox and the handling of a pitching staff that was razor-thin by the standards of an average contending team.

The 6-foot, 190-pound native of St. Louis began his basic reorganization of the Red Sox in spring training when he refused to allow a young star to live at a hotel apart from other single players. He continued the firm, business-like attitude during the season by keeping a close watch on players' physical condition and "sticking with the hot man."

At the same time, he repeatedly gambled and won with a weak pitching staff that threatened to buckle at several points of the season.

Huge Tag On Lease

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs' American Foooball League team, has offered to pay over $52 million for a 99-year lease on the proposed twin-stadium Jackson County sports complex.

Hunt would form an operating company to control the entire layout — including the football and baseball stadiums with their removable roof, parking, concessions, and a tract that could be developed for auto racing.

SERVICES

The company would provide office services, advertising, public relations, promotion and season ticket sales for both the Chiefs and the new American League baseball team Kansas City will have in 1969.

The organization would pay $750,000 a year for the original 40-year lease, a 20-year renewal option at $500,000 a year, a second renewal option at $375,000 a year, and a 19-year renewal option for $250,000 a year.

That would total $52,250,000 over the 99 years.

ALTERNATIVE

If the county doesn't like that arrangement, Hunt suggested a yearly lease for the football stadium, parking and development of the complex, or else a full operating lease for the entire area with Hunt as a minority owner of the baseball team.

It's too early to make any decisions about the matter, said Dutton Brookfield, chairman of the Jackson County Sports Authority.

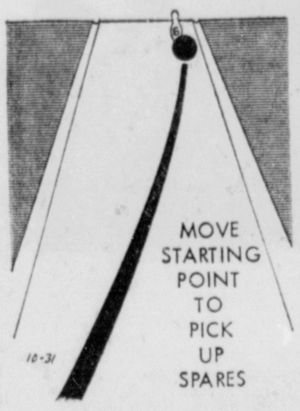
By MARION LADEWIG



Move your starting point on the approach for all spare shots that don't involve the headpin (and for some that do). If you are aiming at a No. 6 pin, for instance, move well to the left side of the approach.

Some bowlers believe they should adjust only when going for a corner pin, the No. 7 or No. 10. Wrong. Make it easy on yourself for every spare, if you can.

Three Georgia Gridders Draw Suspensions

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Georgia Coach Vince Dooley says he has not yet decided whether three of his football players, suspended for curfew violations, will be in uniform Saturday when the Bulldogs meet Houston in the Astrodome.

Johnson, a hard-running junior, has rushed for 184 yards this season as an understudy to starter Ronnie Jenkins and as a tailback. Johnson also was suspended briefly a year ago.

Scott, a sophomore, has been a starter at safety and has intercepted three passes this season.

"These players violated our curfew rule over the past weekend," Dooley said. "We have taken disciplinary action against them, including indefinite suspension from the squad."

The coach refused to elaborate on the possible length of the suspensions. "I won't make a commitment now," he said. "I don't know whether they will play against Houston this week or not."

Georgia, now 5-1 on the season, and Houston both are nationally ranked.

Marin Youngsters Set Track Record

Bill broke the Santa Rosa track record of 8:02 with a clocking of 7:56 in a qualifying race Saturday, then went on to win the main event easily Sunday.

King, Thurmond Lead NBA Scoring Figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eigh' starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

Johnson managed Rochester in the International League in 1963, '64 and '65, winning the Governor's Cup in his second season. He piloted Elmira to the Eastern League championship in 1966, before joining the Yankees as a special assignment scout and instructor.

"Darrell and I are old friends and rivals," Williams said. "I've always been impressed with his baseball knowledge and his capacities as a teacher.

"Even though he wasn't a pitcher, I watched the way he handled the Baltimore pitchers as player-coach and I also admired the pitching staffs he developed in Rochester and Elmira.

"As I've said in the past, I think we need the teaching type of coach more and more in the major leagues because so many youngsters are coming up so fast. I'm very pleased to have him with us.

Meaders Cleaners To Open Tomorrow

Meaders Cleaners, one of San Francisco's older speciality French cleaning establishments, will open its first plant in Marin tomorrow in the Bon Air Shopping Center, Greenbrae.

The company, headed by Joe Kearn of San Francisco, has taken 2,100 square feet near Petrini's market. Founded approximately 40 years ago, it was purchased by Kearn in 1956. He had previously operated another cleaning business in San Francisco and before that had worked at his father's cleaning establishment in New Jersey.

Kearn expanded on the dry cleaning processes introduced by his predecessor and developed "Heirloom Service," a process for preserving such keepsakes as wedding gowns. In recent years he has added other Meaders locations in San Mateo, Palo Alto and Redwood City.

Kearn said he will take charge of the Marin operation until a manager is appointed.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $30,000 in the bank. I am a childless widower, receiving $105 a month Social Security. I'm 72, without work and have to draw on savings for my living expenses. What do you recommend as the best method for survival? — Q. S.

A. I have the deepest sympathy for someone alone and in your difficult position. An annuity would appear to be your best method for survival. You appear to have no direct heirs, so a straight life annuity seems most suitable for you. I would consult with an agent of a major insurance company and ask what they would pay on such an annuity. I would leave $10,000 in the bank for emergencies and put $20,000 into the annuity which at your age would pay you much more than any comparable investment. With your interest from $10,000 savings and your Social Security you should have a monthly income on which you can live in moderate comfort.

Q. We are interested in growth. We are both 55 and my income is in five figures. Insurance is adequate, equity in home substantial and we have $15,500 in savings. Among stock holdings we are concerned about are American Hospital Supply, Chemical Products, American Research and Dean Foods. Have you suggestions about these stocks? — P. R.

A. It is always pleasant to encounter anyone as well established financially as you appear to be. American Hospital is one of the best stocks in the growing medical-health field. I believe the rising earnings pattern will continue and I would hold these shares. Chemical Products showed sharply lower earnings in 1966 than in the previous year. I don't believe this is truly a growth stock and I think you will do better with Swift. Dean Foods is a pretty sound issue, but in your situation I would prefer Consolidated Foods. American Research has had marked success investing in young scientific enterprises and I would hold this stock for long-term gains.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Mobile Brake Of Marin Could Spread To Other Bay Locations

A new business opening in Marin, which may spread to other parts of the Bay Area is Mobile Brake of Marin, 817 D Street, San Rafael.

Principals in the venture are Donald K. Sherwood, owner of the Fairfax-San Anselmo Car Wash and Woodland Avenue Launderette, and J. S. Fink, owner of the Mill Valley and San Anselmo Car Washes. They have joined forces to acquire a franchise from Mobile Brake Sales and Service Co. of Gardena for Marin County and have options for Sonoma and Napa Counties and the City of Vallejo — where they are planning to expand later.

The company supplies gas stations, garages, automobile dealers and fleet accounts with nationally advertised brake parts. Completely stocked service trucks, radio dispatched, are also equipped to provide dealers with professional on-the-spot facilities for brake servicing.

Sherwood says they will be able to reduce the idle time for garages and service stations waiting for brake parts and machine work. Delivery of their first service truck is scheduled for Nov. 13. This will operate in central Marin and at least one more unit will be added before the first of the year.

PORTO BELLO WEST'S second annual decorator show in San Rafael will be in progress throughout the entire month of November, seven days a week between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Four different backgrounds for living are being presented in the Porto Bello West townhouses off San Pedro Road by interior designer Florence Huber of Larkspur. Interiors on display are located at 36 Royal Court, 28 Royal Court, 15 Porto Bello and 48 Porto Bello.

INSURANCE. Raymond J. Brennan of Novato has qualified for a conference of New York Life field underwriters in Burlingame this week . . . M. John Boskovich of Santa Rosa has been appointed agency manager for the newly opened John Hancock Mutual Life office in that city. The office is a branch of the Richard A. Secrist general agency in San Rafael.

BROKERS' AND AGENTS' SERVICE CORP., 503 D Street, San Rafael, has been organized by Frank J. Tiffany of Greenbrae, who heads it as president. The agency plans to provide markets for special risk, excess auto liability, mobile home physical damage insurance, credit life and disability. Tiffany expects to expand operations throughout California, Oregon and Washington.

He has recently operated a local managing general agency and has a management contract with Tiffany's Insurance of Wichita, Kans.

Eisenberg Roberts

HAROLD EISENBERG JR. of San Rafael has been elected a vice president of Bankers Leasing Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Southern Pacific Co. Headquartered in San Francisco, he heads marketing activities in the western United States for Bankers Leasing and also for Deibold Computer Leasing, partially owned by bankers. Prior to joining the company two years ago he was in the mortgage banking business and other financial fields.

EDWIN W. ROBERTS of Larkspur has been appointed assistant manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Fairfax office, succeeding Ermo W. Tompkins of Novato who has been assigned to the San Leandro office. Roberts was previously with Ross Valley Savings and Loan Association before joining the bank last year. He has completed the Crocker-Citizens administrative training program.

JOHN G. HORTON of San Rafael has been appointed senior investment executive at the San Francisco office of Shearson, Hammill and Co., Inc., member of the New York Stock Exchange. Prior to joining the firm in 1961 he was a teacher.

A CHANGE in proprietorship of Ideas Unlimited in Tiburon now gives Pat Reynolds sole ownership. Name of the advertising agency has also been changed to Pat Reynolds and Associates. In addition to handling other phases of advertising, promotion and publicity, the agency specializes in paid newspaper shopping columns. Address and phone number continue unchanged.

Meaders Cleaners To Open Tomorrow

Meaders Cleaners, one of San Francisco's older speciality French cleaning establishments, will open its first plant in Marin tomorrow in the Bon Air Shopping Center, Greenbrae.

The company, headed by Joe Kearn of San Francisco, has taken 2,100 square feet near Petrini's market. Founded approximately 40 years ago, it was purchased by Kearn in 1956. He had previously operated another cleaning business in San Francisco and before that had worked at his father's cleaning establishment in New Jersey.

Kearn expanded on the dry cleaning processes introduced by his predecessor and developed "Heirloom Service," a process for preserving such keepsakes as wedding gowns. In recent years he has added other Meaders locations in San Mateo, Palo Alto and Redwood City.

Kearn said he will take charge of the Marin operation until a manager is appointed.

OAKLAND — Kaiser Industries Corp. has reported consolidated new earnings of $39.22 million for the first nine months of 1967, including a first quarter extraordinary gain of $11,086,000 arising from sale of Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. common stock.

Earnings of $28,134,000 before the extraordinary gain compared with earnings of $16,848,000 in the first nine months of 1966.

Transamerica Record Figure

SAN FRANCISCO — Transamerica Corp. has reported record earnings for the first nine month of $52,871,300, compared with $37,085,200 for the comparable period of 1966.

After allowance for preferred dividends, earnings per share of common stock for the nine-month period amounted to $2.16, a 16 per cent increase over the per-share amount of $1.86 reported at this time last year.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $30,000 in the bank. I am a childless widower, receiving $105 a month Social Security. I'm 72, without work and have to draw on savings for my living expenses. What do you recommend as the best method for survival? — Q. S.

A. I have the deepest sympathy for someone alone and in your difficult position. An annuity would appear to be your best method for survival. You appear to have no direct heirs, so a straight life annuity seems most suitable for you. I would consult with an agent of a major insurance company and ask what they would pay on such an annuity. I would leave $10,000 in the bank for emergencies and put $20,000 into the annuity which at your age would pay you much more than any comparable investment. With your interest from $10,000 savings and your Social Security you should have a monthly income on which you can live in moderate comfort.

Q. We are interested in growth. We are both 55 and my income is in five figures. Insurance is adequate, equity in home substantial and we have $15,500 in savings. Among stock holdings we are concerned about are American Hospital Supply, Chemical Products, American Research and Dean Foods. Have you suggestions about these stocks? — P. R.

A. It is always pleasant to encounter anyone as well established financially as you appear to be. American Hospital is one of the best stocks in the growing medical-health field. I believe the rising earnings pattern will continue and I would hold these shares. Chemical Products showed sharply lower earnings in 1966 than in the previous year. I don't believe this is truly a growth stock and I think you will do better with Swift. Dean Foods is a pretty sound issue, but in your situation I would prefer Consolidated Foods. American Research has had marked success investing in young scientific enterprises and I would hold this stock for long-term gains.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Mobile Brake Of Marin Could Spread To Other Bay Locations

A new business opening in Marin, which may spread to other parts of the Bay Area is Mobile Brake of Marin, 817 D Street, San Rafael.

Principals in the venture are Donald K. Sherwood, owner of the Fairfax-San Anselmo Car Wash and Woodland Avenue Launderette, and J. S. Fink, owner of the Mill Valley and San Anselmo Car Washes. They have joined forces to acquire a franchise from Mobile Brake Sales and Service Co. of Gardena for Marin County and have options for Sonoma and Napa Counties and the City of Vallejo — where they are planning to expand later.

The company supplies gas stations, garages, automobile dealers and fleet accounts with nationally advertised brake parts. Completely stocked service trucks, radio dispatched, are also equipped to provide dealers with professional on-the-spot facilities for brake servicing.

Sherwood says they will be able to reduce the idle time for garages and service stations waiting for brake parts and machine work. Delivery of their first service truck is scheduled for Nov. 13. This will operate in central Marin and at least one more unit will be added before the first of the year.

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 31, the 304th day of 1967 with 61 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1931, the Treasury Department said the financial condition of the United States was so grave 552 banks had to close down in September.

In 1949, the Chinese captured Mukden in Manchuria.

In 1955, Princess Margaret announced she would not marry RAF Capt. Peter Townsend because he was a divorced man.

A thounght for the day — British Poet Harold Monro once said: "How lonely you shall be, what shall we do, you without me, I without you?"

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Fatal Error Avoided And An Expert Makes A Hard Contract

Philadelphia experts Arthur Robinson and Robert Jordan were a cinch to be chosen for the 1968 Olympic Bridge Team a few weeks ago since they led all the way through the 10-day Team Selection Tournament in Atlantic City, N.J. One reason for their outstanding performance may be seen in the way Robinson played the hand shown today.

NATURAL PLAY

At other tables the South player went down at four hearts because he made a natural but incorrect play. Clubs were opened and continued, and South ruffed the second club. South now led a heart to dummy's nine to lead the first spade from dummy. This single round of trumps was fatal.

If South led the queen of spades, East would ruff and lead a diamond. If South, instead, led a low spade Wst would win and lead a diamond.

SAVES HIS TRUMPS

When Arthur Robinson played the South hand he ruffed the second round of clubs and led the king of spades at once. West won with the ace of spades and led another club to make South ruff again.

Robinson led the queen of spades, and East ruffed. Now East and South each held two trumps. East returned a diamond to the ace and Robinson ruffed a spade in dummy, returned to his hand with the queen of hearts, ruffed another spade in dummy, and got back with the king of hearts.

ALL DRAWN

The trumps were now all drawn, and South's last two spades were good. He cashed them, discarding two diamonds from dummy, and dummy's last trump took the last trick to fulfill the contract.

The first rule for playing difficult trump hands is to leave the trumps alone.

SILLY QUESTION

♠ 10
♥ 8 4 2
♦ K 9 6
♣ A J 6 4 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one no trump, a negative response.

The hand is not quite strong enough for a response of two clubs. If you held six clubs headed by A-K-J, with no side strength, you would bid two clubs with the intention of bidding three clubs at your next turn to show a "club bust." In the actual hand, the clubs are not good enough for this.

Fatal Error Avoided And An Expert Makes A Hard Contract

Philadelphia experts Arthur Robinson and Robert Jordan were a cinch to be chosen for the 1968 Olympic Bridge Team a few weeks ago since they led all the way through the 10-day Team Selection Tournament in Atlantic City, N.J. One reason for their outstanding performance may be seen in the way Robinson played the hand shown today.

NATURAL PLAY

At other tables the South player went down at four hearts because he made a natural but incorrect play. Clubs were opened and continued, and South ruffed the second club. South now led a heart to dummy's nine to lead the first spade from dummy. This single round of trumps was fatal.

If South led the queen of spades, East would ruff and lead a diamond. If South, instead, led a low spade Wst would win and lead a diamond.

SAVES HIS TRUMPS

When Arthur Robinson played the South hand he ruffed the second round of clubs and led the king of spades at once. West won with the ace of spades and led another club to make South ruff again.

Robinson led the queen of spades, and East ruffed. Now East and South each held two trumps. East returned a diamond to the ace and Robinson ruffed a spade in dummy, returned to his hand with the queen of hearts, ruffed another spade in dummy, and got back with the king of hearts.

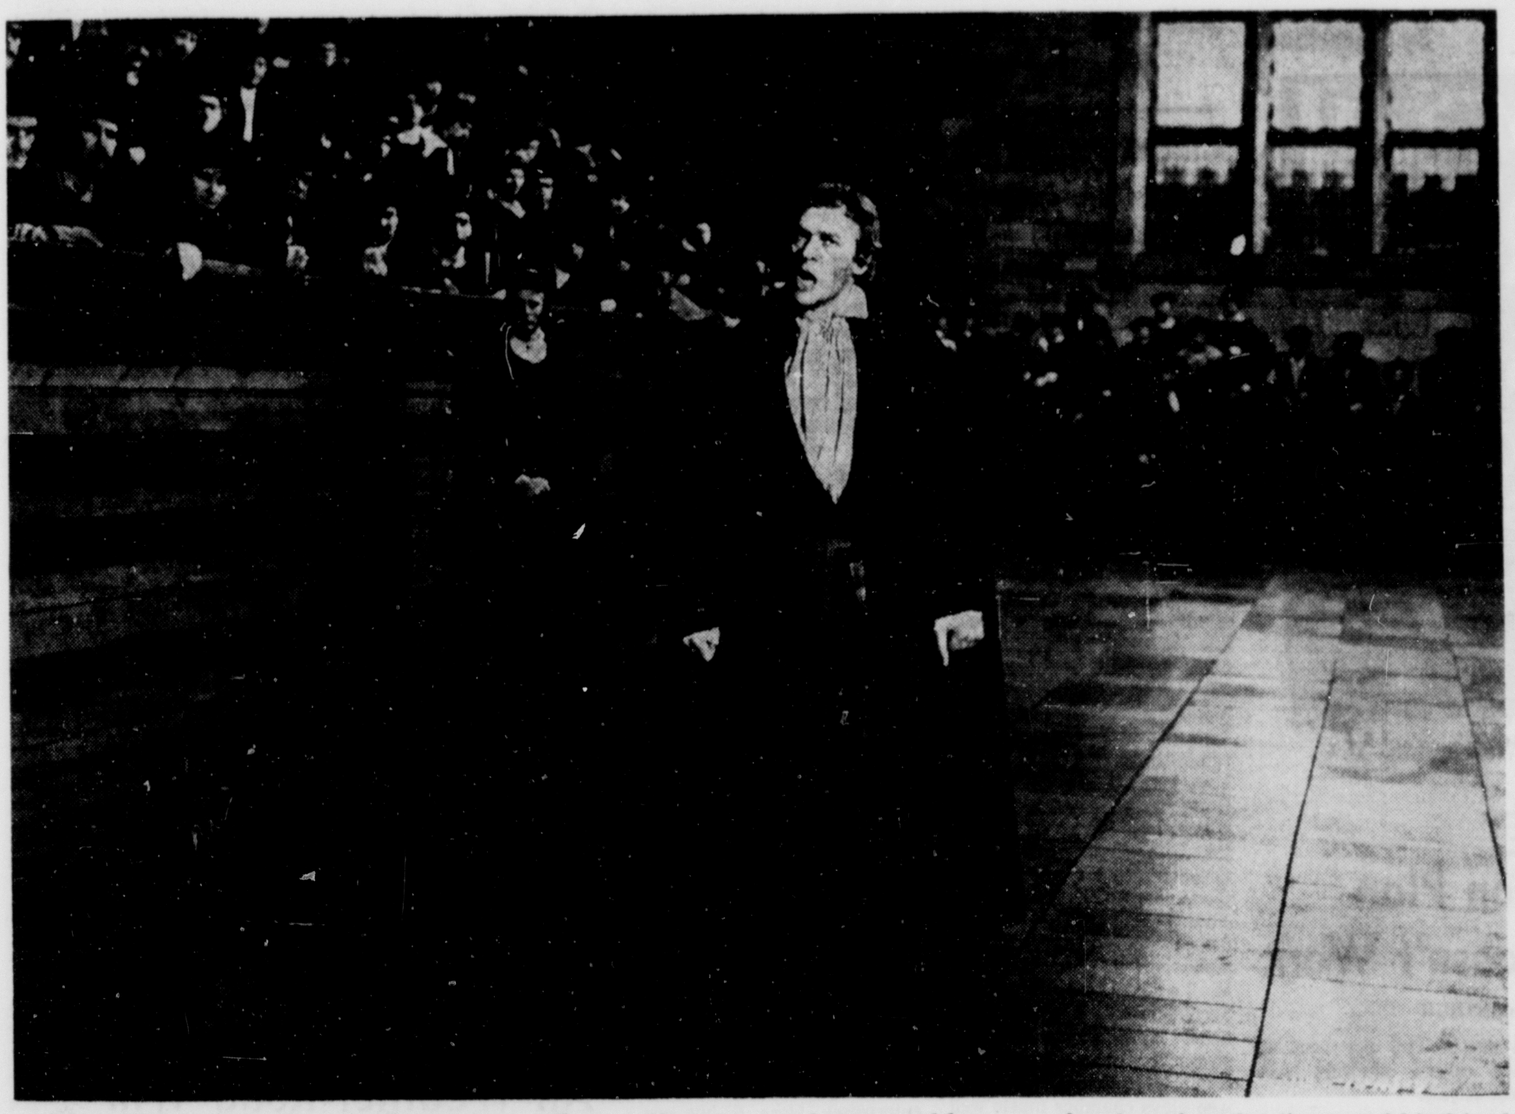
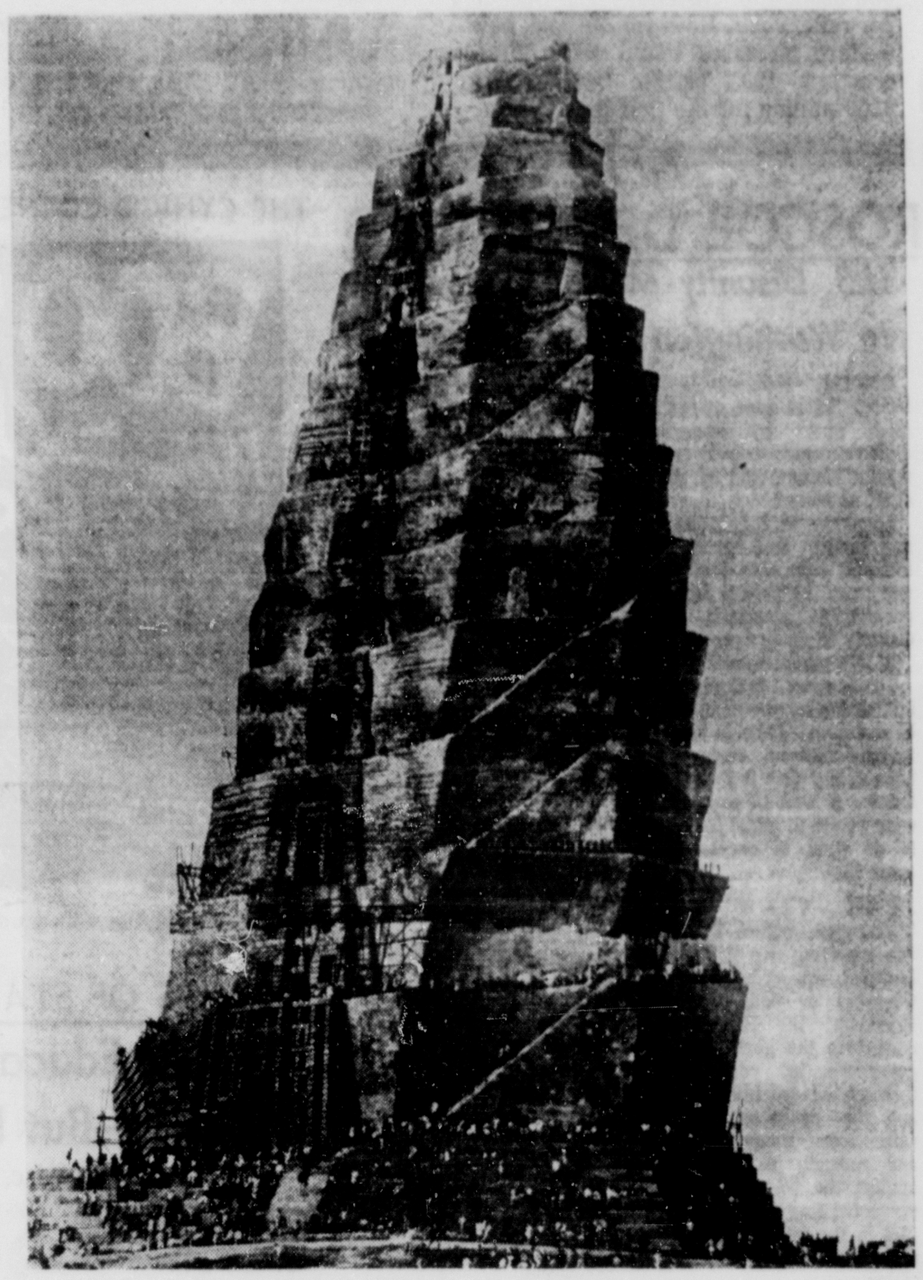
SOON AT LARK—Facing his students is Sidney Poitier, star of "To Sir, With Love," coming soon to the Lark. Also featured in James Clavell's production from the novel by E. R. Braithwaite are Judy Geeson, Christian Roberts and Suzy Kendall.

YOUNG AMERICA — In a satirical takeoff of rock and roll groups are Rod Alemania, Rich Ciulei, Ernie Rettino and Royce Gibson in a scene from "The Young Americans," coming to the Rafael. The picture was recently previewed for the Marin Motion Picture Council and students and teachers of the drama sections of the public schools.

What's In Store At The Movies



'A MAN FOR ALL' — Paul Scofield portrays Thomas More in "A Man For All Seasons," opening Thursday at the Northgate Theater. More, a distinguished philosopher, statesman, writer, educator and lawyer, refused to obey the dictates of his friend Henry VIII, King of England, providing dramatic conflict in the Columbia Pictures release in Technicolor.



THE FIRST SKYSCRAPER — Dramatically pictured in "The Bible," coming to the Fairfax is the Tower of Babel, built by the defiant King Nimrod "to soar like his pride and reach into heaven. The 20th Century-Fox production will be shown early in December.

PRIVATE EYE—In "Tony Rome," Frank Sinatra aboard the small cabin cruiser which serves as his home, plays a new role as a private-eye in a murder mystery and jewel theft. The 20th Century-Fox picture is Panavision and color by De Luxe will be shown at the Rafael Theater.

Westchester Provides Welfare Warning

It is populated largely by executive class commuters, living in single-family homes. Its per capita taxable income is reported at $13,700, compared to $12,274 in Marin. Even the geography is similar.

Welfare problems are similar too; but they are more acute in Westchester.

THAT COUNTY, with the highest per capita income in the United States, faces a financial crisis because of skyrocketing welfare costs.

A recent report in the New York Times said budgeted funds would be exhausted by today, and $7,815,000 would be needed to meet Westchester's welfare bills for November and December.

Public Welfare Commissioner Louis P. Kurtis was reported as saying New York's Medicaid program, a diminishing supply of moderate-cost housing for the poor, and broadening of eligibility rolls for the public support of children were largely responsible.

He noted that federal and state reimbursements would eventually restore all but $1,008,200 of the $7,815,000 needed for November and December relief costs. However, he said, new welfare increases would carry Westchester's 1968 budget "well above $100 million for the first time."

THAT IS MORE than double Marin County's 1968 budget of $49,089,955. However, Westchester County's population is more than four times that of Marin County — 853,198 on a special 1965 census compared to about 200,000 as the latest Marin estimate.

Running short of money for welfare payments also has a familiar sound here. Last May 25, the board of supervisors dipped into the Veterans Memorial Building fund for $318,315 to pay June welfare checks. (Incidentally, that source cannot be tapped much longer; the fund will vanish as the memorial auditorium is built.)

THAT THESE TWO counties — the richest per capita in the United States and the richest per capita in California — should be similarly in the soup because of rising welfare costs shows to what lengths the public underwriting of the needy or indolent has gone in the last three decades.

Prior to 1933, public welfare consisted largely of "over the hill to the poor house."

In that year, the New Deal set up the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to meet the desperate needs of millions brought on by business depression. It spent a billion dollars in the first year.

In 1935, the federal government switched to financing work relief programs (WPA, CCC, etc.) and turned direct relief back to the states. In 1939, federal, state and local relief costs were estimated to total $3.5 billion.

YET THIS YEAR, federal-state welfare costs have mounted to $7 billion. And this does not include local costs in counties and cities.

In Marin County alone, more than $7 million of the county budget is for welfare.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has urged that welfare officials concentrate on getting clients back on the wage-earning rolls. Betty Presley, Marin County welfare director, has often cited this as the program's intention.

Gain Or Loss?

Americans are by and large a rootless people compared with the other peoples of the world. And Californians seem to be particularly prone to the moving itch.

One advantage of frequent moves is that one gets rid of lots of excess ballast. The amount which one can accumulate in one year is equalled only by our reluctance to part with it.

Yet, most of it is so useless that we will scarcely think of it again. Junk is junk. Back to the bare necessities.

U.S. Disunity More Frightening In Washington Than Midwest

OMAHA, Neb. — Is the United States near to tearing itself apart by deepening, divisive controversy over the war in Vietnam and the racial strife at home?

Some say yes to this question and suggest that not far into the 1968 campaign the nation will be in the grip of the most paralyzing bickering and disunity we have ever seen.

Is that our prospect?

The answer, I believe, has to be that the worst cannot lightly be dismissed. It could happen. It may happen. Perhaps we have to say that it is likely to happen if we fail to see how near we are to social peril, and to do what is necessary to avert it.

THE VIEW from Washington, before I left on this reporting trip through the Midwest, was pretty ominous: Congress at odds with the President; the President at odds with the governors; the governors at odds with themselves; $30 billion deficit and the congress afraid to raise taxes; mounting venom and violence in the protests against the war in Vietnam; pervasive fear that racial conflict in the cities will become more widespread and more violent.

The view was uneasy and the questions deeply disturbing. Were these not the signs of a sick society? Won't the oncoming presidential campaign serve to spread the disease, not relieve it? Is our very capacity to govern ourselves in reasonable domestic peace in doubt? Where are we headed?

THESE ARE NOT exaggerated questions of the hysterical. These are questions of calm, balanced, concerned people who are worried.

BUT THE VIEW from the country where I have been traveling and interviewing, from Nebraska to Texas, is not so stark and despairing as the view from Washington. Troubled, yes. Frustrated, yes. But in the numerous audiences I have addressed and in the free give-and-take of questioning, I have not found a mood of hopelessness, certainly no pervasive sense that everything is going wrong and nothing right.

In this central part of the nation it seems to me that the broad political center remains strong. It is an anxious and, at points, an uncertain mood, but I find relatively few who want to withdraw from Vietnam, relatively few who do not want to do what is necessary to end racial injustice and reduce poverty in the midst of so much and such obvious affluence.

My observation is that there is less hopelessness in this part of the country than is visible from Washington, and that the political center is almost yearning for a more candid, more forthright, more let's-do-what's-right political leadership.

A sense of hopelessness, which may be nearer the surface than we realize, could produce the worst — a tearing apart of our willingness to be governed in peace by majority consent. But there is still a large reservoir of good sense and goodwill to call upon if the politicans don't friter it away.

Thy friend has a friend, and thy friends' friend has a friend, so be discreet. — Talmud

Higher Education Plan Lauded—But Doesn't Work

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, has cast some serious doubts on whether California's much-heralded master plan for higher education really is working.

"Why is California's 'free' system of higher education less successful than other states in attracting students from low income families?" Monagan asked. "Why, in fact, is the California master plan for higher education widely lauded and never copied?"

Monagan noted that the master plan, adopted in 1960, assigns about 63 per cent of the state's freshman enrollment to junior college. Admission standards at the junior colleges are almost non-existent, a fact recently pointed out by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"TO A LARGE DEGREE," Monagan said, "the emphasis on the two-year college accounts for the fact that California ranks first in the percentage of high school graduates entering college and last in the percentage of college freshmen who eventually earn baccalaureate degrees.

Monagan quoted also from a recent study prepared for the state Scholarship Commission showing the University of California and the state college system are not attracting the students they should from the lower income groups. The study showed that the median income of parents of 86.3 per cent of the university students was $12,000 a year, while the median family income for parents of 71.5 per cent of state college students was about $10,000.

"Although the number of underprivileged students attending junior colleges is significantly greater than at the four-year college level, it is still fair to say higher education in California serves the white middle and upper classes almost exclusively," said Monagan.

OF GOVERNOR REAGAN'S "equal education plan," Monagan wrote:

"The governor reasoned that, since about 75 per cent of the University of California's students come from families earning more than $8,000, it would be beneficial to institute a modest tuition charge and use the additional revenue to finance a scholarship-loan program. The present state scholarship program is one of the most underdeveloped in the nation."

Monagan said about two-thirds of present scholarship funds go to independent colleges and only a small percentage reaches low income groups. The Reagan plan would expand the scholarships and make an initial step toward balancing the student population.

ONE OF THE PAT arguments against tuition is that it would "close the doors of higher education to low income students." The study cited by Monagan would seem to show that the doors presently are only slightly ajar for students from low-income groups.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Kolitsch Again Raps Music Review

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have read in today's (Oct. 24) I-J with considerable amusement a "concert review" by your Mill Valley office representative and "music critic," Maybelle Speckman. It appeared under the heading "Rejto, Baller Near Perfect in Recital."

"Perfect is a strong word, but no other word will do" is the way she starts the description of the recital. She then proceeds by using such words as "flawless," "superlative quality," "fascinating" etc. She even describes Rejto's Cello as being a Montagana 1721 (The correct name is Montagnana), claiming that "the marvelous cantabile" was reminiscent of Casals at his best. I heard both Casals and Rejto and let me state that the comparison ends by saying that both played cello. Casals accompanied me once on the piano at a private musicale in New York and held the audience spellbound with his piano part of the "Serenade Melancolique" by Tschaikowsky, a supreme artist no matter which instrument he uses. Mr. Rejto no doubt is a competent cellist, who plays chamber music well as one could expect it, but he certainly is no Casals, nor anything like Casals. . .

Planning Needs Most Able Citizens

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to commend the Independent-Journal for calling the attention of Marin County people to Mr. (Ernest N.) Kettenhofen's attitude toward the planning commission in your editorial in Tuesday, Oct. 24, edition.

This type of action presents a real threat to the planning process in Marin County. The county should have its most able citizens on the commission and their opinions should be respected.

There is also the possibility that this type of directed verdict may discourage good professional planners from wanting to serve Marin County.

Another point I would like to make very clear is that two of our supervisors, Mr. (Thomas T.) Storer and Mrs. (Peter H.) Behr, did not support Mr. Kettenhofen. The county is in for a sad future in planning if this situation continues.

GRACE WELLMAN
Kentfield

(Editor's note: The board of supervisors voted unanimously Oct. 24 for an interim ordinance embodying the 1.15 units per acre overall West Marin density in which Kettenhofen insisted the planning commission must concur.)

Exemptions Add To Heavy Taxes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is generally acknowledged that the growing burden of higher taxes helped kill recent school bond issues in Marin.

One reason for these higher taxes is the tax-exempt status granted religious institutions, despite their enormous wealth and expanding commercial enterprises. Here is but one example showing how this money is being accumulated.

In 1947, the Archdiocese of Hartford, Conn. purchased 121.5 acres of land at $23,500 for a cemetery. The church officials put one body in the wooded area to keep the cemetery franchise. Then, after 19 years, they took up the body and sold the site for real estate development for $607,500. This earned a tidy profit of $584,000, all tax exempt.

These tax-exempt religious institutions now have their hands in the public till by securing federal aid to their parochial school which compete with the public schools. Every tax dollar appropriated to parochial schools represents a diversion from the public school program.

The community is now being taxed doubly, because the religious institutions enjoy a free tax ride on one hand, and then secure a part of this tax money for their own schools, on the other.

It was Pres. James Garfield who once noted that "if you exempt the property of any church organization, to that extent you impose a tax upon the whole community."

Think this over when you get your next tax bill. Think this over when you vote to restrict essential public services because of high taxes.

EXERCISE AUTHORITY GENTLY BUT FIRMLY

Young people need parental firmness if they are to become assets instead of liabilities in today's world. They inwardly yearn for it, even in their most rebellious moments.

Then he added "'He wants to struggle against you, but he does so with the secret prayer that you will not yield.

"He is not rejecting your values, he is testing them."

The "testing" may be severe at times. Still, you can be sure that your perseverance will be worth the effort.

Young people will be the better for it, and so will the many persons they influence.

(Sirach 17:3)

Let me see and use authority in terms of love, O Lord, and love in terms of service.

All-Weather Road Will Run 2,600 Miles In Africa

By PAUL SCOTT

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa — Within three years motorists will be able to drive on good all-weather roads from the southernmost tip of Africa to the Equator.

The long-awaited road —approaching half the length of Africa — will go from Cape Town, South Africa, to Noqui, 2,600 miles away on the Congo River in Angola.

Known as the "Great North Road," it will have tremendous trade, military and tourist significanse. In making the trip, one will be able to see almost every animal in Africa from the roadside or in nearby national game reserves.

Windhoek, the "administrative" capital of south-West Africa, will be the halfway point where travelers will be able to rest in the most modern accommodations, ranging from luxury hotels to small motels.

Today the journey is a challenge to the hardest motorist. Tomorrow the wonderful attractions, including rock paintings as old as man, along the route will be accessible to the average family in a small car in search of both the old and the new.

Work on bringing the full length of the "black top" and gravel roads up to usable condition is now making good progress in both South-West Africa and Angola.

The recent discovery of oil off the coast of Portuguese Angola near Luanda is expceted to speed the development of the "Great North Road." South Africa, which imports all of its oil, plans to use the road to truck oil into South-West Africa and western parts of South Africa.

Completion of the road also will spur South Africa to seek closer political and military ties with Portuguese-controlled Angola for its own defense, according to officials here.

Westchester Provides Welfare Warning

It is populated largely by executive class commuters, living in single-family homes. Its per capita taxable income is reported at $13,700, compared to $12,274 in Marin. Even the geography is similar.

Welfare problems are similar too; but they are more acute in Westchester.

THAT COUNTY, with the highest per capita income in the United States, faces a financial crisis because of skyrocketing welfare costs.

A recent report in the New York Times said budgeted funds would be exhausted by today, and $7,815,000 would be needed to meet Westchester's welfare bills for November and December.

Public Welfare Commissioner Louis P. Kurtis was reported as saying New York's Medicaid program, a diminishing supply of moderate-cost housing for the poor, and broadening of eligibility rolls for the public support of children were largely responsible.

He noted that federal and state reimbursements would eventually restore all but $1,008,200 of the $7,815,000 needed for November and December relief costs. However, he said, new welfare increases would carry Westchester's 1968 budget "well above $100 million for the first time."

THAT IS MORE than double Marin County's 1968 budget of $49,089,955. However, Westchester County's population is more than four times that of Marin County — 853,198 on a special 1965 census compared to about 200,000 as the latest Marin estimate.

Running short of money for welfare payments also has a familiar sound here. Last May 25, the board of supervisors dipped into the Veterans Memorial Building fund for $318,315 to pay June welfare checks. (Incidentally, that source cannot be tapped much longer; the fund will vanish as the memorial auditorium is built.)

THAT THESE TWO counties — the richest per capita in the United States and the richest per capita in California — should be similarly in the soup because of rising welfare costs shows to what lengths the public underwriting of the needy or indolent has gone in the last three decades.

Prior to 1933, public welfare consisted largely of "over the hill to the poor house."

In that year, the New Deal set up the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to meet the desperate needs of millions brought on by business depression. It spent a billion dollars in the first year.

In 1935, the federal government switched to financing work relief programs (WPA, CCC, etc.) and turned direct relief back to the states. In 1939, federal, state and local relief costs were estimated to total $3.5 billion.

The "full employment" of World War II was hopefully regarded as virtually ending such costs.

YET THIS YEAR, federal-state welfare costs have mounted to $7 billion. And this does not include local costs in counties and cities.

In Marin County alone, more than $7 million of the county budget is for welfare.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has urged that welfare officials concentrate on getting clients back on the wage-earning rolls. Betty Presley, Marin County welfare director, has often cited this as the program's intention.

Gain Or Loss?

Americans are by and large a rootless people compared with the other peoples of the world. And Californians seem to be particularly prone to the moving itch.

One advantage of frequent moves is that one gets rid of lots of excess ballast. The amount which one can accumulate in one year is equalled only by our reluctance to part with it.

Yet, most of it is so useless that we will scarcely think of it again. Junk is junk. Back to the bare necessities.

U.S. Disunity More Frightening In Washington Than Midwest

OMAHA, Neb. — Is the United States near to tearing itself apart by deepening, divisive controversy over the war in Vietnam and the racial strife at home?

Some say yes to this question and suggest that not far into the 1968 campaign the nation will be in the grip of the most paralyzing bickering and disunity we have ever seen.

Is that our prospect?

The answer, I believe, has to be that the worst cannot lightly be dismissed. It could happen. It may happen. Perhaps we have to say that it is likely to happen if we fail to see how near we are to social peril, and to do what is necessary to avert it.

THE VIEW from Washington, before I left on this reporting trip through the Midwest, was pretty ominous: Congress at odds with the President; the President at odds with the governors; the governors at odds with themselves; $30 billion deficit and the congress afraid to raise taxes; mounting venom and violence in the protests against the war in Vietnam; pervasive fear that racial conflict in the cities will become more widespread and more violent.

The view was uneasy and the questions deeply disturbing. Were these not the signs of a sick society? Won't the oncoming presidential campaign serve to spread the disease, not relieve it? Is our very capacity to govern ourselves in reasonable domestic peace in doubt? Where are we headed?

THESE ARE NOT exaggerated questions of the hysterical. These are questions of calm, balanced, concerned people who are worried.

BUT THE VIEW from the country where I have been traveling and interviewing, from Nebraska to Texas, is not so stark and despairing as the view from Washington. Troubled, yes. Frustrated, yes. But in the numerous audiences I have addressed and in the free give-and-take of questioning, I have not found a mood of hopelessness, certainly no pervasive sense that everything is going wrong and nothing right.

In this central part of the nation it seems to me that the broad political center remains strong. It is an anxious and, at points, an uncertain mood, but I find relatively few who want to withdraw from Vietnam, relatively few who do not want to do what is necessary to end racial injustice and reduce poverty in the midst of so much and such obvious affluence.

My observation is that there is less hopelessness in this part of the country than is visible from Washington, and that the political center is almost yearning for a more candid, more forthright, more let's-do-what's-right political leadership.

A sense of hopelessness, which may be nearer the surface than we realize, could produce the worst — a tearing apart of our willingness to be governed in peace by majority consent. But there is still a large reservoir of good sense and goodwill to call upon if the politicans don't friter it away.

Thy friend has a friend, and thy friends' friend has a friend, so be discreet. — Talmud

Higher Education Plan Lauded—But Doesn't Work

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, has cast some serious doubts on whether California's much-heralded master plan for higher education really is working.

"Why is California's 'free' system of higher education less successful than other states in attracting students from low income families?" Monagan asked. "Why, in fact, is the California master plan for higher education widely lauded and never copied?"

Monagan noted that the master plan, adopted in 1960, assigns about 63 per cent of the state's freshman enrollment to junior college. Admission standards at the junior colleges are almost non-existent, a fact recently pointed out by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"TO A LARGE DEGREE," Monagan said, "the emphasis on the two-year college accounts for the fact that California ranks first in the percentage of high school graduates entering college and last in the percentage of college freshmen who eventually earn baccalaureate degrees.

"Mass enrollment is a worthy accomplishment only if it is accompanied by mass achievement."

Monagan quoted also from a recent study prepared for the state Scholarship Commission showing the University of California and the state college system are not attracting the students they should from the lower income groups. The study showed that the median income of parents of 86.3 per cent of the university students was $12,000 a year, while the median family income for parents of 71.5 per cent of state college students was about $10,000.

"Although the number of underprivileged students attending junior colleges is significantly greater than at the four-year college level, it is still fair to say higher education in California serves the white middle and upper classes almost exclusively," said Monagan.

OF GOVERNOR REAGAN'S "equal education plan," Monagan wrote:

"The governor reasoned that, since about 75 per cent of the University of California's students come from families earning more than $8,000, it would be beneficial to institute a modest tuition charge and use the additional revenue to finance a scholarship-loan program. The present state scholarship program is one of the most underdeveloped in the nation."

Monagan said about two-thirds of present scholarship funds go to independent colleges and only a small percentage reaches low income groups. The Reagan plan would expand the scholarships and make an initial step toward balancing the student population.

ONE OF THE PAT arguments against tuition is that it would "close the doors of higher education to low income students." The study cited by Monagan would seem to show that the doors presently are only slightly ajar for students from low-income groups.

Kolitsch Again Raps Music Review

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have read in today's (Oct. 24) I-J with considerable amusement a "concert review" by your Mill Valley office representative and "music critic," Maybelle Speckman. It appeared under the heading "Rejto, Baller Near Perfect in Recital."

"Perfect is a strong word, but no other word will do" is the way she starts the description of the recital. She then proceeds by using such words as "flawless," "superlative quality," "fascinating" etc. She even describes Rejto's Cello as being a Montagana 1721 (The correct name is Montagnana), claiming that "the marvelous cantabile" was reminiscent of Casals at his best. I heard both Casals and Rejto and let me state that the comparison ends by saying that both played cello. Casals accompanied me once on the piano at a private musicale in New York and held the audience spellbound with his piano part of the "Serenade Melancolique" by Tschaikowsky, a supreme artist no matter which instrument he uses. Mr. Rejto no doubt is a competent cellist, who plays chamber music well as one could expect it, but he certainly is no Casals, nor anything like Casals. . .

Planning Needs Most Able Citizens

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to commend the Independent-Journal for calling the attention of Marin County people to Mr. (Ernest N.) Kettenhofen's attitude toward the planning commission in your editorial in Tuesday, Oct. 24, edition.

This type of action presents a real threat to the planning process in Marin County. The county should have its most able citizens on the commission and their opinions should be respected.

There is also the possibility that this type of directed verdict may discourage good professional planners from wanting to serve Marin County.

Another point I would like to make very clear is that two of our supervisors, Mr. (Thomas T.) Storer and Mrs. (Peter H.) Behr, did not support Mr. Kettenhofen. The county is in for a sad future in planning if this situation continues.

GRACE WELLMAN

(Editor's note: The board of supervisors voted unanimousiy Oct. 24 for an interim ordinance embodying the 1.15 units per acre overall West Marin density in which Kettenhofen insisted the planning commission must concur.)

Exemptions Add To Heavy Taxes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is generally acknowledged that the growing burden of higher taxes helped kill recent school bond issues in Marin.

One reason for these higher taxes is the tax-exempt status granted religious institutions, despite their enormous wealth and expanding commercial enterprises. Here is but one example showing how this money is being accumulated.

In 1947, the Archdiocese of Hartford, Conn. purchased 121.5 acres of land at $23,500 for a cemetery. The church officials put one body in the wooded area to keep the cemetery franchise. Then, after 19 years, they took up the body and sold the site for real estate development for $607,500. This earned a tidy profit of $584,000, all tax exempt.

These tax-exempt religious institutions now have their hands in the public till by securing federal aid to their parochial school which compete with the public schools. Every tax dollar appropriated to parochial schools represents a diversion from the public school program.

The community is now being taxed doubly, because the religious institutions enjoy a free tax ride on one hand, and then secure a part of this tax money for their own schools, on the other.

It was Pres. James Garfield who once noted that "if you exempt the property of any church organization, to that extent you impose a tax upon the whole community."

Think this over when you get your next tax bill. Think this over when you vote to restrict essential public services because of high taxes.

EXERCISE AUTHORITY GENTLY BUT FIRMLY

Young people need parental firmness if they are to become assets instead of liabilities in today's world. They inwardly yearn for it, even in their most rebellious moments.

Then he added "He wants to struggle against you, but he does so with the secret prayer that you will not yield.

"He is not rejecting your values, he is testing them."

The "testing" may be severe at times. Still, you can be sure that your perseverance will be worth the effort.

The more that parents see God's holy image in their children, the more likely will they exercise authority with love.

Young people will be the better for it, and so will the many persons they influence.

(Sirach 17:3)

Let me see and use authority in terms of love, O Lord, and love in terms of service.

All-Weather Road Will Run 2,600 Miles In Africa

By PAUL SCOTT

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa — Within three years motorists will be able to drive on good all-weather roads from the southernmost tip of Africa to the Equator.

The long-awaited road —approaching half the length of Africa — will go from Cape Town, South Africa, to Noqui, 2,600 miles away on the Congo River in Angola.

Known as the "Great North Road," it will have tremendous trade, military and tourist significanse. In making the trip, one will be able to see almost every animal in Africa from the roadside or in nearby national game reserves.

Halloween Destruction Declines —But Look At Rest Of Year!

Tonight is Halloween and the neighborhoods will be filled with ghosts and goblins of all ages and sizes who will scour the area for treats with the threat of a trick.

Police all over the county will be out in force to prevent serious damage from the older trickers whose mental size has not reached their physical size.

Generally it will be a quiet night. That is, quiet compared to what it was when I was a boy.

Trick or treat had not hit the small Kansas town where I grew up. Either the twon was too remote, or trick or treating had not yet been invented. Our idea of Halloween was to see who could pull the best pranks.

THE HIGH SCHOOL was at the edge of the town. It was a two and one-half story brick building with a pitched tile roof. Adjacent to the high school grounds was a dairy.

Came the morning after Halloween and a wagon, hay rake and mower were on top of the steep tile roof.

It took the city volunteer firemen three weeks to get them off the roof. It was done by dismantling them and lowering the implements piece by piece to the ground some 40 to 50 feet below.

Yet the high school students had put them up there in one night.

After that somewhat costly episode, such pranks were definitely frowned down by the older population.

Today soaping windows and throwing eggs are about as far as the boisterous pranksters go. Even at that there is too much vandalism on Halloween.

Modern American youth is not so destructive as it used to be on Halloween. But oh boy! Look out the rest of the year! Look at the damage done during the demonstrations that now are going on all over the nation!

RECALLING THE WORK of the volunteer firemen in getting the farm equipment off the high school roof, reminds me that firemen do many things for which they are not given credit.

When I first came to Novato, I was surprised to see Novato firemen out helping clean ditches during heavy rains so the water would not flood houses.

I have seen them put up sheet plastic when storms damaged roofs of houses. These are jobs which are above and beyond the normal call of duty for the firemen. They are to be commended for them.

Without water, these trees would die during the long summer months of drouth. Each week the Novato Fire Department sends out a tank truck and waters the trees. This job of the firemen outside of their regular duty will be a living memorial to them someday when the trees are large enough to go without their care.

A WEEK FROM TODAY there will be elections in Novato fire district, and the North Marin County Water District. There are many candidates running for these two boards.

There is also one proposition on the ballot for the fire district, whether to increase the fire board from three to five members.

The question is, does the district now require the combined skills of five directors to make the decisions which have been made by three men heretofore?

It will be interesting to see how the voters react to this proposal.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Never Mind The Candidates; Will The Republic Survive?

The papers teem with the doings of the potential candidates in the next presidential election, and normally I would be interested. At the moment, however, I am far more concerned about whether the Republic will survive until November, 1968. First things first.

For there have been other republics, nobly conceived, which fell when the law broke down and the mob took over. Toynbee, I recall, gave their average life-span as about 200 years, and we are almost there now.

True, we are comparatively young as a nation, but ours is the oldest federal constitution in existence. And we begin to show the stigmata of the same ills that toppled our predecessors. First came bread and circuses as a palliative to disguise the internal weakness; then came mob rule; and then —oblivion.

OUR OWN Ship of State has been following this perilous lane of recent years. We have discarded the prudent course charted by the Founding Fathers, which saw us safely through treacherous seas and made us the envy of the world. Instead, we have listened to a siren song that promised an eternal Cornucopia of rights without responsibility; and now we founder — divided among ourselves as never before — and, seeking to avoid Charybdis, head for Scylla's equally dangerous reefs.

And meanwhile our captain, though he has palpably lost command, keeps his cool and assures us of even more lavish bounty. Unfortunately, he doesn't seem to realize the acute difference between dissent and mutiny.

For four or five years of rampant permissiveness, the law has been dismissed as archaic and we have stomached outlawry in dissents that included killing and arson. And now — inevitably — the albatross we hung so blithely around our necks claims squatter's right and won't go away. And, only a few days ago, the bird of ill-omen descended on our national capital, our showcase for the world, in all his ugly plumage.

THAT IS THE VIEW of many of us, though Pollyanna, that incurable optimist, sees it somewhat differently. If "Stop the Draft Week" that climaxed with the Washington March of Oct. 21 saddened most Americans, it made many more millions abroad happy. And surely you believe in the greatest good for the greatest number?

At any rate, there was heartfelt rejoicing in the peace-loving Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the People's Republic of China and, above all, in the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. And if you doubt those are bona fide republics, look at the labels and see for yourself. The next thing, I suppose, will be that you deny the marchers were non-violent.

Ho, in particular, was so elated with the news that he promptly let it be known he would not go to the conference table with us even if we stopped bombing the defenseless Vietcong, armed only with the latest Soviet hardware. A peace-loving ruler must be careful to avoid being seen in bad company.

Nevertheless, it was a great moral victory for our side, too. Our own Justice Department cooperated with the marchers to see that the streets were safe for them — far safer than for our men in Vietnam — and even laid out mutually acceptable ground rules. It may be unlawful to yell "Fire!" in a crowded theater, but it is only noblesse oblige to escort a potential arsonist to a good seat.

Sgt. Robert Coppock of the Belvedere police department is resigning after four years to return to his native Florida. He will be honored by the Belvedere Firemen's Association at a dinner Friday night at the Belvedere fire house.

Courthouse Property Seen As Once-In-Lifetime Deal

There should be no haste in disposing of the courthouse square in downtown San Rafael because the property may provide "a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for San Rafael," says Marin County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

Zucker told a luncheon meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday that the courthouse square could be a factor "in major revitalization and re-activation of downtown San Rafael." He said the downtown are represents "an outdated commercial pattern."

HIGHWAYS — A high level highway 17 route could be "destructive" to the south end of San Rafael with proper planning, the highway can be inserted into a downtown redevelopment project. There should also be planning for highway frontage along widened U.S. 101, he said.

WATERFRONT — Nowhere in Marin County, with the possible exception of Sausalito and Tiburon-Belvedere, said Zucker, have communities taken full advantage of their waterfront. "It is possible to live in San Rafael and not realize you are in a Bay City."

REGIONAL PARK — A ridge top park should "extend as far into San Rafael as is humanly possible" and extend into West Marin.

Vietnam Peace Issue On Agenda

The effects of legislation on capital punishment and Medi-Cal and the possibility of peace in Vietnam through legislation will be discussed by Michael Ingerman, executive secretary of the Friends Committee on Legislation of Northern California during two public talks in Marin.

Ingerman will speak of the organization's work in both state and national legislation at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex W. Allen, 750 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, and at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Gutstadt, 9 Ames Avenue, Ross.

Courthouse Property Seen As Once-In-Lifetime Deal

There should be no haste in disposing of the courthouse square in downtown San Rafael because the property may provide "a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for San Rafael," says Marin County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

Zucker told a luncheon meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday that the courthouse square could be a factor "in major revitalization and re-activation of downtown San Rafael." He said the downtown are represents "an outdated commercial pattern."

Zucker touched on a number of planning items affecting San Rafael:

HIGHWAYS — A high level highway 17 route could be "destructive" to the south end of San Rafael with proper planning, the highway can be inserted into a downtown redevelopment project. There should also be planning for highway frontage along widened U.S. 101, he said.

WATERFRONT — Nowhere in Marin County, with the possible exception of Sausalito and Tiburon-Belvedere, said Zucker, have communities taken full advantage of their waterfront. "It is possible to live in San Rafael and not realize you are in a Bay City."

REGIONAL PARK — A ridge top park should "extend as far into San Rafael as is humanly possible" and extend into West Marin.

Vietnam Peace Issue On Agenda

The effects of legislation on capital punishment and Medi-Cal and the possibility of peace in Vietnam through legislation will be discussed by Michael Ingerman, executive secretary of the Friends Committee on Legislation of Northern California during two public talks in Marin.

Ingerman will speak of the organization's work in both state and national legislation at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex W. Allen, 750 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, and at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Gutstadt, 9 Ames Avenue, Ross.

Never Mind The Candidates; Will The Republic Survive?

The papers teem with the doings of the potential candidates in the next presidential election, and normally I would be interested. At the moment, however, I am far more concerned about whether the Republic will survive until November, 1968. First things first.

For there have been other republics, nobly conceived, which fell when the law broke down and the mob took over. Toynbee, I recall, gave their average life-span as about 200 years, and we are almost there now.

True, we are comparatively young as a nation, but ours is the oldest federal constitution in existence. And we begin to show the stigmata of the same ills that toppled our predecessors. First came bread and circuses as a palliative to disguise the internal weakness; then came mob rule; and then —oblivion.

OUR OWN Ship of State has been following this perilous lane of recent years. We have discarded the prudent course charted by the Founding Fathers, which saw us safely through treacherous seas and made us the envy of the world. Instead, we have listened to a siren song that promised an eternal Cornucopia of rights without responsibility; and now we founder — divided among ourselves as never before — and, seeking to avoid Charybdis, head for Scylla's equally dangerous reefs.

And meanwhile our captain, though he has palpably lost command, keeps his cool and assures us of even more lavish bounty. Unfortunately, he doesn't seem to realize the acute difference between dissent and mutiny.

For four or five years of rampant permissiveness, the law has been dismissed as archaic and we have stomached outlawry in dissents that included killing and arson. And now — inevitably — the albatross we hung so blithely around our necks claims squatter's right and won't go away. And, only a few days ago, the bird of ill-omen descended on our national capital, our showcase for the world, in all his ugly plumage.

THAT IS THE VIEW of many of us, though Pollyanna, that incurable optimist, sees it somewhat differently. If "Stop the Draft Week" that climaxed with the Washington March of Oct. 21 saddened most Americans, it made many more millions abroad happy. And surely you believe in the greatest good for the greatest number?

At any rate, there was heartfelt rejoicing in the peace-loving Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the People's Republic of China and, above all, in the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. And if you doubt those are bona fide republics, look at the labels and see for yourself. The next thing, I suppose, will be that you deny the marchers were non-violent.

Ho, in particular, was so elated with the news that he promptly let it be known he would not go to the conference table with us even if we stopped bombing the defenseless Vietcong, armed only with the latest Soviet hardware. A peace-loving ruler must be careful to avoid being seen in bad company.

Nevertheless, it was a great moral victory for our side, too. Our own Justice Department cooperated with the marchers to see that the streets were safe for them — far safer than for our men in Vietnam — and even laid out mutually acceptable ground rules. It may be unlawful to yell "Fire!" in a crowded theater, but it is only noblesse oblige to escort a potential arsonist to a good seat.

Officer Resigns

Sgt. Robert Coppock of the Belvedere police department is resigning after four years to return to his native Florida. He will be honored by the Belvedere Firemen's Association at a dinner Friday night at the Belvedere fire house.
